'Fix Up' Winners Named

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Haugh of Wellsville have been named winners of the first annual "Clean Up, Fix Up, Paint Up" contest sponsored by the East Liverpool Board of Realtors.

Mr. and Mrs. Haugh have been presented a $100 government savings bond for the improvement of their home at 527 Commerce St.

SECOND PRIZE of a $50 bond has been presented to Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Jones of 908 Avondale St., George Bright, president of the realtors, and Ed Seiferth, contest chairman, announced.

Third-prize winner was Mrs. June Burchett of Maine Blvd. who received a $25 bond.

Honorable mention was accorded John W. Barrett of 925 Ohio Ave.; Norman Fitch of John St., A. J. Lynn of 534 Broadway, Wellsville; Lois E. Means of 310 College St.; Robert A. Stollenwerk of Anderson Blvd., Clinton Wolfe of Ada St. and Mary Wright of 733 Main St., Wellsville.

Seiferth and Bright said the realtors plan to make the contest an annual event.

They explained the main purpose of the contest "is to stimulate improvement of homes and neighborhoods without any great expense by the property owners."

HAUGH, 24, employed at the Culp Pharmacy, and his wife painted their home green and installed black shutters, a new Colonial door, colonial eagle and made other improvements.

Mrs. Haugh said they have lived in the home for three years and carried out the improvement since June by themselves.

The Haughs, who have a son, 2, said they "enjoyed doing the work."

3 More Spots On 'Strip' Raided By State Police

4 Are Fined As Result Of Latest Blow

Cactus Bar, Jade And Hilltop Inn Targets Of Raiders

Three more spots on the "Strip" in Hancock County were hit Wednesday by West Virginia state police in the second night of raids for liquor and gambling violations.

Detachments from the Weirton, Moundsville and Triadelphia barracks struck at the Cactus Bar, Jade Lounge and Hilltop Inn, all on Route 30, at 10:20.

Four persons were arrested and tried last night before Squire Thomas Belanco of Weirton. All pleaded no contest.

James Dale Burns, 38, of Chester, of Route 30, Chester, was fined $50 and costs on a charge of possessing whisky illegally and $100 and costs for possession of three gaming devices.

Burns signed a waiver of destruction for poker, blackjack and dice tables valued at $600. The 13 fifths of liquor confiscated also were destroyed.

At the Jade Lounge, a waitress, Nancy Jean Pratt, 33, of 800 Pearl St., New Cumberland, was arrested for the illegal sale of liquor and fined $50 and costs.

Also arrested at the Jade was the proprietor, Wallace Jackson

Extends Protection To Police, Firemen In Riots

House Passes Civil Rights Bill, But Measure May 'Die' In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has overwhelmingly passed a bill making it a federal crime to harm or interfere with persons trying to exercise their civil rights, and extended the protection to include police and firemen working in riot areas.

But the bill, largely the same as a portion of the 1966 civil rights bill which died in the Senate, may be killed there again.

The amendment providing federal protection for police and firemen was supported by members angered by this summer's city riots, in which several police officers and firefighters were injured. Some were killed.

But the bill, largely the same as a portion of the 1966 Civil rights bill which died in the Senate, may face a similar fate.

Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., whose Senate Judiciary subcommittee began hearings on the same measure Aug. 1, said then it "cannot stand the constitutional light of day" under the 14th Amendment.

Senate sources rated the bill's chances of clearing the full Judiciary Committee as zero. They said an attempt might be made to bypass the committee and put the House-passed version on the floor for debate, but forecast a Southern filibuster if that tactic was used.

In the House, a majority of both parties supported the bill, which sailed through Wednesday 326 to 93 after a series of relatively minor amendments were adopted and two major ones were turned back.

The bill would make it a federal crime for a person to interfere with, injure or intimidate, or threaten to injure or intimidate anyone because of his race, color, religion, national origin or political affiliation and because he is or has been engaging in certain protected activities.

These include voting, attending public schools, using public accommodations and public facilities, serving on state and local juries and participating in federally assisted programs.

Penalties would be up to one year and a $1,000 fine, except that serious bodily injury could bring up to 10 years and $10,000 and death could result in life imprisonment.

The most serious limitation adopted to the civil rights bill appeared to be one proposed by the Justice Department and offered by Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee.

It requires that the punishable acts must be committed both because of race, color, religion, political affiliation or national origin and because the victim is or has been engaging in the protected activities.

Rep. William T. Cahill, R-N.J., said the amendment, accepted by voice vote, would make it harder for U.S. attorneys to gain convictions.

But Celler read a letter from Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark saying the change would not appreciably hamper the government.

Democratic, GOP Leaders Get Together

Rare House Union Assures Okay Of Old Age Benefits, Tax Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic and Republican leaders have forged a rare union to assure passage of legislation to boost Social Security benefits and taxes.

If the bill finally is enacted, the average benefit paid a retired couple would go up from $145 to $164 a month. Each of the current 24.2 million beneficiaries would receive at least a 12½ per cent increase. The range of benefits for a single retired person, now $44 to $142 a month, would rise to $50 to $159.80.

Taxes would go up as well—a maximum of $44 next year for a worker earning as much as $7,600 and for his employer. The scale would rise more in future years.

While official endorsement of the bill by the House Republican leadership Wednesday assured passage, there is opposition to some portions of it and the Senate is expected to work over the measure extensively, leaving its final shape to be determined by a conference of the two chambers.

The House is considering the bill under procedures that allow only a yes or no vote without amendments.

There is expected to be criticism, however, of a number of provisions.

One is a limitation, affecting especially New York, on the extent to which a state can open up federally-aided health care—medicaid, not medicare—to persons above the poverty level.

Another is a series of measures designed to tighten rules on aid to families with dependent children and to require adults to take jobs or prepare for them whenever possible. A proposed limit on admission of additional families to the program has drawn the fire of John W. Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare.

In addition to the benefit increases, the bill would allow Social Security recipients to earn somewhat more money without having their benefits cut. And it would provide benefits for widows of deceased workers as young as 50, if the widows were physically unable to work.

Meanwhile the administration had two more economic indicators to cite as support for President Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge. The House Ways and Means Committee has suspended its hearings on the tax measure until action on the Social Security measure is completed.

The Federal Reserve Board reported Wednesday that July marked the first increase in industrial production this year. And the Commerce Department announced a strong 10.8 per cent surge in homebuilding during the same month.

$50,000 Set For Newell's Street Work

The West Virginia Road Commission has allocated $50,000 for the resurfacing of certain streets in Newell, it has been announced by State Sen. William Tompos of Weirton.

Tompos said he spoke with State Road Commissioner Burl Sawyers, who said the improvement program will begin this year, although he did not set a date.

The announcement came following action by a delegation of women living on Grant St. in Newell who appealed for help in determining responsibility for the upkeep of certain roads in the county.

In Airing Foreign Affairs Roles

Senate Hearings May Stir Attack On Vietnam Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate hearings on the proper role of Congress and the White House in foreign affairs could develop into a flank attack on U.S. policy in Vietnam.

Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach defends the Johnson administration against assertions it has overstepped its constitutional role in directing foreign policy.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., denied he intended his Senate Foreign Relations Committee's hearings to become a forum in which to press his long-time opposition to Vietnam policy.

Fulbright has proposed the Senate declare Congress, as well as the President, must approve any overseas policy if it is to be deemed a national commitment.

During the past 25 years, he said at Wednesday's hearing, the White House has "acquired virtually unrestricted power" to commit the United States politically and militarily, without congressional authorization.

Fulbright also said "this war which I oppose so deeply" is tied closely to the constitutional question of congressional authority in world affairs.

He said the United States might not have intervened in Vietnam had congressional approval been required at the outset.

The State Department already has issued a policy paper declaring President Johnson has both constitutional and legislative authorization for the steps he has ordered in Vietnam.

It says the President, as Commander in Chief, has constitutional power to deploy American forces, and reports this has been done at least 125 times in U.S. history without declarations of war.

It also cites the so-called Gulf of Tonkin Resolution adopted by Congress on Aug. 7, 1964, approving and supporting Johnson measures to repel armed attack on U.S. forces and to prevent further aggression.

But historian Ruhl J. Bartlett of Tufts University told the Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday the President has no authority to send U.S. troops abroad without the approval of Congress.

He criticized the Gulf of Ton-

Crash Victim Awakes From Coma, Talks

Russell Epley, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Eply of Midland Ave., Midland, who has been in a coma since April 1, awoke Wednesday night and started talking to members of his family.

The youth, injured in a motorcycle accident on Route 168 near Shippingport, is in St. Francis General Hospital, Pittsburgh.

The youth came out of the coma last night, and his first words were "Hungry, hungry." The hospital staff then started feeding him by mouth, and in a short while he began talking to members of his family.

He readily recognized his mother and spoke to her. He called different persons by name, even recognizing some of the nurses.

This action confirms earlier indications that the youth was aware of his surroundings, but could not talk. The youth would perspire when others were near him and talking to him.

Friends and neighbors initiated a drive for funds and representative of the Beaver Trust Co., Midland Branch, said today $2,500 has been raised to help pay the Epley's hospital expenses. The drive still is on.

Feet Dirty? Don't Enter

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — You can go to a Riverside shopping center with bare feet, but not with dirty ones.

The Riverside Plaza Merchants Association, reversing an earlier edict, said Wednesday, "It was never our intent to ask barefoot people to leave the center."

But a spokesman said shoppers with bare feet that are dirty "will be asked to leave."

Officer Faces Trial In Detroit Riot Death

VANPORT BRIDGE SECTIONS LINKED. The last large piece of structural steel joining the north and south sections of the new $10.4 million Vanport Bridge was put into place Wednesday by crews of the American Bridge Division of U.S. Steel Corp. The 1,750-foot span is another phase of the Beaver Valley Expressway which will extend from the Greater Pittsburgh Airport to the Pennsylvania Turnpike. The span, to be opened late next year after the roadway section is completed contains 4,900 tons of steel and 115,319 bolts.

Flooding Hits 2 Properties

During excavation by a contractor at the site of a new reservoir above the 8th St. area in Midland Tuesday afternoon, a line at the base of the reservoir was broken by a high lift, causing extensive flooding of two adjoining properties.

Properties of Mayor Eli G. Corak and Thomas Wuchina on Virginia Ave. suffered extensive lawn damage from water and mud which ran off the hill. Wuchina's basement also was flooded.

Workmen of the Midland Water Authority were called and succeeded in shutting off five valves by 3:20 p. m. to stop the water flow. Closed were two 12-inch valves, two 6-inch valves and one 8-inch valve. There was no disruption of water service or reduction in pressure, the supply from another reservoir being used.

Considerable mud was deposited on 8th St. by the flow. Workmen of the water authority completed repairs and cleanup later Wednesday.

Court Directs Viewing Of Water Project Plans

LISBON — Counsel for six St. Clair Township residents opposing the proposed $620,000 St. Clair water system have obtained a court order to examine the plans and costs data.

Alfred L. Fitch of Salem filed the motion in Probate Court, saying his request to see the material was denied.

Judge Louis Tobin said the appellants have a right to examine material relating to the project, and directed the County Commissioners to permit viewing at the Courthouse or at the office of George Bloomgren, project engineer.

The county commissioners' motion for dismissal of the appeal filed Aug. 4 by the six St. Clair people is set for hearing Sept. 8 in Probate Court.

The appellants claim the improvement costs will exceed the benefits. They request Probate Court to review the facts and declare the water system unnecessary.

Fitch says the appeal was filed within the statutory limit after the commissioners' July 27 resolution to proceed with construction.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis, representing the commissioners, asked for a dismissal "for the reason that each plaintiff herein failed to give notice in writing of an intention to appeal as required by statute, and therefore this court lacks jurisdiction over the appeal."

The motion quotes a section of the code: "Any persons, firm or corporation desiring to appeal from the final order or judgment of the board upon any of the questions mentioned in such section, shall on or before the date of the passage of the improvement resolution give notice in writing of an intention to appeal, specifying therein the matters to be appealed from."

Fitch says the Commissioners received written objections before adopting the resolution and knew an appeal would be filed.

Ohio Brass Will Build Vast Research Center

A new multi - million - dollar research center, with special test capabilities "available nowhere else in the world," will be built by the Ohio Brass Co. in Wadsworth Township, the company announced today at its headquarters in Mansfield.

Ohio Brass has a plant in Newell.

Research on materials and products for all the company's divisions which serve the electric utility, mining, communications, transportation and building industries will be conducted at the center, which will be equipped for electrical, mechanical, ceramic and chemical testing and research. It will be officially named the "Frank B. Black Research Center" after the former president and board chairman who founded Ohio Brass in 1888.

The center will cover 20 acres and initially will include 45,000 square feet of office, laboratory and indoor test space, plus an outdoor area for full-scale testing of large apparatus for transmission and distribution of electric power.

The company has exercised an option to purchase a total of 50 acres for the new facility which will overlook the Chippewa Valley. The site is on Route 57, just off Route 224, 10 miles from the company's Barberton plant and 20 miles from downtown Akron. With facilities for a staff of 65, the new center will be built by the Austin Co. of Cleveland, with completion scheduled for May 1, 1968.

A unique feature will be a 70-foot-diameter, 60-foot - high enclosed silo where research on insulation and protective devices for electric power lines can be conducted in an atmosphere controlled in terms of moisture, temperature and contamination.

Operating problems encountered by utilities in industrial, coastal and agricultural areas can be investigated with new precision, so that products can be developed that will further increase the reliabliity of electrical service.

Judge Fines Two Drivers

BEAVER — Two area men charged with traffic violations were fined and placed on probation at Beaver County Sentence Court Wednesday.

James Flowers of East Liverpool, cited by Midland police for driving while intoxicated, was fined $150, placed on probation for one year, ordered to pay costs and make restitution.

Richard E. Grimm of Smiths Ferry, cited by Brighton Township police for driving while under suspension, was fined $150, placed on probation for a year and directed to pay costs. He had pleaded guilty.

Walter Scott Reckner of Hookstowh was found not guilty of a charge of surety of the peace, filed by his wife, Thelma, and the costs were placed on the county.

Judge James Rowley was in charge of sentencing.

ExDistrict Resident Says It With Flowers

A former Wellsville carpenter, who now resides in California, made news recently when a 12-foot sunflower grew in his garden.

Everett Heddleson of 1038 Pavilion Dr., Pomona, was photographed standing beneath the lofty sunflower in his "city" garden. Heddleson and his wife moved to California about five years ago, when he retired from his carpentry.

In spite of the "way his garden grew," he said he'd rather bowl than garden.

He is the father of Mrs. James Boyce of Wellsville RD 1.

Ex-County Resident Takes New Position

Mr. and Mrs. James Springer of Columbus have moved to Milwaukee, where he has accepted a position as supervisor in the Examination Division of the Milwaukee City Service Commission.

Springer was graduated from David Anderson High School at Lisbon and received his Bachelor of Science and Masters Degree at Ohio State University. He is the son of Mrs. Edythe Springer of Lisbon RD 1, a Salineville second - grade teacher who recently was injured in an auto accident.

Mrs. Springer is the former Rosalind Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Baker of Hammondsville. The couple has a son and daughter.

Flooding Hits 2 Properties

During excavation by a contractor at the site of a new reservoir above the 8th St. area in Midland Tuesday afternoon, a line at the base of the reservoir was broken by a high lift, causing extensive flooding of two adjoining properties.

Properties of Mayor Eli G. Corak and Thomas Wuchina on Virginia Ave. suffered extensive lawn damage from water and mud which ran off the hill. Wuchina's basement also was flooded.

Workmen of the Midland Water Authority were called and succeeded in shutting off five valves by 3:20 p. m. to stop the water flow. Closed were two 12-inch valves, two 6-inch valves and one 8-inch valve. There was no disruption of water service or reduction in pressure, the supply from another reservoir being used.

Considerable mud was deposited on 8th St. by the flow. Workmen of the water authority completed repairs and cleanup later Wednesday.

Court Directs Viewing Of Water Project Plans

LISBON — Counsel for six St. Clair Township residents opposing the proposed $620,000 St. Clair water system have obtained a court order to examine the plans and costs data.

Alfred L. Fitch of Salem filed the motion in Probate Court, saying his request to see the material was denied.

Judge Louis Tobin said the appellants have a right to examine material relating to the project, and directed the County Commissioners to permit viewing at the Courthouse or at the office of George Bloomgren, project engineer.

The county commissioners' motion for dismissal of the appeal filed Aug. 4 by the six St. Clair people is set for hearing Sept. 8 in Probate Court.

The appellants claim the improvement costs will exceed the benefits. They request Probate Court to review the facts and declare the water system unnecessary.

Fitch says the appeal was filed within the statutory limit after the commissioners' July 27 resolution to proceed with construction.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis, representing the commissioners, asked for a dismissal "for the reason that each plaintiff herein failed to give notice in writing of an intention to appeal as required by statute, and therefore this court lacks jurisdiction over the appeal."

The motion quotes a section of the code: "Any persons, firm or corporation desiring to appeal from the final order or judgment of the board upon any of the questions mentioned in such section, shall on or before the date of the passage of the improvement resolution give notice in writing of an intention to appeal, specifying therein the matters to be appealed from."

Fitch says the Commissioners received written objections before adopting the resolution and knew an appeal would be filed.

Ohio Brass Will Build Vast Research Center

A new multi - million - dollar research center, with special test capabilities "available nowhere else in the world," will be built by the Ohio Brass Co. in Wadsworth Township, the company announced today at its headquarters in Mansfield.

Ohio Brass has a plant in Newell.

Research on materials and products for all the company's divisions which serve the electric utility, mining, communications, transportation and building industries will be conducted at the center, which will be equipped for electrical, mechanical, ceramic and chemical testing and research. It will be officially named the "Frank B. Black Research Center" after the former president and board chairman who founded Ohio Brass in 1888.

The center will cover 20 acres and initially will include 45,000 square feet of office, laboratory and indoor test space, plus an outdoor area for full-scale testing of large apparatus for transmission and distribution of electric power.

The company has exercised an option to purchase a total of 50 acres for the new facility which will overlook the Chippewa Valley. The site is on Route 57, just off Route 224, 10 miles from the company's Barberton plant and 20 miles from downtown Akron. With facilities for a staff of 65, the new center will be built by the Austin Co. of Cleveland, with completion scheduled for May 1, 1968.

To Offer Own Slum-Rebuilding Plan

Senate To Heed LBJ Plea On Model Cities Program

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate appears ready to heed President Johnson's plea for restoration of a big part of the House cut in his model cities program—and to offer plans of its own for rebuilding the nation's slums.

Two Senate committees worked on legislation going far beyond the President's recommendations regarding urban problems.

A housing subcommittee may complete its work today on an omnibus housing measure to provide homes for low-income families. Numerous proposals are under consideration.

The administration asked for no such program this year, preferring to concentrate its efforts on getting funds for model cities and rent subsidies which were authorized in previous housing measures.

The subcommittee already has decided to include in the omnibus bill Johnson's proposal for a rat control program, rejected earlier by the House in an action sharply criticized by civil rights leaders.

Meanwhile the Senate Labor Committee holds its first closed session on an antipoverty bill broadened in subcommittee $3 billion beyond the President's proposal

The subcommittee voted $2.2 billion for the fourth year of the "war on poverty," $148 million more than Johnson asked.

In addition, it wrote into the measure a new $3 billion program sponsored by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., its chairman, as a response to riots in numerous cities this summer.

The $3 billion would be used over the next two years to provide jobs for unemployed slum dwellers and to make loans to restore small businesses damaged or destroyed in the disorders.

Johnson wrote a letter Wednesday to Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield saying "the tragic events of this summer" make it imperative for the government to move to restore the nation's cities. He asked the Senate to restore all of the $425 million the House cut out of his $662 million request for model cities, calling this "the most coordinated, massive and far-reaching attack on urban blight ever proposed to Congress."

Under the model cities program, authorized by Congress last year, cities can apply for federal aid to rehabilitate a substantial part of their entire slum areas. The plan would have to include not only new and rebuilt housing but also needed services in education, recreation, housing, transportation, health and sanitation.

Bids Are Studied In Standpipe Job And Fence Here

Two Ohio companies are the apparent low bidders for the repair of the standpipes on Henry Ave. and the erection of a fence around the water department's Laura Ave., booster station.

The Kessler Co. of Fremont submitted a bid of $2,235 for the repair of the No. 2 water tower on the North Side.

The only other bid was the $3,275 of another Fremont firm, Continental - Freemont, Inc.

Five bids were received for the erection of a 9-foot fence around the booster station.

The Board of Public Utilities, which sought the bids, asked the fence run 336 lineal feet to encompass the station.

Other bids were: Lee Can Fence Co., Bell School Rd., East Liverpool, $1,610; Esthrlee Fence Co., Youngstown, $1,720.23; Allegheny Fence Construction Co., Pittsburgh, $2,250, and Anchor Fence Division of Anchor Post Products, Cleveland, $2,617.65.

The bids were taken under consideration by the utilities board. Walter Snyder, chairman, said the contracts will be awarded at a later date.

ISDA Family Picnic Planned For Sunday

The Midland Italian Sons and Daughters of America will hold their annual family picnic Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Lions Club pavilion on Murphy's Hill Rd., Mrs. Clem Migliore, president, announced.

Games and prizes will be features of the afternoon's events. Hot sausage will be on sale for those who do not care to bring a picnic basket.

Oak Glen Will Sell Books, Other Supplies

Books, school supplies and lunch tickets will be sold Aug. 21-23 at Oak Glen High School, according to Russell Slack, principal.

Rental for books this year remains at $5.

The school's lunch program will begin Sept. 5. The price of tickets is $1.75 a week, the same as last year.

School will begin Aug. 31.

Sensitive Taxes, Liquor Bills Eyed In Ohio House

By ROBERT E. MILLER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio House members faced politically sensitive issues of taxes and liquor today with the shades of evening falling on a frustrating legislative session that began almost nine months ago.

House leaders, still hopeful of winding up major business by the end of next week, called for floor votes on bills listing new permissive taxes for counties and permitting sale of liquor on Sundays.

Both figured to touch off verbal fireworks, particularly the emotionally charged liquor bill the big cities claim they need to attract more convention business.

Majority Republicans had the guns to put across the permissive taxes bill endorsed strongly Wednesday by GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes. But Democrats had enough votes to defeat an emergency clause that would make the bill effective upon signing by the governor. The measure would permit counties to levy a two per cent sales tax on top of the state tax, and $5 auto tag fee, among other steps.

The House Education, Taxation, and Finance committees continued deliberations on the administration's big tax hike-education bill considered the key to a legislative recess. They hoped to reassemble the $300 million school financing measure in time for a floor vote next week.

The weary lawmakers concede that the work of this legislature has been laborious to the point of frustration. Members of both parties blame the ill-fated Ohio Bond Commission proposal defeated in the May primary after four months of work.

"We really didn't get down to business until that was settled," a veteran Republican senator commented Wednesday.

Wednesday was another big day for the passage of bills. Those approved by the Senate would require color photographs on driver licenses, increase the fee for special license plates from $1 to $3, and develop a statewide system of psychiatric hospitals for children, who now comprise 25 per cent of the state's mental illness cases.

The Senate approved 29-0 and returned to the House a $231 million capital improvements bill to pay for handling and other improvements authorized by the last legislature but not completed. Senate amendments to the reappropriations measure included restoration of a $300,000 cut by the Department of Natural Resources for improvements at Buckeye Lake.

Another bill approved by the Senate would add commercial properties to those eligible for water facility loans from the State Water and Sewer Rotary Commission created by the legislature two years ago.

Representatives voted 89-3 for state licensing of Ohio slaughter houses and packing plants after July 1, 1969 after Rep. Robert G. Jones R-62 Columbus reported 56 per cent of such establishments in Ohio lack inspection. The bill exempts those inspected by the federal government and those for personal use.

Also approved by the House was an emergency measure setting cutoff dates for first graders to enter school and providing for readiness tests statewide.

The bill provides that children turning six by Oct. 31 this year and in 1968 may enter fall classes unless earlier dates are set by school boards. Beginning in 1969, the cutoff date would be Sept. 30 in districts beginning classes in August or children would have to be six by the first day of classes.

The Midland Italian Sons and Daughters of America will hold their annual family picnic Sunday at 4 p.m. at the Lions Club pavilion on Murphy's Hill Rd., Mrs. Clem Migliore, president, announced.

Games and prizes will be features of the afternoon's events. Hot sausage will be on sale for those who do not care to bring a picnic basket.

Oak Glen Will Sell Books, Other Supplies

Books, school supplies and lunch tickets will be sold Aug. 21-23 at Oak Glen High School, according to Russell Slack, principal.

Rental for books this year remains at $5.

The school's lunch program will begin Sept. 5. The price of tickets is $1.75 a week, the same as last year.

School will begin Aug. 31.

Sensitive Taxes, Liquor Bills Eyed In Ohio House

By ROBERT E. MILLER

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio House members faced politically sensitive issues of taxes and liquor today with the shades of evening falling on a frustrating legislative session that began almost nine months ago.

House leaders, still hopeful of winding up major business by the end of next week, called for floor votes on bills listing new permissive taxes for counties and permitting sale of liquor on Sundays.

Both figured to touch off verbal fireworks, particularly the emotionally charged liquor bill the big cities claim they need to attract more convention business.

Majority Republicans had the guns to put across the permissive taxes bill endorsed strongly Wednesday by GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes. But Democrats had enough votes to defeat an emergency clause that would make the bill effective upon signing by the governor. The measure would permit counties to levy a two per cent sales tax on top of the state tax, and $5 auto tag fee, among other steps.

The House Education, Taxation, and Finance committees continued deliberations on the administration's big tax hike-education bill considered the key to a legislative recess. They hoped to reassemble the $300 million school financing measure in time for a floor vote next week.

The weary lawmakers concede that the work of this legislature has been laborious to the point of frustration. Members of both parties blame the ill-fated Ohio Bond Commission proposal defeated in the May primary after four months of work.

"We really didn't get down to business until that was settled," a veteran Republican senator commented Wednesday.

Wednesday was another big day for the passage of bills. Those approved by the Senate would require color photographs on driver licenses, increase the fee for special license plates from $1 to $3, and develop a statewide system of psychiatric hospitals for children, who now comprise 25 per cent of the state's mental illness cases.

The Senate approved 29-0 and returned to the House a $231 million capital improvements bill to pay for handling and other improvements authorized by the last legislature but not completed. Senate amendments to the reappropriations measure included restoration of a $300,000 cut by the Department of Natural Resources for improvements at Buckeye Lake.

Another bill approved by the Senate would add commercial properties to those eligible for water facility loans from the State Water and Sewer Rotary Commission created by the legislature two years ago.

Representatives voted 89-3 for state licensing of Ohio slaughter houses and packing plants after July 1, 1969 after Rep. Robert G. Jones R-62 Columbus reported 56 per cent of such establishments in Ohio lack inspection. The bill exempts those inspected by the federal government and those for personal use.

Also approved by the House was an emergency measure setting cutoff dates for first graders to enter school and providing for readiness tests statewide.

The bill provides that children turning six by Oct. 31 this year and in 1968 may enter fall classes unless earlier dates are set by school boards. Beginning in 1969, the cutoff date would be Sept. 30 in districts beginning classes in August or children would have to be six by the first day of classes.

Ground Rules For University Status

We hope that Senate Bill 422, which establishes the level at which a state university branch may attain full four-year status, has clear sailing in the Ohio General Assembly.

It hurdled its first step Monday when the Senate Health, Education and Welfare Committee, without a dissenting vote, reported the measure for favorable floor action.

So many promises have been alleged and so much promotional hoopla sounded in behalf of premature conversion of branches that prompt establishment of standards and ground rules is imperative

The bill authorizes the governor to designate a branch as a "state campus" once full-time enrollment reaches 4,000 and appoint an advisory council to work with the Board of Regents and boards of trustees of the parent universities to aid in transition to a full university status when enrollment reaches 5,000.

Based on enrollments in the 1966-67 school year, no branch campus would come even close to qualifying for state university ranking. Mansfield branch of Ohio State University, already on its new campus, had the largest enrollment--approximately 1,200.

The Kent center here in East Liverpool, which had 375 students last year, is looking toward an enrollment of 500 this fall. The center is scheduled to move into the present high school building after the new high school is completed on the North Side.

Canton's Kent Branch, which moves into its handsome new home on Frank Rd. this fall, will have in excess of 1,600 students for day and night classes. The enrollment will be equal to 1,000 full time equivalent (full course load) students.

Canton utimately will be the largest of the state branches but many more structures and expanded facilities will be needed to accommodate 5,000 students. Jack D. Moreheart, director of the branch, estimates that at least six more buildings would be needed to house a registration of that size.

On the assumption that a second building would be scheduled for construction soon, a theater, a cafeteria, a music hall, a gymnasium and rooms for art classes were not provided in the soon-to-be-occupied new structure.

We don't know what the state has in mind in the way of new bond issue money for construction of additional plant for state universities and their branches.

But until more money is available and new facilities constructed, there is scant chance any current state university branch will grow to big brother status. Would you believe ever?

Pride And Progress

One of the better — and workable — community improvement ideas to come down the pike in some years has turned out to be the East Liverpool Board of Realtors "Clean Up, Fix Up, Paint Up" contest.

The competition, in which the winners were announced today, generated some real interest toward bettering home and neighborhood appearances, and resulted in several successful projects.

The realtors are emphasizing the importance of property maintenance and attractive appearances for protection of the owner's investment, for neighborhood and community develpment, and for the pleasure of having well - kept residential areas in which to spend family life.

Although the number of entries this first year was not large, the realtors expect greater participation in the years to come.

Changes wrought by the work of the winners and others in the competition, and the enjoyment they derived from their tasks should set an example for all homeowners in the district. The realtors and the participants have made a commendable addition to the program to spur further civic pride and progress.

Only Donor Has Right To Will Body

We concur in Senate and House action making it legal for an Ohioan to determine if all or part of his body will be used for research

The bill now goes back to the House for approval of Senate amendments. With the General Assembly looking anxiously toward adjournment, it shouldn't take long to put the finishing touches on the measure.

Modern methods and practices permit organ transplant operations such as that of the kidney to give new life to those who would have been doomed only a few years ago.

Research programs of all types are going on today so the afflicted may live normal lives tomorrow. Soon as the measure becomes law, Ohioans will have a legal right to be a part of this research.

Under existing laws, donations of the deceased body or parts of it must be approved by the next of kin. Naturally there have been cases where grieving relatives could not bring themselves to follow the wishes of the deceased.

Under the new law, there will be no question. Relatives will not be forced to make a decision at a time of extreme emotional stress.

There has been criticism of the bill from some quarters that it takes away some of the dignity from death and prevents the survivors from paying a last tribute to the deceased.

From where we sit, there is something noble in willing your eyes, kidneys or whole body to someone, somewhere who needs it. And, survivors should be proud the deceased cared enough about his fellow man to share with him in death that which he could not share in life.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

The members were furry, four-legged rats, not smooth-skinned, two-legged rats.

The members were not what we call "rat finks" or "dirty rats," they were just plain rat rats.

As usual they were hosts to ticks. The rats themselves were a sort of underground fifth column fighting to disrupt human society and the ticks on the rats served as a particularly insidious fifth column within a fifth column.

The convention chairman was a handsome rat, as rats go. His fuzzy coat was clean, sleek and streaked with gray as befitted his years and wisdom.

"In the past year, your officers and members have done much to be proud of," he intoned to the assemblage gesturing with a front paw for emphasis with his whiskers aquiver.

"We have increased our membership in the United States to four times that of the Two-Legs. Some experts estimate we may outnumber Two-Legs by 10, or even 20, to 1.

"We have spread dissension in the highest councils of the Two-Legs. Their Congress is sharply divided over how to contain our guerrilla warfare.

"Fortunately we have managed to help foment violent dissatisfaction among the Two-Legs here at home while their attention has been diverted to faraway places which they call the moon and Vietnam."

He was interrupted by a sharp looking young rat who leaped up and shouted, "But we haven't done enough. We need several million more members and must annihilate the Two-Legs."

Rapping for order, the chairman calmly agreed with the young firebrand.

"The comment by our young friend from the floor is welcomed by the chair but be careful not to escalate too fast lest we invite a backlash.

"Local Two-Legs we can handle but let us not get the feds on our tails."

The young hawkish rat shouted, "Bring on the feds. We can handle them all."

The unruffled chairman continued in a dovelike manner.

"The Two-Legs are escalating their gas and poison warfare against us. We must retaliate by getting the ticks off our backs so they can carry our germ warfare against the enemy Two-Legs."

"Hear, hear," yelled the young rat.

"Bite all the Two-Leg adults you can but lay off the babies.

You Can Buy Happiness

By Art Buchwald

While Art Buchwald is taking a few days off, a blue ribbon panel has selected some of his articles from the past that it feels the public would want to read again.

WASHINGTON

All my life I've been told you can't buy happiness, and I must say I used to believe it. But lately I've changed my mind.

Money can buy happiness, and usually does.

Art Buchwald

Take my friends, the Schmicks. They're poor, honest, hard - working people. All they have is each other and they're miserable.

Then take my friends, the Smugs — he's a banker, she inherited money from her father. They live on Park Ave. in the winter and Westhampton in the summer, unless they go abroad. Everything they do costs money, and you won't find two happier people anywhere.

The Schmicks live in a small apartment in Brooklyn in the winter and they vacation in the small apartment in Brooklyn in the summer. When they really get desperate, they go to Far Rockaway for a swim.

Once Schmick said to me, "We may not have all the comforts and pleasures of the rich, but do you think that makes us unhappy? You bet your sweet life it does."

The Smugs, on the other hand, wouldn't have it any other way.

SMUG TOLD ME one night when he had a few drinks too many, "You know, when I was young I was in love with a poor girl who worked as a secretary. I was poor, too, and we were going to get married. Then I met my wife, who was rich, so I decided to marry her. You know something? I bumped into that poor girl a few week ago and she had gone all to pieces. It takes money for a woman to keep looking young. I was sure glad I married the rich girl."

The Smugs are not happy all the time. Sometimes they fight and then Mrs. Smug flies off to California to visit friends. But the Smicks fight, too. Only when they get into a quarrel, Mrs. Smick has no place to go, so they yell at each other until the police come. Last year the Smicks were fined $30 for disturbing the peace.

The Smugs entertain a lot of important and influential people who accept their invitations because the Smugs are rich. The Schmicks can only afford to entertain relatives they don't like, who complain afterward about the food and liquor.

When it comes to children, the Smugs and Schmicks also differ.

SMUG TOLD ME, "We have two children. We've given them the best of everything. Private schools, riding lessons, tennis lessons, catered parties — we've bought everything for them that money will buy and they're smart, happy, contented children."

Schmick, on the other hand, told me, "We haven't been able to give our children anything but love and devotion — and they hate us."

Smug told me, "I've tried to impress on the children the importance of beign rich and the great benefits that can be derived from having money. They know exactly what I'm talking about and they respect me for my wisdom."

Schmick said, "I tell my kids money isn't everything. There are some values in life that are much more important, such as love, friendship and family. And you know what they do? They go around the neighborhood and tell everyone, "Our pop is nuts."

Washington Campout?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

There's plenty at home to use up their energy since the civil rights movement is bogged down, but some of its leaders are reaching way beyond civil rights for something to attack or denounce.

Latest example: The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee — whose past and present leaders are a couple of Negro agitators, Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown—is now accusing the Jews of atrocities against the Arabs.

Before that Dr. Martin Luther King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was denouncing American involvement in the Vietnamese war and calling this country "the greatest purveyor of violence in the world."

He called for a coalition of the anti-war and civil rights forces.

In a recent letter, SNCC charged Zionists seize Palestine through terror, force and massacres. The publication carried two photographs purporting to show massacres in the Gaza strip in 1956. SNCC denies it's anti-Semitic.

That's not the way Irwin Shulman, southeastern director of the Anti - Defamation League, sees it. He says the whole business smacks of anti-Semitism. He said the published photographs previosuly appeared in Arab propaganda publications.

And, he said, the SNCC charges represent the total propaganda line taken by the Arabs with some changes which, he said, reflect Soviet views.

RALPH FEATHERSTON, SNCC's program director, said his organization had received no financial help from the Arabs. But it does need financial help. The newsletter appealed for funds in an announcement saying: "Help, help, we're sinking fast."

It would be interesting to know what kind of financial shape King's organization is in. About a month after his attack on the war his executive assistant, the Rev. Andrew J. Young, said, "I think we are in a rather difficult period now. But we are not worried. We are getting along."

After King's attack on the war, Freedom House — an organization whose directors include former Illinois Sen. Paul Douglas, a famous liberal; Roy Wilkins of NAACP, and Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., the only Negro in the Senate — issued a paper attacking King in turn.

It criticized him for leading his "mantle of respectablity" to a peace movement which, it said, contained "well - known Communist allies and luminaries of the hate-American left." King denied Communists influenced his war stand.

But now King, overshadowed for months by the more bizarre antics of Brown and Carmichael, has another idea which, if it got out of control, might cause more trouble than anything seen in this country in 1967.

He has called for non-violent programs of organized, mass civil disobedience as a weapon for fighting racial discrimination and poverty. For example: coupling Negro school boycotts with mass sit-ins at factories to demand jobs.

AND HE HAS another idea: a massive campout in Washington. He said this would mean taking people from Mississippi and camping in the capital while refusing to eat or move until action was taken by Congress to ease slum conditions and economic hardships for Negroes.

This demonstration, he said, would be similar to the Bonus Expeditionary Force of World War I veterans who camped in Washington in 1932 and were routed by U.S. troops without getting what they wanted: a bonus from Congress.

But the kind of campout in Washington King seems to have in mind could wind up in a riot at a time when riots are in the air. For example: If the campers tried to camp indefinitely on government property they could expect to be thrown out. Nobody should know that better than King.

Just last June the Supreme Court upheld the conviction of King and seven others in Birmingham for disobeying a court injunction obtained by city officials to prevent picketing. Those officials said they wanted to prevent the picketing in a situation which could lead to violence.

Make Surtax More Palatable

President Johnson's proposal of a surcharge on income taxes donesn't specifically mention "capital gains," but it has been revealed that they will be included just the same. This means that many people who have been thinking of selling their farms, their land or any other property on which they have a gain will hesitate to do so until the planned removal of the surcharge becomes effective on July 1, 1969. The capital gain on the sale of one's own home is not taxes when the proceeds are applied under certain circumstances to the purchase of another home, but all other profits from the sale of real estate are subject to the tax.

Persons who have owned a piece of land or stock in a corporation that has gone up steadily in value over a period of years normally have to pay a maximum of 25 per cent on their gain when they sell it, but now the rate would increase to 27.5 per cent for individuals in the higher income brackets. There also would be an increase of at least one to two per cent in 1968 on capital gains obtained by persons with incomes between $10,000 and $30,000 a year.

THE EFFECT OF all this on real-estate transactions throughout the United States is likely to be felt at once, because sales already consummated since Jan. 1, 1967, will be taxable at a higher rate if congress passed the new law in October.

The administration's bill has hitherto been considered to be a tax superimposed on the present tax receipts from earnings and other sources of income, and it has not been generally realized that capital gains are actually included. Such transactions, however, will be subject to the extra tax if sales are made in the period between Jan. 1, 1967, and June 30, 1969. Wherever the citizen, therefore, can postpone the sale of his property until mid-1969, he will save a maximum of 2.5 per cent on his capital gain.

A new surcharge means a higher tax on capital gains than has been enacted at any time since 1942, even above that required for the years 1952 and 1953. The forthcoming change will mean that long-term gains will reach a height of 27.5 per cent. During World War II or the Korean war no such an increase in the rate was imposed.

The argument being made against the new proposal is that a tax is being levied not on actual income but on a piece of property that has risen in value over a period of many years and is in the nature of savings. Certainly a tax on money saved in a bank is hardly in a class with a tax on earned income. The new plan constitutes an additional tax on principal after the customary 25 per cent levy on capital gains has been deducted.

The effect of it will be felt in connection with the liquidation of assets in estates where the trustees of banks or other executors will have to decide whether to sell a property or wait until the latter part of 1969 to do so in order to save taxes.

IT IS ESTIMATED that for the year 1968 the income-tax liability of corporations and individuals will go up by $9.9 billon under the new proposal. If to ths is added the projected increase of $1.6 billion in social security taxes, the total federal tax liabilities for corporations and individuals will rise by about $11.5 billion.

Many members of congress are hearing from their constituents concerning the surcharge as the latter learn more and more about it. There is a noticeable opposition in both the house and the senate, but the administration insists the money is needed to cut down the deficit, though it is conceded that the new receipts alone will not accomplish the purpose.

Although many adverse comments are being voiced about the proposed surcharge tax, chances are that Congress will enact some kind of compromise measure and may cut down the ten per cent over-all levy to eight or even six per cent to make it more palatable.

As usual they were hosts to ticks. The rats themselves were a sort of underground fifth column fighting to disrupt human society and the ticks on the rats served as a particularly insidious fifth column within a fifth column.

The convention chairman was a handsome rat, as rats go. His fuzzy coat was clean, sleek and streaked with gray as befitted his years and wisdom.

"In the past year, your officers and members have done much to be proud of," he intoned to the assemblage gesturing with a front paw for emphasis with his whiskers aquiver.

"We have increased our membership in the United States to four times that of the Two-Legs. Some experts estimate we may outnumber Two-Legs by 10, or even 20, to 1.

"We have spread dissension in the highest councils of the Two-Legs. Their Congress is sharply divided over how to contain our guerrilla warfare.

"Fortunately we have managed to help foment violent dissatisfaction among the Two-Legs here at home while their attention has been diverted to faraway places which they call the moon and Vietnam."

He was interrupted by a sharp looking young rat who leaped up and shouted, "But we haven't done enough. We need several million more members and must annihilate the Two-Legs."

Rapping for order, the chairman calmly agreed with the young firebrand.

"The comment by our young friend from the floor is welcomed by the chair but be careful not to escalate too fast lest we invite a backlash.

"Local Two-Legs we can handle but let us not get the feds on our tails."

The young hawkish rat shouted, "Bring on the feds. We can handle them all."

The unruffled chairman continued in a dove-like manner.

"The Two-Legs are escalating their gas and poison warfare against us. We must retaliate by getting the ticks off our backs so they can carry our germ warfare against the enemy Two-Legs."

"Hear, hear," yelled the young rat.

"Bite all the Two-Leg adults you can but lay off the babies.

You Can Buy Happiness

By Art Buchwald

While Art Buchwald is taking a few days off, a blue ribbon panel has selected some of his articles from the past that it feels the public would want to read again.

WASHINGTON

All my life I've been told you can't buy happiness, and I must say I used to believe it. But lately I've changed my mind.

Money can buy happiness, and usually does.

Art Buchwald

Take my friends, the Schmicks. They're poor, honest, hard - working people. All they have is each other and they're miserable.

Then take my friends, the Smugs — he's a banker, she inherited money from her father. They live on Park Ave. in the winter and Westhampton in the summer, unless they go abroad. Everything they do costs money, and you won't find two happier people anywhere.

The Schmicks live in a small apartment in Brooklyn in the winter and they vacation in the small apartment in Brooklyn in the summer. When they really get desperate, they go to Far Rockaway for a swim.

Once Schmick said to me, "We may not have all the comforts and pleasures of the rich, but do you think that makes us unhappy? You bet your sweet life it does."

The Smugs, on the other hand, wouldn't have it any other way.

SMUG TOLD ME one night when he had a few drinks too many, "You know, when I was young I was in love with a poor girl who worked as a secretary. I was poor, too, and we were going to get married. Then I met my wife, who was rich, so I decided to marry her. You know something? I bumped into that poor girl a few week ago and she had gone all to pieces. It takes money for a woman to keep looking young. I was sure glad I married the rich girl."

The Smugs are not happy all the time. Sometimes they fight and then Mrs. Smug flies off to California to visit friends. But the Smicks fight, too. Only when they get into a quarrel, Mrs. Smick has no place to go, so they yell at each other until the police come. Last year the Smicks were fined $30 for disturbing the peace.

The Smugs entertain a lot of important and influential people who accept their invitations because the Smugs are rich. The Schmicks can only afford to entertain relatives they don't like, who complain afterward about the food and liquor.

When it comes to children, the Smugs and Schmicks also differ.

SMUG TOLD ME, "We have two children. We've given them the best of everything. Private schools, riding lessons, tennis lessons, catered parties — we've bought everything for them that money will buy and they're smart, happy, contented children."

Schmick, on the other hand, told me, "We haven't been able to give our children anything but love and devotion — and they hate us."

Smug told me, "I've tried to impress on the children the importance of beign rich and the great benefits that can be derived from having money. They know exactly what I'm talking about and they respect me for my wisdom."

Schmick said, "I tell my kids money isn't everything. There are some values in life that are much more important, such as love, friendship and family. And you know what they do? They go around the neighborhood and tell everyone, "Our pop is nuts."

Washington Campout?

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

There's plenty at home to use up their energy since the civil rights movement is bogged down, but some of its leaders are reaching way beyond civil rights for something to attack or denounce.

Latest example: The Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee — whose past and present leaders are a couple of Negro agitators, Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown—is now accusing the Jews of atrocities against the Arabs.

Before that Dr. Martin Luther King, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was denouncing American involvement in the Vietnamese war and calling this country "the greatest purveyor of violence in the world."

He called for a coalition of the anti-war and civil rights forces.

In a recent letter, SNCC charged Zionists seize Palestine through terror, force and massacres. The publication carried two photographs purporting to show massacres in the Gaza strip in 1956. SNCC denies it's anti-Semitic.

That's not the way Irwin Shulman, southeastern director of the Anti - Defamation League, sees it. He says the whole business smacks of anti-Semitism. He said the published photographs previosuly appeared in Arab propaganda publications.

And, he said, the SNCC charges represent the total propaganda line taken by the Arabs with some changes which, he said, reflect Soviet views.

RALPH FEATHERSTON, SNCC's program director, said his organization had received no financial help from the Arabs. But it does need financial help. The newsletter appealed for funds in an announcement saying: "Help, help, we're sinking fast."

It would be interesting to know what kind of financial shape King's organization is in. About a month after his attack on the war his executive assistant, the Rev. Andrew J. Young, said, "I think we are in a rather difficult period now. But we are not worried. We are getting along."

After King's attack on the war, Freedom House — an organization whose directors include former Illinois Sen. Paul Douglas, a famous liberal; Roy Wilkins of NAACP, and Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., the only Negro in the Senate — issued a paper attacking King in turn.

It criticized him for leading his "mantle of respectablity" to a peace movement which, it said, contained 'well - known Communist allies and luminaries of the hate-American left." King denied Communists influenced his war stand.

But now King, overshadowed for months by the more bizarre antics of Brown and Carmichael, has another idea which, if it got out of control, might cause more trouble than anything seen in this country in 1967.

He has called for non-violent programs of organized, mass civil disobedience as a weapon for fighting racial discrimination and poverty. For example: coupling Negro school boycotts with mass sit-ins at factories to demand jobs.

AND HE HAS another idea: a massive campout in Washington. He said this would mean taking people from Mississippi and camping in the capital while refusing to eat or move until action was taken by Congress to ease slum conditions and economic hardships for Negroes.

This demonstration, he said, would be similar to the Bonus Expeditionary Force of World War I veterans who camped in Washington in 1932 and were routed by U.S. troops without getting what they wanted: a bonus from Congress.

But the kind of campout in Washington King seems to have in mind could wind up in a riot at a time when riots are in the air. For example: If the campers tried to camp indefinitely on government property they could expect to be thrown out. Nobody should know that better than King.

Just last June the Supreme Court upheld the conviction of King and seven others in Birmingham for disobeying a court injunction obtained by city officials to prevent picketing. Those officials said they wanted to prevent the picketing in a situation which could lead to violence.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

The Oak Glen Band Parents Association would like to express appreciation to everyone who helped us in anyway with our projects.

It took the support of the entire community, businesses, organizations and the general public to make possible the band's trip to the West Virginia State Fair at Lewisburg. Without this help we just couldn't have planned the trip. Again, "Thanks."

Make Surtax More Palatable

President Johnson's proposal of a surcharge on income taxes donesn't specifically mention "capital gains," but it has been revealed that they will be included just the same. This means that many people who have been thinking of selling their farms, their land or any other property on which they have a gain will hesitate to do so until the planned removal of the surcharge becomes effective on July 1, 1969. The capital gain on the sale of one's own home is not taxes when the proceeds are applied under certain circumstances to the purchase of another home, but all other profits from the sale of real estate are subject to the tax.

Persons who have owned a piece of land or stock in a corporation that has gone up steadily in value over a period of years normally have to pay a maximum of 25 per cent on their gain when they sell it, but now the rate would increase to 27.5 per cent for individuals in the higher income brackets. There also would be an increase of at least one to two per cent in 1968 on capital gains obtained by persons with incomes between $10,000 and $30,000 a year.

THE EFFECT OF all this on real-estate transactions throughout the United States is likely to be felt at once, because sales already consummated since Jan. 1, 1967, will be taxable at a higher rate if congress passed the new law in October.

The administration's bill has hitherto been considered to be a tax superimposed on the present tax receipts from earnings and other sources of income, and it has not been generally realized that capital gains are actually included. Such transactions, however, will be subject to the extra tax if sales are made in the period between Jan. 1, 1967, and June 30, 1969. Wherever the citizen, therefore, can postpone the sale of his property until mid-1969, he will save a maximum of 2.5 per cent on his capital gain.

A new surcharge means a higher tax on capital gains than has been enacted at any time since 1942, even above that required for the years 1952 and 1953. The forthcoming change will mean that long-term gains will reach a height of 27.5 per cent. During World War II or the Korean war no such an increase in the rate was imposed.

The argument being made against the new proposal is that a tax is being levied not on actual income but on a piece of property that has risen in value over a period of many years and is in the nature of savings. Certainly a tax on money saved in a bank is hardly in a class with a tax on earned income. The new plan constitutes an additional tax on principal after the customary 25 per cent levy on capital gains has been deducted.

The effect of it will be felt in connection with the liquidation of assets in estates where the trustees of banks or other executors will have to decide whether to sell a property or wait until the latter part of 1969 to do so in order to save taxes.

IT IS ESTIMATED that for the year 1968 the income-tax liability of corporations and individuals will go up by $9.9 billon under the new proposal. If to ths is added the projected increase of $1.6 billion in social security taxes, the total federal tax liabilities for corporations and individuals will rise by about $11.5 billion.

Many members of congress are hearing from their constituents concerning the surcharge as the latter learn more and more about it. There is a noticeable opposition in both the house and the senate, but the administration insists the money is needed to cut down the deficit, though it is conceded that the new receipts alone will not accomplish the purpose.

Although many adverse comments are being voiced about the proposed surcharge tax, chances are that Congress will enact some kind of compromise measure and may cut down the ten per cent over-all levy to eight or even six per cent to make it more palatable.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mrs. Elmer Savage won the "president's cup" for her exhibit during the annual gladiolus show sponsored by the Wellsville Glad-Dahlia Club in the old Patterson Hotel buiding.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Mrs. C. H. Walker of St. Clair Ave. left for a three-month visit to London, Birmingham and Staffordshire.

Army Capt. Richard Dawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Dawson of Chester, was assigned as commander of the 228th Signal Co. at Ft. Gordon, Ga.

Mt. Union Will Hold Exercises On Sunday

ALLIANCE, Ohio — Mt. Union College will hold its fourth summer commencement exercises Sunday, with approximately 62 candidates for degrees.

President Carl C. Bracy will deliver the main remarks, "The Three R's in Modern Education," during the 3 p. m. program at Rodman Playhouse on the campus. Dr. J. Birney Gross, dean of the college, will present the candidates for degrees.

There will be an informal reception in the lounge of the Cope Music Building following the ceremony.

Charter OK'd For Nursing Service Unit

The newly - organized Ohio Valley Home Health Services, Inc., has received an Ohio nonprofit charter, and officials are planning further details for opening the home nursing program Sept. 6.

Initial trustees are Mrs. Edith Grace Barnhart of the Old Fredericktwn Rd., Delma Eisenhart of the Y. & O. Rd. and Mrs. Ruth Rinehart of 261 W. 7th St. Mrs. Barnhart and Mrs. Rinehart are nurses.

The charter issued by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown lists the goal of the organization to "promote the social welfare of the upper Ohio Valley by providing skilled nursing services and other therapeutic services to persons in need."

The trustees said the home services will be provided by nurses on direct orders from the attending physician.

According to the trustees, the program would apply to all of Columbiana County except Perry Township, where such an organization already exists. Approval of the group's program in North Hancock County is now being sought from West Virginia authorities.

It is planned to utilize the programs of Medicare toward funding the organization's work, trustees explained.

An office will be opened Sept. 6 at 263 W. 7th St. rear, with hours 1 to 5 p. m.

'Head Start' School Nears End At Lisbon

LISBON — School will end Friday for 12 youngsters enrolled in Lisbon's first "Head Start" program at Lincoln School.

Mrs. Louise Jones, teacher, and Miss Jennifer Mason, assistant, were in charge of the eight-week school for children 4 to 6.

Cornell Monda, Lisbon school psychologist, tested and evaluated each child here and at the four other "Head Start" centers — two in East Liverpool and two in Wellsville.

Rogers Firemen Make Plans For Practice Drills

ROGERS — Plans for practice sessions twice a month were made during a meeting of the Rogers Volunteer Fire Department, James Quetot, fire chief, said. The first of the sessions was held Tuesday at 9:30 p. m.

The practices will be called by Quetot.

A membership roster will be erected Sept. 1 in the fire hall. Awards or trophies will be presented each year to firemen attending the most meetings, practices sessions, marching in parades and going to fires, Quetot said.

Bills totaling $892.79 were paid.

A special meeting of the firemen and the Auxiliary will be held Monday at 8 p.m. at the hall to complete business in conjunction with the recent fair.

Old Stone House Attracts 1,000

LISBON — Twenty-two members of the Antique Study Club of Columbiana visited the Old Stone House — the Lisbon Historical Society's museum—Wednesday evening.

Approximately 1,000 have toured the restored tavern on E. Washington St. since the summer visiting season opened in June.

Visiting hours are 1 to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and 1 to 5 p. m. Sunday. Miss Adrienne Bye, a student at Ashland College, is hostess this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lafferty, Mrs. Bernice Lewis, Miss Clara McGee and Forest mcClintock welcomed the Columbiana group.

The society will sponsor a stall at Lisbon's "Flea Market" Sept. 23 on the Square. Members may leave sale items at the Old Stone House.

All foods do not contain vitamins. Sugar and honey are among the foods believed not to contain them.

2 Stowaways Return To Homes In Beaver

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa. — Two 17-year-old boys who stowed away on the ocean liner "Queen Elizabeth" returned to their homes in this Beaver County community Wednesday.

"The FBI didn't think it was very funny," remarked Paul J. Battiste as he and Barry J. Sabol arrived at the Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

The boys, who gave themselves up two days out of New York Harbor, said they were locked in a room with bars on the window. The liner docked in New York Tuesday on a return voyage from Europe.

82 Killed, 748 Wounded Last Week

U.S. Combat Casualties In Viet Hit 6-Month Low

SAIGON (AP) — American combat casualties in the Vietnam war last week dropped to their lowest number since last January, reflecting a lull in major, sustained ground fighting, the U.S. Command announced today.

It said 82 Americans were killed and 748 wounded.

But a new series of small, fierce scattered skirmishes that could develop into something bigger was reported by U.S. Marines rooting out Communist troops in hills west of the coastal plain of Tam Ky, about 350 miles northeast of Saigon.

In the air war over North Vietnam, bad weather limited U.S. pilots to a below average 171 missions Wednesday.

Heavy clouds hung over the Hanoi-Haiphong area and air strikes were concentrated in the southern panhandle stretching from south of Hanoi to the 17th parallel that divides North and South Vietnam.

The command said 1,043 Communist soldiers were killed last week, the lowest figure this year.

The toll of American dead last week was the lowest since the week ending last Jan. 7 when 67 U.S. soldiers were killed. The wounded toll was the lowest since the 716 in the week ending Jan. 21. The over-all toll of 830 killed and wounded last week was the lowest since Jan. 7 when 546 casualties were reported.

Last week's toll compares with 146 Americans killed and 1,064 wounded the previous week, slightly below this year's weekly average.

Records showed 12,497 Americans have died in combat in Vietnam from Jan. 1, 1961, through Saturday, while another 76,630 U.S. troops have been wounded.

The U.S. Command said that with the exception of one significant engagement, contacts last week were generally light and scattered and on a small unit level throughout South Vietnam last week.

The lull in major sustained ground fighting has been evident since early last month. There have been exceptions, when Communist forces ambushed U.S. units, inflicted heavy casualties, then pulled out quickly. Some military strategists believe the Communists are resupplying and regrouping during the lull.

The South Vietnamese armed forces announced losses of 283 dead and 683 wounded last week, above their average. Their high casualties stemmed largely from isolated actions.

The South Vietnamese also announced 62 men missing. Their casualties were up from the previous week's 220 dead, 545 wounded and 40 missing.

In ground fighting near Tam Ky, U.S. Marines reported killing 67 Communist troops in four fierce clashes all within one-half mile of each other since Wednesday.

The four clashes were part of the Marine's Operation Cochise, launched last week. A U.S. spokesman said over-all Marine casualties for three of the four clashes since Wednesday were five dead and 23 wounded.

Other U.S. troops reported uncovering two large enemy weapons caches Wednesday. Units of the 1st Brigade of the 101st Airborne Division, operating to the east and southwest of Tam Ky, uncovered one cache containing 35 weapons including four AK47 automatic weapons, four submachine guns and light and heavy mortars. The paratroopers also reported 33 enemy soldiers were killed in scattered fighting, including 10 in an air strike. American casualties were not reported.

A company from the 9th Marine Regiment located a small enemy equipment and munitions cache in a fortified area 1.8 miles southwest of the Marine outpost of Con Thien, just below the demilitarized zone.

The complex said to be about a month old, included 40 to 50 bunkers along a trenchline. Marines said it contained an assortment of ammunition, including recoilless rifle shells and 102mm rockets. Eleven enemy bodies were reported found in graves.

South Vietnamese military headquarters reported two more Viet Cong attacks, both apparently aimed at disrupting the country's presidential elections Sept. 3.

Just south of Saigon, the Viet Cong attacked with small arms as a U.S. Navy minesweeper on the Long Tau River, the main shipping channel to Saigon shot back.

Kennedy Moves To Stop Cut In Alliance For Progress Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen Robert F. Kennedy, backing the Johnson administration, moved today to head off partially a cut in funds for the Alliance for Progress.

He said he was doing so to honor the pledge his late brother, President John F. Kennedy, made when the plan of aid to Latin America was established six years ago.

The New York Democrat sponsored an amendment to restore $72 million of the $172 million the Foreign Relations Committee cut from the Alliance authorization for fiscal 1967-68.

Kennedy worked closely with top administration officials in drafting the amendment, his office said, and they told him a $72 million increase would cover spending plans for this year.

The Kennedy proposal would bring the authorization to $650 million.

Six years ago the senator said, President Kennedy pledged to Latin America that this country would join in "a new Alliance for Progress to assist free men and free governments in casting off the chains of poverty."

"It is to honor that pledge that I offer this amendment," the senator continued.

He commented in a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate.

The Senate is in its fourth day of debate on a $2.7 billion foreign aid bill, which was cut $737 million below Johnson's requests by the Foreign Relations Committee.

Rising costs of the Vietnam war and domestic problems including violence in cities were cited by committee members as reasons for the cutbacks.

60 Gridders Turn Out For Lisbon Squad

LISBON — Coach Edwin (Bud) Bucher issued football equipment Wednesday to 60 candidates for the David Anderson High School football team.

Practice will begin at 8 a.m. Friday and sessions will be held twice daily until school opens Sept. 6. Practice games are scheduled Aug. 29 and Sept. 2.

Thirty of the gridders are lettermen or have been out for football before, Bucher said. He is returning as mentor of the Blue Devils after a two-year absence.

Sept. 8, at Southern Local; Sept. 15, open; Sept. 22, at Minerva; Sept. 30 (Saturday), at Poland; Oct. 6, East Palestine; Oct. 13, Sebring; Oct. 20, Beaver Local; Oct. 27, at Leetonia; Nov. 3, at Columbiana, and Nov. 10, United.

Bid Openings Slated For Streets, Bridge

The State Highway Department will open bids Sept. 6 at 10 a.m. for the resurfacing of Route 39 through downtown East Liverpool and Route 30 on the Chester bridge.

Specifications for the project call for the use of asphalt concrete on 5th and 6th Sts. and rubberizeds and asphalt on the Ohio River span.

Sealed proposals will be received up until the time of the opening.

Six tons of caviar were listed among provisions brought to the Moskva restaurant in the Soviet Pavilion at Canada's Expo 67.

Welfare Aide Seeks Children's Clothing

A plea for children's good usable clothing is being made by Mrs. Helen Fadeley, Wellsville worker out of the county Welfare Department office at Lisbon.

Any person or organization wishing to outfit a child for school may contact her any Tuesday from 9 a.m. to noon at the city building.

The used clothing drive sponsored by the Church Women United, was a great success, Mrs. Fadeley said, but the demand exceeds the supply.

Any type or size of usable clothing may be taken to the welfare department room on Tuesday morning or left in the hall of the city building. For pickups call Mrs. Cedric (Marion) Stanway.

Kiwanians At Chester Discuss Flag Display

The discussion centered around an appeal by the East Liverpool club for residents of the area to display their flags to pay special tribute to U. S. servicemen in Vietnam. It is part of a project of Ohio Kiwanis.

Man, 97, Dies After Being Struck By Rig

County's 1967 Traffic Toll
22 KILLED
This date in 1966—17 killed!
NO NEED FOR SPEED

SALEM — An elderly Salem man suffered fatal injuries Wednesday afternoon when he apparently stepped in front of a tractor - trailer at the busy intersection of State St. and Lincoln Ave.

Frank Hoffman, 97, of 518 S. Lincoln Ave. died at Central Clinic at 2:05 p. m. of severe shock and possible internal injuries after being hit 20 minutes earlier.

He was the first traffic fatality in Salem since 1965, police said. Mr. Hoffman became the 22nd traffic victim of the year in Columbiana County, compared with 17 at the same time in 1966.

Witnesses told police that Mr. Hoffman walked down the street alongside the truck and then stepped in front of the truck as the traffic signal changed.

The trucker, James A. Williams of New Philadelphia, said he started to move forward as the light changed. Hearing a bump, he stopped his truck and discovered the victim on the ground. Williams was not held.

Services for Mr. Hoffman, who had resided with his daughter, Mrs. Ben Barrett for 12 years, will be held Saturday at St. Edward's Catholic Church in Youngstown. Burial will be there.

Blaze Levels Shanty In 1 Of 3 Calls Here

A shanty was destroyed by flames in one of three calls answered Wednesday by city firemen.

Firemen said the shanty owned by three youths and located at the rear of the property of Walter C. Wolfe of 2113 Michigan Ave. burned at 12:22 p.m.

The blaze scorched a nearby garage. A booster line was used.

Firemen were called to a vacant house at 128 E. 2nd St. at 7:59 p. m. after receiving a report the home was filled with smoke. Firemen said someone had set fire to some rags in the furnace, which did not have a flue pipe.

A grass fire off Jennings Ave. on the hillside near Highland Colony was extinguished at 10:18 p. m.

Suspensions Set For 7 Motorists

License suspensions were ordered for:

Edward R. Manning, 16, of 511 Pershing St., Salem, and Larry A. Davis, 16, of 2157 Southeast Blvd., Salem, both cited for speeding, and Diane Patrone, 17, New Waterford RD 1, stop sign violation, 25 days each; Donald L. Pyles, 17, Dewey Ave. Ext., East Liverpool, passing on right causing accident, 10 days.

Theodore F. Cassinger, 17, of 416 S. Broadway, Salem, speeding, 10 days; Walter F. Savage, 16, Columbiana, driving left of center causing accident, 5 days, and Lawrence W. Martin Jr., 17, Paris, Ohio, no muffler, Ohio Highway Patrol to hold license until vehicle is repaired.

Fined were Keith Crider, 15, Columbiana RD 2, no operator's license and no vehicle license, $25; Robert D. Tournay, 17, Burgettstown, Pa., speeding, $20, and Charles W. Hutton, 16, of 561 Louisiana Ave., Chester, W. Va., failure to stop in an assured clear distance, $10.

Murder Trial Is Set In Shooting Of Girl

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Mitchell Donald Godby's trial for first-degre murder in the shooting of 2-year-old girl is scheduled to start Sept. 18 in Butler County Common Pleas Court.

Jackie Lynn Fields, 2, was fatally wounded Jan. 15 in a shooting spree at her grandparents' home. Police say the shooting grew out of a fight between Godby's son and one of the Fields children. Godby, 40, Hamilton, also is charged with five counts of shooting to kill in the wounding of five other members of the girl's family.

There's Gold In Silver Certificates, Dollars, Too

By PHIL THOMAS
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There's gold in them thar silver certificates!

In silver dollars, too.

And even certain nickels are worth more than 5 cents.

Dealers are advertising their willingness to pay from 25 to 30 per cent over the face value of $1, $5 and $10 silver certificates.

When trading in silver dollars begins on the New York Mercantile Exchange Monday, the asking price for a 60-pound sack bulging with 1,000 uncirculated cartwheels is expected to be about $2,000.

And one dealer says he's collecting nickels minted from 1942 through 1945 because they contain enough silver and copper to make them worth more than 5 cents.

The law of supply and demand is responsible for the current ferment in silver.

Certain coins always have been worth more than their face value because they were scarce and because a collector was willing to pay a premium for them to fill holes in his collection.

Silver coins—dimes, quarters, halves, dollars—command a premium for their value to collectors rather than their metallic value.

This was because the U.S. Treasury for years had held the price of American silver at $1.29 an ounce, an artificial ceiling that ignored the law of supply and demand.

The formula worked, however, even though silver consumption in recent years began outstripping production. In 1966, silver consumption in the United States for industrial purposes amounted to a record of about 150 million ounces, an increase of 9½ per cent over 1965.

Despite this growing demand for silver by such industries as the photographic, sterling ware, electronics and electrical, the government held the price, but the pressure was getting heavy.

As the demand for silver continued to outstrip supply, the Treasury finally abandoned its $1.29 an ounce silver price in mid-July. The price of an ounce of silver since has soared as high as $1.82.

That's why dealers can afford to pay a premium.

Silver certificates can be exchanged for the metal at a rate of $1.29 an ounce. Every such dollar certificate brings a packet containing about 0.77 of an ounce of silver, which, if sold at the $1.82 market price, is worth about $1.40. If the dealer pays $1.30 for the silver certificate his profit is 10 cents on a dollar.

MORE

Although melting silver coins is prohibited by the federal government, some dealers say there is no ban on the melting of nickels.

Which is why the "Jefferson" nickel minted from 1942 through 1945 is in demand. Nickels from this period contain 35 per cent silver, 56 per cent copper and 9 per cent manganese. The coins contain more silver than other five-cent pieces because nickel was scarce during World War II and the government reduced the nickel content of the coins.

Assuming a dealer paid $300 for a bag of 4,000 of the World have a face value of $200—and melted them down, he could, going by recent copper and silver prices, make a profit of about $100 a bag.

The 1,000-coin bags traded at the exchange will contain only War II nickels which would coins minted in large quantities between 1880 and 1923. The coins will be in two grades, circulated and uncirculated.

Trading will be allowed only two hours daily and the person who buys a bag of silver dollars must deposit his entire bid within 24 hours.

Some 856 million silver dollars have been struck by the government. About 332 million of these have been melted down by the government, about 1 million are used each year by jewelry manufacturers and many have been lost, leaving an estimated 480 million available for trading dealers say.

The government also is holding about 3 million uncirculated silver dollars because it has been unable to decide whether to melt them or circulate them.

Post Gets Report On Sandblasting, Other Activities

Sandblasting is complete with a few minor exeptions, members were informed when Wellsville American Legion Post 70 met Monday night.

Sam Maylone delivered the financial report and reported on the county council meeting at North Georgetown.

Reports also were received from Chaplain George Wilkins on visitations and Harry Excell on membership.

The post hayride has been rescheduled for Sept. 1. The annual picnic will be held Aug. 27 at James Lake.

A donation was sent to the Wellsville Jaycee band for its trip to the state fair at Columbus.

The post will meet with the Auxiliary this week, with a spaghetti dinner to follow the business session.

Excell announced the Curbstone Coaches will be revived, with Duan W. Gitschier president and Excell secretary.

Jerome Gitschier presided Monday night.

Plans Pushed For New Club

Plans for a Gavel Club will be initiated during a meeting of the Toastmasters Club Wednesday night at the Ohio Valley Gas Co. office here.

Charles Gorhan of Ambridge, district youth activities director, will explain steps required to organize the club.

It will be open to teen-age male students of East Liverpool, Wellsville, Beaver Local and Oak Glen High Schools. The schools will be contacted after the beginning of the 1967-68 term.

The local club is preparing for three events — tabletopics contest Sept. 13, evaluator contest Sept. 20 and "Old Timers" night Sept. 27.

At last night's session, S. Leslie Jones was toastmaster; Francis J. House, president, tabletopics; Donald Hancock, chief evaluator; Vincent Maola, speech 9; Ed Custer, speech 10, and James Buchanan, speech 5.

Jones received the bull-thrower award, and Buchanan the most improved speaker award.

Paynes Plan 'Open House' In Honor Of Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Payne of 718 Commerce St., Wellsville, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house reception Sunday from 6 until 8 p.m. at the Mt. Sinai Fire Baptized Holiness Church of Wellsville.

They were married Aug. 12, 1917, by the Rev. S. J. Brides in Wellsburg, W. Va.

Mr. Payne was born in Congo. He was employed for 44 years by the Pennsylvania Railroad as a car repairman and painter until his retirement Aug. 12, 1958. He and a sister are the only survivors of a family of eight children.

Mrs. Payne was the former Gabrilla Wise, a native of Culpepper, Va.

The Paynes are members of the Mt. Sinai Church, where Mr. Payne is a deacon and trustee and his wife is a member of the finance board.

They have two sons, James E. Payne of Coraopolis and George E. Payne of Sewickley, and two daughters, Mrs. Gabrilla Duncan of Coraopolis and Miss Gladys Payne of Wellsville.

There are seven grandchildren.

Deaths Rise To Seven In Alaska Flood

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — The brown flood waters of the Chena River receded today, but at a pace so slow that the city's 15,000 evacuees were not expected to begin returning to their damaged homes and businesses before Saturday. Only a tiny fraction of them carried flood insurance, officials said.

The bodies of four more victims were found Wednesday, disaster headquarters and state police reported, bringing Alaska's flood death total to seven. Two bodies were discovered in the city and two more in Tok, a river community on the Alaska Highway.

Police conducting a house-to-house search earlier reported three deaths including that of a young child.

The victims were not identified and the cause of death was not given.

About 95 per cent of Fairbanks' buildings were affected by the flood, but an insurance executive estimated just two per cent of the community's property owners had flood insurance. The situation prompted calls for immediate federal rehabilitation funds and low cost loans to businessmen and homeowners.

"It's much more than I expected it to be," said Creath Tooley, western regional director of the President's Office of Emergency Planning, who toured the city of 30,000 by boat and helicopter Wednesday. "You just don't expect to see a town inundated such as this."

Damage was placed at about $200 million.

Gov. Walter Hickel, calling for Fairbanks to be designated a federal disaster area, said he thought Saturday would be the earliest time residents could return to their homes—if rain holds off.

Cloudy skies settled above the city today and the Weather Bureau forecast a few light showers. "If those clouds drop more rain we could be right back in trouble," said Mayor H. A. Boucher.

The danger of uncontrolled fire, which had officials on edge Wednesday after five buildings burned in the downtown area, tapered off with n aodditional fires reported today.

The Chena, sent on a rampage by more than 5½ inches of rain during four days, was down about six inches from Tuesday's high point when up to nine feet of muddy water rushed into the business district.

At peak flow, Geological Survey engineers said, the river was pouring through Fairbanks at a rate of 15-billion gallons a day—enough to supply the city of New York with water for about two weeks.

Police, conducting a house-to-house check, reported three confirmed deaths, including that of a young child. The dead were not identified and there was no official word as to whether they drowned or died from other causes.

Hickel, with Tooley at his side, told newsman that state and local governments were nearing the limits of their financial ability to cope with the disaster.

"I would think," Hickel said, "that under the circumstances it would be only natural for federal aid to be forthcoming."

Hickel and Boucher both stressed the need for a quick and massive effort to complete reconstruction and repair before the arrival of winter weather, in which temperatures of 60 below zero have been recorded here.

Hickel said he had given some consideration to a special session of the legislature to meet problems of the disaster, but he said no decision had been made as yet.

"If we find it necessary to call the legislature into special session to meet the situation here, we wouldn't hesitate to call one," Hickel said.

A-67, deep in debt from higher than expected construction costs and lagging attendance, was virtually covered by flood waters. Only a few high spots on the 42-acre exposition grounds escaped the torrents of dirty water.

New Procedure Erases Wait For Social Security Checks

More than 23 million social security beneficiaries who normally find their monthly checks in their post box on the 3rd of each month no longer will have to wait until the next day when the 3rd falls on a holiday or Sunday.

Robert Harris, manager of the district security office here, says that starting with the upcoming Labor Day weekend social security checks will be dated in advance and delivered to the post office early when the 3rd falls on a Sunday as it does in September of this year, or on a holiday.

"Most beneficiaries," he said, "will receive their social security benefit payments for the month of August by Saturday, Sept. 2, rather than Tuesday, Sept. 5, as they would have under the old procedure."

Social Security checks are issued on the 3rd of the month under an arrangement to stagger the issuance of monthly checks from various federal agencies, so that post offices, the treasury and banks will not be overburdened at any one time of the month.

Explaining the reason for the change, Harris said, "Since these monthly checks are the only source of income for many beneficiaries, even a few days' delay can be serious, and this new procedure will eliminate any possible delay."

The new procedure will be used for the second time in December when the 3rd again falls on a Sunday.

Paynes Plan 'Open House' In Honor Of Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Payne of 718 Commerce St., Wellsville, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary with an open house reception Sunday from 6 until 8 p.m. at the Mt. Sinai Fire Baptized Holiness Church of Wellsville.

They were married Aug. 12, 1917, by the Rev. S. J. Brides in Wellsburg, W. Va.

Mr. Payne was born in Congo. He was employed for 44 years by the Pennsylvania Railroad as a car repairman and painter until his retirement Aug. 12, 1958. He and a sister are the only survivors of a family of eight children.

Mrs. Payne was the former Gabrilla Wise, a native of Culpepper, Va.

The Paynes are members of the Mt. Sinai Church, where Mr. Payne is a deacon and trustee and his wife is a member of the finance board.

They have two sons, James E. Payne of Coraopolis and George E. Payne of Sewickley, and two daughters, Mrs. Gabrilla Duncan of Coraopolis and Miss Gladys Payne of Wellsville.

There are seven grandchildren.

Deaths Rise To Seven In Alaska Flood

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — The brown flood waters of the Chena River receded today, but at a pace so slow that the city's 15,000 evacuees were not expected to begin returning to their damaged homes and businesses before Saturday. Only a tiny fraction of them carried flood insurance, officials said.

The bodies of four more victims were found Wednesday, disaster headquarters and state police reported, bringing Alaska's flood death total to seven. Two bodies were discovered in the city and two more in Tok, a river community on the Alaska Highway.

Police conducting a house-to-house search earlier reported three deaths including that of a young child.

The victims were not identified and the cause of death was not given.

About 95 per cent of Fairbanks' buildings were affected by the flood, but an insurance executive estimated just two per cent of the community's property owners had flood insurance. The situation prompted calls for immediate federal rehabilitation funds and low cost loans to businessmen and homeowners.

"It's much more than I expected it to be," said Creath Tooley, western regional director of the President's Office of Emergency Planning, who toured the city of 30,000 by boat and helicopter Wednesday. "You just don't expect to see a town inundated such as this."

Damage was placed at about $200 million.

Gov. Walter Hickel, calling for Fairbanks to be designated a federal disaster area, said he thought Saturday would be the earliest time residents could return to their homes—if rain holds off.

Cloudy skies settled above the city today and the Weather Bureau forecast a few light showers. "If those clouds drop more rain we could be right back in trouble," said Mayor H. A. Boucher.

The danger of uncontrolled fire, which had officials on edge Wednesday after five buildings burned in the downtown area, tapered off with n aodditional fires reported today.

The Chena, sent on a rampage by more than 5½ inches of rain during four days, was down about six inches from Tuesday's high point when up to nine feet of muddy water rushed into the business district.

At peak flow, Geological Survey engineers said, the river was pouring through Fairbanks at a rate of 15-billion gallons a day—enough to supply the city of New York with water for about two weeks.

Police, conducting a house-to-house check, reported three confirmed deaths, including that of a young child. The dead were not identified and there was no official word as to whether they drowned or died from other causes.

Hickel, with Tooley at his side, told newsmen that state and local governments were nearing the limits of their financial ability to cope with the disaster.

"I would think," Hickel said, "that under the circumstances it would be only natural for federal aid to be forthcoming."

Hickel and Boucher both stressed the need for a quick and massive effort to complete reconstruction and repair before the arrival of winter weather, in which temperatures of 60 below zero have been recorded here.

Hickel said he had given some consideration to a special session of the legislature to meet problems of the disaster, but he said no decision had been made as yet.

"If we find it necessary to call the legislature into special session to meet the situation here, we wouldn't hesitate to call one," Hickel said.

A-67, deep in debt from higher than expected construction costs and lagging attendance, was virtually covered by flood waters. Only a few high spots on the 42-acre exposition grounds escaped the torrents of dirty water.

Out Of The Air

What It's Like Doing TV Comedy

What's it like doing a comedy show again on TV?

(I have an odd reaction when an author or speaker starts out with a rhetorical question: "In the market for a new car?" or "Having trouble paying bills?" I always feel like jumping up and saying "Who ASKED you? We were just sitting here minding our own business and we weren't talking about cars or bills at all. Get outta here!")

BUT SERIOUSLY, folks, people are asking me what it feels like to produce a TV comedy hour again, even if you personally hadn't given the matter much thought.

Well, first of all, it's fun, but then it was in the old days, too. Secondly, it pays more now. Just as you and I have to pay more today for an automobile or a quart of milk, so sponsors and networks have to pay more for television shows.

The price of a 60-minute variety program currently is in the neighborhood of $150,000. I'm not saying all of them are worth it.

As regards comedy, I have the impression that, perhaps because the real article is in short supply, viewers and critics are somewhat more appreciative than in former times. Our mail, reviews and ratings have combined to express not only conventional appreciation but gratitude that the program even existed.

I HAVE the impression that the climate of freedom in TV has improved, too. In the last five years our planet has undergone a series of startling social alterations. Every significant area of human concern has felt the impact of change.

Virtually everything is now being discussed, and television is providing a forum for the discussion.

So pronounced is the trend, in fact, that today there is a vigorous TV demand for open debate on important ideas. At various levels of competence we find David Susskind, William F. Buckley and others openly marketing controversy.

I do not proceed from this evidence to argue that practically anything goes for today's television humorist, although he does enjoy somewhat more latitude than before.

THE SMOTHERS Brothers, for example, have touched upon a number of areas that in times past would have made their employers uncomfortable. And on the Johnny Carson and Joey Bishop programs one now occasionally hears jokes about subject matter once dealt with only in record albums or night clubs of the new type.

On my own show we are doing no more satire or social commentary than in the old days but, whereas once our staff might now and then become bogged down in interminable exchanges of memos with censors, now there is very little objection to our material.

Television is pretty tame stuff for the most part, of course; the medium never will be the ideal outlet for bitter social critics of the Lenny Bruce-Mort Sahl-Dick Gregory school.

And most of my humor is not satire anyway, the bulk of it being painted in big, broad strokes in what is identified within the funny business as comedy of the Sid Caesar-Steve Allen genre.

But for the increase in freedom that has occurred, networks are to be congratulated and comedians and viewers have reason to be grateful.

LASTLY, doing a comedy program again gives me the pleasurable opportunity to introduce new faces and talents. In the past quite a few entertainers now prominent received their first or most significant TV exposure on my programs (Andy Williams, Steve Lawrence, Eydie Gorme, Lou Rawls, Don Knotts, Bill Dana, Don Adams, Mort Sahl, Mike Nichols and Elaine May and others, too numerous and humorous to mention).

This season our all-star team has included — along with such gifted comedy performers as your friend and mine, Jayne Meadows, Louie Nye, Dayton Allen and Tim Conway— such relatively new faces as John Byner, Ruth Buzzi and Ron Carey.

These three in particular, I predict, will become in due course as well appreciated as the others.

Jury's Deliberations Due In Murder Trial

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — A common pleas court jury here is expected to begin deliberations today in the first-degree murder trial of Ronald L. Browning, 21, Ironton, accused in the jailbreak slaying last Dec. 2 of Police Chief W. E. Markel.

LITTLE REFUGEE at Pallumur, Turkey, finds little to smile about after earthquakes hit her area recently. Thousands of persons in that nation refused to return to their homes after the series of quakes, afraid of being trapped or buried in case the earth trembled again. Instead, they preferred to live in the open, even if their homes were still intact.

3 Pennsylvania Youths Boating To New Orleans

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Traffic on the broad Ohio River today includes three young boys trying to shake the summer doldrums with a trip through Huck Finn country.

But Huck Finn didn't have an outboard motor like Timothy Reese, 19; Lester Fenton, 19, and Thomas Speicher, 18, all of North East outside Erie.

The trio left Franklin Monday in their 16-foot outboard, headed for New Orleans.

"We had to paddle part of the way over the shoals" in the Allegheny, said Reese. But all three said the trip was uneventful.

They're planning to camp out and cook most of their own food on the trip. The journey back will probably be by barge, they said.

$206,364 Spent On Food Stamps

A total of $206,364 was spent in the federal food stamp program for Columbiana, Mahoning and Trumbull counties in July, the Youngstown office of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Consumer and Marketing Service reports.

A total of 11,860 persons from 3,540 low - income households redeemed the stamps at the 470 area retail food stores authorized to accept the stamps for eligible food items.

Under the program, the federal government contributed $69,922 in bonus or free federal food stamps, with participants spending 136,442.

The purpose of the federal food stamp program is to help low-income families supplement their food dollars with enough food purchasing power to obtain a balanced diet.

The department said that any low-income family may be eligible to purchase the stamps and that it is not necessary to be a welfare recipient to do so. It urged that those interested in receiving the stamps contact their local county welfare department.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first practical method has been found for artificially reproducing the intoxicating ingredients of marijuana, paving the way for understanding how marijuana smoke acts on the body.

Scientists from this country and Israel reported their discovery in separate communications to the Journal of The American Chemical Society. The American research team is headed by Dr. Herchel Smith of Wyeth Laboratories, Inc., of Philadelphia, while Dr. Raphael Mechoulam of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem was among the researchers in Israel.

The scientists are particularly interested in the effects of marijuana smoke on the brain and in dangerous side effects.

WASHINGTON (AP)—There's an atmosphere of "compliance rather than defiance" in the Southern schools this year regarding school desegregation laws, says an official of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Peter Libassi, head of the department's civil rights office, said in an interview Wednesday that a year ago many Southern school officials doubted the legality of the federal desegregation guidelines. Now, he said, they are developing their own plans for eliminating separate school systems for whites and Negroes.

Libassi says a big reason for the changed attitude is a recent U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruling that the guidelines are constitutional. The U.S. Supreme Court declined to review the decision.

Rights Officials Wait A&P's Move On Jobs Promise

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Civil rights officials are waiting for the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. to deliver on a promise to hire more Negroes in the grocery chain's Pittsburgh district.

The Rev. C. E. McFadden of the Pittsburgh NAACP signed an agreement with the A&P Wednesday but said, "We want to know if we can depend on what we are signing."

The grocer agreed to hire 200 Negroes for its 3,026-man force "over a reasonable period of time."

The Rev. Mr. McFadden, who said A&P's work force would be 10 per cent Negro if the 200 are hired, defined a reasonable period of time as eight to 12 months.

Tractor Kills Boy, 5

Future Activities Discussed For Band, Orchestra Group

Future activities were outlined during the meeting of the East Liverpool High School Band and Orchestra Mothers Tuesday night at Memorial Auditorium.

Mrs. Norris Koerber, president, presided.

A bake sale is scheduled for Sept. 23 at the Crook Furniture Co., with Mrs. Howard Merriman in charge. Box lunches will be prepared at the MA and orders will be taken by students a week in advance. Mrs. Merriman reported $168 was realized from the recent rummage sale.

She announced that all past band mothers who send their $1 contribution to her by Sept. 1 will have their names published in the football programs. The donation may be made in check form and sent to Mrs. Koerber at Boyd St., Dixonville, MC 22. Mrs. Robert Hammond is in charge of the list of names for the programs.

Treats during half-time at the football games were discussed and it was decided that each student give 50 cents to Donald E. Adams, director, to cover the expense. Potato chips and soft drinks will be served, with hot chocolate on cold nights. Mrs. Cornelius Tarver volunteered to be in charge of the project.

Adams announced that the band will perform at Kennywood Park, Pittsburgh, Saturday, with members wearing their winter uniforms. They are to be at the MA at 11 a.m., with the buses leaving at noon. The band is also scheduled to perform at Cedar Point Aug. 26 in summer uniforms. Adams also announced that a representative for the magazine sale will be here soon.

The new signal batons have arrived, the director said, and the alto horns are expected to be delivered soon.

The drummers will discuss plans for a car wash when they meet next week.

What It's Like Doing TV Comedy

What's it like doing a comedy show again on TV?

(I have an odd reaction when an author or speaker starts out with a rhetorical question: "In the market for a new car?" or "Having trouble paying bills?" I always feel like jumping up and saying "Who ASKED you? We were just sitting here minding our own business and we weren't talking about cars or bills at all. Get outta here!")

BUT SERIOUSLY, folks, people are asking me what it feels like to produce a TV comedy hour again, even if you personally hadn't given the matter much thought.

Well, first of all, it's fun, but then it was in the old days, too. Secondly, it pays more now. Just as you and I have to pay more today for an automobile or a quart of milk, so sponsors and networks have to pay more for television shows.

The price of a 60-minute variety program currently is in the neighborhood of $150,000. I'm not saying all of them are worth it.

As regards comedy, I have the impression that, perhaps because the real article is in short supply, viewers and critics are somewhat more appreciative than in former times. Our mail, reviews and ratings have combined to express not only conventional appreciation but gratitude that the program even existed.

I HAVE the impression that the climate of freedom in TV has improved, too. In the last five years our planet has undergone a series of startling social alterations. Every significant area of human concern has felt the impact of change.

Virtually everything is now being discussed, and television is providing a forum for the discussion.

So pronounced is the trend, in fact, that today there is a vigorous TV demand for open debate on important ideas. At various levels of competence we find David Susskind, William F. Buckley and others openly marketing controversy.

I do not proceed from this evidence to argue that practically anything goes for today's television humorist, although he does enjoy somewhat more latitude than before.

THE SMOTHERS Brothers, for example, have touched upon a number of areas that in times past would have made their employers uncomfortable. And on the Johnny Carson and Joey Bishop programs one now occasionally hears jokes about subject matter once dealt with only in record albums or night clubs of the new type.

On my own show we are doing no more satire or social commentary than in the old days but, whereas once our staff might now and then become bogged down in interminable exchanges of memos with censors, now there is very little objection to our material.

Television is pretty tame stuff for the most part, of course; the medium never will be the ideal outlet for bitter social critics of the Lenny Bruce-Mort Sahl-Dick Gregory school.

And most of my humor is not satire anyway, the bulk of it being painted in big, broad strokes in what is identified within the funny business as comedy of the Sid Caesar-Steve Allen genre.

But for the increase in freedom that has occurred, networks are to be congratulated and comedians and viewers have reason to be grateful.

LASTLY, doing a comedy program again gives me the pleasurable opportunity to introduce new faces and talents. In the past quite a few entertainers now prominent received their first or most significant TV exposure on my programs (Andy Williams, Steve Lawrence, Eydie Gorme, Lou Rawls, Don Knotts, Bill Dana, Don Adams, Mort Sahl, Mike Nichols and Elaine May and others, too numerous and humorous to mention).

This season our all-star team has included — along with such gifted comedy performers as your friend and mine, Jayne Meadows, Louie Nye, Dayton Allen and Tim Conway— such relatively new faces as John Byner, Ruth Buzzi and Ron Carey.

These three in particular, I predict, will become in due course as well appreciated as the others.

Jury's Deliberations Due In Murder Trial

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — A common pleas court jury here is expected to begin deliberations today in the first-degree murder trial of Ronald L. Browning, 21, Ironton, accused in the jailbreak slaying last Dec. 2 of Police Chief W. E. Markel.

LITTLE REFUGEE at Pallumur, Turkey, finds little to smile about after earthquakes hit her area recently. Thousands of persons in that nation refused to return to their homes after the series of quakes, afraid of being trapped or buried in case the earth trembled again. Instead, they preferred to live in the open, even if their homes were still intact.

3 Pennsylvania Youths Boating To New Orleans

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Traffic on the broad Ohio River today includes three young boys trying to shake the summer doldrums with a trip through Huck Finn country.

But Huck Finn didn't have an outboard motor like Timothy Reese, 19; Lester Fenton, 19, and Thomas Speicher, 18, all of North East outside Erie.

The trio left Franklin Monday in their 16-foot outboard, headed for New Orleans.

"We had to paddle part of the way over the shoals" in the Allegheny, said Reese. But all three said the trip was uneventful.

They're planning to camp out and cook most of their own food on the trip. The journey back will probably be by barge, they said.

$206,364 Spent On Food Stamps

A total of $206,364 was spent in the federal food stamp program for Columbiana, Mahoning and Trumbull counties in July, the Youngstown office of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Consumer and Marketing Service reports.

A total of 11,860 persons from 3,540 low - income households redeemed the stamps at the 470 area retail food stores authorized to accept the stamps for eligible food items.

Under the program, the federal government contributed $69,922 in bonus or free federal food stamps, with participants spending 136,442.

The purpose of the federal food stamp program is to help low-income families supplement their food dollars with enough food purchasing power to obtain a balanced diet.

The department said that any low-income family may be eligible to purchase the stamps and that it is not necessary to be a welfare recipient to do so. It urged that those interested in receiving the stamps contact their local county welfare department.

Turks Hold Steak Fry For Quota Members

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Turk hosted a steak fry for 30 members and guests of the Quota Club Tuesday night at Turkana Farms.

Business was conducted by Mrs. Doris Locke, president.

Miss Selma Ladzinske, chairman, gave a resume of the fall conference of District 6 when the local club will serve as hostess unit at the Ft. Steuben Hotel in Steubenville. Attending the sessions Sept. 22-24 will be representatives of 16 Ohio clubs.

The opening fall session will be a luncheon meeting Sept. 12 at the Travelers Hotel.

Dividend Declared

PITTSBURGH — The National Steel Corp. during a meeting of its Board of Directors Wednesday declared a dividend of 62½ cents per share for the third quarter of 1967. The dividend will be payable Sept. 13 to stockholders of record Aug. 30.

Hookstown Grange Fair Set To Open

Plans are being completed by the fair board for the 21st annual Hookstown Grange Fair Aug. 23-26 at Hookstown.

Refreshment stands will be operated by the Florence United Presbyterian Church, the Hanover Township - Washington County volunteer fire department, the Gleaners Class of the Raccoon United Presbyterian Church at Aliquippa, the Band Boosters Club of Southern Beaver County Joint Schools, the Hot Stove Baseball League, and the Cub Scout Troop sponsored by the Mill Creek United Presbyterian Church.

The Mill Creek church will serve home-cooked meals in the dining room at 5 p.m. daily during the fair and at noon Aug. 26 following the horse-pulling contest.

The Ram's Athletic Association of South Side High School will operate a novelty booth and souvenir stand. Refreshments will be available at a stand manned by the Junior Grange.

The Shippingport volunteer fire department will direct parking, while the South Side volunteer fire department at Hookstown will provide fire protecship. Auxiliary Police will patrol the fairgrounds.

Rides will be operated by Frankie's Amusements of Washington.

The 4-H exhibits will be on display, and will be judged on the quality of the exhibit, the educational value, the display, the originality, and the number of exhibits. Judging will take place Wednesday afternoon on indoor exhibits, and Aug. 24 a.m. on livestock. Horses will be judged on the afternoon of Aug. 25. The judges will be provided by the Beaver County Agricultural Extension office.

The general committee said all entries are welcomed. The deadline for indoor exhibits is 10 a.m. Wednesday, livestock deadline, 3 p.m. Wednesday, and horses, also at 3 p.m.

Two Names Filed For Ballot Spots

Central committees in two northern Columbiana County Communities have filed replacements for candidates who have withdrawn their names from the Nov. 7 general election.

Keith M. Krepps will run for council-at-large at Salem on the Democratic ticket, replacing Walter W. Sweeney.

In Columbiana, Kenneth H. Rowland will replace Harry Kacenski as the Democratic candidate for village clerk.

Caryl G. Hammer will bid for a four-year term on the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs at Columbiana, replacing Howard Gustafson, also on the Democratic slate.

Friday at 4 p.m. is the last day candidates may withdraw their names from the November election,, according to Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of the board of elections.

51 Attend Steak Fry For County Realtors

COLUMBIANA — Fifty - one attended the Columbiana County Board of Realtors' annual steak fry Wednesday evening at Valley Golf Course here.

C. W. Burson of Canton, vice president of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards, was the speaker. Adin Kauffman of Columbiana, county board president, introduced George Bright and Harvey Rickert, presidents of the East Liverpool and Youngstown boards, respectively. They in turn introduced members of their boards.

and other programs under the Office of Economic Opportunity.

The CAC efforts would be directed in part toward lower income groups, but the center would serve all elements of the communities throughout the county.

Some of the procedures and budget changes which the CAC project would entail were mapped out by Daniel O'Laughlin, analyst from the OEO offices at Chicago.

Further details of the Jaycee-CAC project were to be developed tonight at a meeting of CAC officials and Jaycees with Mrs. Helen Welch of Wellsville, president of the CAC.

Darrah explained the Jaycees are interested in providing a community center — either by building one or leasing a structure such as the Memorial Auditorium.

He said the group did not want to be directly responsible for operating the center afterwards because of the nature of the young men's organization which would restrict a continuity. New projects are undertaken periodically, he said.

Darrah said the group recognizes the need also for communitywide support for the project, which would call for considerable money for either a new building or remodeling a present structure.

O'Laughlin referred to the need for CAC to extend its involvement in community services and spoke of centers which had been established elsewhere.

Th CAC board discussed the status of such a center in East Liverpool, but agreed since the major parts of the population which could be served by CAC programs are in the southern part of the county, the center would best be located there.

O'Laughlin said the center could provide offices or rooms for the county mental health clinic, VISTA aides, legal aid services, and Youth Council in addition to broader community programs such as youth dances, senior citizen meetings and other events.

The proposal calls for Miss Catherine Franzetta, CAC director, to continue administration of various other programs from the Lisbon office.

The need for a center to serve young people was underscored by Patrolman Orin Smith of East Liverpool. Harold West, East Liverpool attendance officer and co-organizer of the Youth Council, also emphasized the need.

Mrs. Welch commented on the opportunities for the community in general for such a project.

Donald Hepp, county welfare director, and Mrs. Leo Jenkins of Rogers questioned the general availability of a center in East Liverpool for all countians. Mrs. Welch and O'Laughlin assured them the center would offer services to the whole county.

Darrah said there are three or four buildings which could be put to use shortly. O'Laughlin said it is hoped the programs could be launched some time during the fall.

The East Liverpool project, CAC members pointed out, would be in the nature of a pilot operation, with other centers planned should the need be shown and money be made available.

The residents also appealed to the Hancock County commissioners and Sheriff Joe Rodak. The officials noted that the only feasible solution was to meet with Sawyers because "he was the only official in the SRC with authority to allocate money for specific roads."

Eruption Of Mt. Etna Follows Earth Shocks

MESSINA, Sicily (AP) — Mt. Etna burst into a new eruption today 24 hours after 37 earth shocks were registered in this nearby city which was destroyed in 1908 by an earthquake.

Molten rock was fired hundreds of feet into the air in the new eruption. Lava began pouring from a vent on the volcano's northeast slope where there have been frequent eruptions during the past two years.

Driver Cited After Mishap

Three accidents Wednesday caused damage to six vehicles and resulted in the arrest of a teen-age driver. Two received minor injuries.

About 11 a.m. yesterday a car driven by Donald L. Board, 16, of 1104 Riverview St. struck the rear of a parked auto owned by Frank Thompson of 1414 Center St., Wellsville.

The accident occurred on Pennsylvania Ave., near the intersection of Palissey St.

Board was charged with reckless driving and is to appear in Juvenile Court at Lisbon Tuesday at 1 p.m.

Shortly after 2 p.m. two cars, one halted for a traffic light, were involved in a collision.

An auto operated by Donna J. Ketchum, 38, of the Y. and O. Rd., was halted at the intersection of Walnut St. and Broadway when struck in the rear by a car driven by Arlen A. Flowers, 30, of McCoy Ave.

Flowers told police he turned around in the seat after a child stood up in the rear of the car and didn't notice the Ketchum auto had stopped.

Then, about 5:17 p.m., yesterday, another rear-end collision occurred on the Northeast Freeway ramp.

A car operated by Jacqueline W. Barborak, 22, of 1161 Maple Ave., Wellsville was stopped at the intersection of the ramp with W. 8th St. when struck from behind by a car driven by Dorothy Raney, 43, of 1254 Grandview Ave. No arrests were made.

Stella R. Long of 1205 Center St., Wellsville and Ann Long of 1107 White St., Wellsville, were treated and released at City Hospital. Stella Long reported a back muscle was strained and Ann Long was "nervous" as a result of the accident.

Fine Levied In Case Here

A city man, originally charged with drunken driving, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge in Municipal Court this morning.

Elmer Sylvester Call of 1230 Ceramic St. was fined $200 and costs on a charge of being in physical control of a vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff dismissed the drunk driving charge at the request of Assistant City Solicitor Richard Clark and read the new affidavit filed by Patrolman David Keith Mumaw.

Call was charged after an accident last Friday when his car left Dresden Ave. and struck a taxicab parked on property owned by the cab company and the Lynn Ambulance Co.

He had posted $507.50 bond.

Call was represented by Atty. George Aronson.

In other actions, Judge Chertoff continued until Sept. 6 the case of John Hilditch of S. Surry Ln., charged Aug. 7 with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Patrolmen L. E. Richard and James Buckley filed the charge after finding Hilditch in the Pleasant Height Laundramat on Lisbon St. with two boys, 15 and 17.

Chertoff was informed Hilditch is attempting to enlist in the Navy.

The case of Charles V. Barnes of 1651 Park Ave., was continued indefinitely. He is charged by the Ohio Highway Patrol with improper passing and was to have appeared this morning However, the court learned Barnes is presently in the service and could not be present today.

Franklin Edison Nau of 808 Lexington Ave., Youngstown, forfeited $32.50 bond on a speeding charge filed by the patrol.

William James McFarland of Salineville RD 1 paid $10 and costs on a speeding charge filed by city police.

Arrested at the same time was Gardenia K. Wilcox of 18th St. Heights, Wellsville, who also paid $10 and costs.

Both drivers were charged with doing 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone.

Auto Damaged Here In Unusual Accident

Although there was no collision, a city car was damaged as another vehicle passed it early today.

The incident ocurred at 3rd and Market Sts. about 1:06.

A car driven by Robert J. Haney, 49, of Hoffman Acres started to pass another driven by David G. Bentley, 33, of 2102 Chester Ave., Wellsville.

As Haney pulled around the Bentley auto, police said, the bottom portion of the car's air cleaner came loose, bounced onto the wheels and was thrown into the front of Bentley's car, puncturing the right front tire and denting the right front fender.

No charges were filed and no one was injured.

kin Resolution as a vaguely worded grant of broad powers.

Bartlett said it could be read as congressional authorization for almost any step in the Vietnam area, including an invasion of Communist China "to prevent further aggression."

On the Senate floor, Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., said he was worried about published hints of a possible invasion of North Vietnam.

"This step is where I get off," said Yarborough, who has not criticized administration policy. "Any land invasion of North Vietnam would be in my opinion an utterly indefensible step. It would be escalation gone mad."

Chairman Earle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told the Senate preparedness subcommittee that U.S. aims in Vietnam do not include the conquest of the North.

"Moreover, an expansion of the war—geographically or in number of participants—is considered contrary to United States interest," Gen. Wheeler said. President Johnson recently approved addition of 45,000 to 50,000 men to U.S. troop strength in Vietnam by next year.

Wheeler said U.S. bombing of the Communist North "is achieving its objectives and is saving American and allied lives in South Vietnam."

Johnson cracked back Wednesday at one criticism by some of his Vietnam policy foes. He declared his confidence in the effort to hold free elections in South Vietnam and said "this effort ought to be welcomed and encouraged."

Some critics have attacked the way the ruling South Vietnamese military has administered the elections.

Johnson said the military leaders have pledged to support the outcome of the elections and added: "I take that pledge most seriously." He spoke at a ceremony honoring five U.S. government employes for service in Vietnam.

Halt Bombing Of North, 4 Bishops Urge

By The Associated Press

Four Roman Catholic bishops have urged that the United States abandon its bombing of North Vietnam and name a time and a place for peace negotiations with all parties including the Viet Cong.

The appeal, which endorsed the national Negotiation Now!, campaign also called for support of internationally supervised free elections in South Vietnam, and reaffirmation of a U.S. offer of a billion-dollar economic development program through the United Nations.

Announcing their support for the program Wednesday were the Most Rev. Paul J. Hallinan, archbishop of Atlanta, Ga.; the Most Rev. John J. Dougherty, president of Seton Hall University, South Orange, N.J.; the Most Rev. Victor J. Reed, bishop of the Oklahoma City-Tulsa, Okla. Diocese, and the Most Rev. James P. Shannon, auxiliary bishop of St. Paul Minn.

There was no comment from the White House on the bishops' statement.

NFO Warns Of Boycott Over Prices

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The militant National Farmers Organization has given the nation's food processors an ultimatum: Increase prices for farm products or face an all-out market boycott by farmers that could "shut down the agricultural plant of America."

More than 35,000 NFO members shouted their approval of the plan and adopted the slogan,, "No prices, no production," at a meeting Wednesday.

No deadline for the desired price boosts was set, but NFO President Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., indicated that the board of directors will not hesitate to order the all-commodity boycott if market conditions fail to improve.

"The NFO is serving notice that farmers can no longer accept the low farm prices we are receiving," he said.

"Every processor has some time to decide whether he wants to pay the prices and sign the purchase contracts or push the American farmer into waging the economic battle we are willing to fight."

NFO members also authorized the directors to order holding actions of three to four days on milk plus regional market boycotts on livestock and to establish an NFO "grain bank" in hopes of putting a "floor" under grain prices.

Friends may call at the Haugh Funeral Home in Wellsville Friday.

Tito's Talks In Mideast Seen Failure

CAIRO (AP) — Yugoslav President Tito wound up his swing through Arab lands today amid signs that his talks with Arab leaders failed to produce any peace formula for the Middle East.

The semiofficial Egyptian newspaper Al Ahram quoted Yugoslav sources as saying Tito will soon launch "far-reaching political activity" through personal contacts and through the United Nations. The activity reportedly will be aimed at breaking what Tito has termed the "period of diplomatic stagnation"—the time since the emergency U.N. General Assembly on the Middle East adjourned in July.

Al Ahram said Tito insisted that he had proposed no specific peace plans to Arab leaders, saying, "I came here merely to exchange views."

Informed sources said Tito had pleaded for a "realistic" approach to Middle East problems growing out of the June 5-10 war, and that this stand met especially stiff opposition in Syria

On the religious front, the proposal of the chief rabbi of the Israeli army to hold prayers on Moslem territory ignited fears among politicians that it would touch off widespread Moslem protests, both in Israel-occupied territory and outside it.

The rabbi, Brig. Shlomo Goren, announced he would pray atop the hill where the second Jewish temple once stood in Old Jerusalem. The spot now holds the mosques of the Dome of the Rock and El Aksa, both sacred to Islam.

The second Jewish temple was destroyed in 70 AD by Titus. All that remains of it is Jerusalem's Wailing Wall, which stands just outside the mosque area.

The International Red Cross said that the first Arab refugees from Jordanian soil now under Israeli control should start returning to their homes Friday.

Cows And Cattle At Fair To Set An All-Time High

LISBON — The 122nd annual Columbiana County Fair Aug. 23-27 will show a record 525 head of dairy cows and beef cattle. There were 348 last year.

Farm directors counted 302 entries in the open class Wednesday evening and Robert Lewis, county 4-H agent, announced there will be 223 head in the Junior Fair division. The juniors will enter 10 animals in the beef breeding class, 123 dairy cattle and 90 steers.

Poultry — 252 open, 30 junior, 282 (426).

There will be nine draft horses and three dairy goats on the grounds. Four subordinate granges will have displays.

Ben Weingart of Leetonia, president, said "Fair Special" bus tickets are on sale at the East Liverpool terminal. The Ohio Valley Charter Service of East Liverpool will run three specials to the fairgrounds Friday and Saturday.

The grounds are in good shape directors said. The annual disinfecting of buildings and grounds is scheduled Friday under the supervision of Dr. Robert L. Jackson of Salem. This year, for the first time, all animals must be taken from the grounds and the barns and stalls cleaned completely before the spraying.

Mrs. Thelma Cope, secretary, said the entry deadline for baked goods and needlework is Tuesday noon and the deadline for flowers, fruit, vegetables, grain, hay, seeds and culinary arts is 5 p. m. Tuesday.

She said exhibitors may save time by mailing entries now to 376 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, and she will have the tickets ready for them on entry day. Entries also may be left at the secretary's office on the grounds. It is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

All needlework must be in the arts and crafts building by 5 p.m. Tuesday and baked goods must be there by 9 a.m. Wednesday, Mrs. Cope said.

King Says Race Conflict Nears Vital Crossroads

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Racial conflict in America is moving toward a critical crossroads of new gains for Negroes—or violent insurrection, in the view of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., advocate of nonviolent tactics.

King considers his plan for mass civil disobedience a last resort.

"This is something like a last plea to the nation to respond to nonviolence," he said in an interview. He said it quietly, sitting in the pastor's study at his Ebenezer Baptist Church.

"We can't continue to live like this," King said. The struggle has reached the point, he went on, that convinces him there must be some quick economic gains for Negroes.

of constructive action, this bitterness," King said. "And if there is not provided a channel of constructive action, this bitterness will lead to desperation, riots and social disruption."

If his mass civil disobedience campaign—involving boycotts, sit-ins at factories and camping in Washington—results in repressive steps by the government and by whites, then the violence "will become planned insurrection," King predicted.

King said he was motivated to announce the campaign this week by the growing violent temper of many Negroes. Asked if his new move was aimed at countering support by Black Power spokesmen, King replied that he was not singling out Black Power.

"I'm just dealing with the whole violent development," he said.

If his strategy fails, King said, "I would say to the nation, I've done my best." He said he knew of nothing else to try.

King had finished a speech to delegates to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference of which he is president.

Hookstown Grange Fair Set To Open

Refreshment stands will be operated by the Florence United Presbyterian Church, the Hanover Township - Washington County volunteer fire department, the Gleaners Class of the Raccoon United Presbyterian Church at Aliquippa, the Band Boosters Club of Southern Beaver County Joint Schools, the Hot Stove Baseball League, and the Cub Scout Troop sponsored by the Mill Creek United Presbyterian Church.

The Mill Creek church will serve home-cooked meals in the dining room at 5 p.m. daily during the fair and at noon Aug. 26 following the horse-pulling contest.

The Ram's Athletic Association of South Side High School will operate a novelty booth and souvenir stand. Refreshments will be available at a stand manned by the Junior Grange.

The Shippingport volunteer fire department will direct parking, while the South Side volunteer fire department at Hookstown will provide fire protecship. Auxiliary Police will patrol the fairgrounds.

Rides will be operated by Frankie's Amusements of Washington.

The 4-H exhibits will be on display, and will be judged on the quality of the exhibit, the educational value, the display, the originality, and the number of exhibits. Judging will take place Wednesday afternoon on indoor exhibits, and Aug. 24 a.m. on livestock. Horses will be judged on the afternoon of Aug. 25. The judges will be provided by the Beaver County Agricultural Extension office.

The general committee said all entries are welcomed. The deadline for indoor exhibits is 10 a.m. Wednesday, livestock deadline, 3 p.m. Wednesday, and horses, also at 3 p.m.

Further details of the Jaycee-CAC project were to be developed tonight at a meeting of CAC officials and Jaycees with Mrs. Helen Welch of Wellsville, president of the CAC.

Darrah explained the Jaycees are interested in providing a community center — either by building one or leasing a structure such as the Memorial Auditorium.

He said the group did not want to be directly responsible for operating the center afterwards because of the nature of the young men's organization which would restrict a continuity. New projects are undertaken periodically, he said.

Darrah said the group recognizes the need also for communitywide support for the project, which would call for considerable money for either a new building or remodeling a present structure.

O'Laughlin referred to the need for CAC to extend its involvement in community services and spoke of centers which had been established elsewhere.

Th CAC board discussed the status of such a center in East Liverpool, but agreed since the major parts of the population which could be served by CAC programs are in the southern part of the county, the center would best be located there.

O'Laughlin said the center could provide offices or rooms for the county mental health clinic, VISTA aides, legal aid services, and Youth Council in addition to broader community programs such as youth dances, senior citizen meetings and other events.

The proposal calls for Miss Catherine Franzetta, CAC director, to continue administration of various other programs from the Lisbon office.

The need for a center to serve young people was underscored by Patrolman Orin Smith of East Liverpool. Harold West, East Liverpool attendance officer and co-organizer of the Youth Council, also emphasized the need.

Mrs. Welch commented on the opportunities for the community in general for such a project.

Donald Hepp, county welfare director, and Mrs. Leo Jenkins of Rogers questioned the general availability of a center in East Liverpool for all countians. Mrs. Welch and O'Laughlin assured them the center would offer services to the whole county.

Darrah said there are three or four buildings which could be put to use shortly. O'Laughlin said it is hoped the programs could be launched some time during the fall.

The East Liverpool project, CAC members pointed out, would be in the nature of a pilot operation, with other centers planned should the need be shown and money be made available.

The residents also appealed to the Hancock County commissioners and Sheriff Joe Rodak. The officials noted that the only feasible solution was to meet with Sawyers because "he was the only official in the SRC with authority to allocate money for specific roads."

Eruption Of Mt. Etna Follows Earth Shocks

MESSINA, Sicily (AP) — Mt. Etna burst into a new eruption today 24 hours after 37 earth shocks were registered in this nearby city which was destroyed in 1908 by an earthquake.

Molten rock was fired hundreds of feet into the air in the new eruption. Lava began pouring from a vent on the volcano's northeast slope where there have been frequent eruptions during the past two years.

Driver Cited After Mishap

Three accidents Wednesday caused damage to six vehicles and resulted in the arrest of a teen-age driver. Two received minor injuries.

About 11 a.m. yesterday a car driven by Donald L. Board, 16, of 1104 Riverview St. struck the rear of a parked auto owned by Frank Thompson of 1414 Center St., Wellsville.

The accident occurred on Pennsylvania Ave., near the intersection of Palissey St.

Board was charged with reckless driving and is to appear in Juvenile Court at Lisbon Tuesday at 1 p.m.

Shortly after 2 p.m. two cars, one halted for a traffic light, were involved in a collision.

An auto operated by Donna J. Ketchum, 38, of the Y. and O. Rd., was halted at the intersection of Walnut St. and Broadway when struck in the rear by a car driven by Arlen A. Flowers, 30, of McCoy Ave.

Flowers told police he turned around in the seat after a child stood up in the rear of the car and didn't notice the Ketchum auto had stopped.

Then, about 5:17 p.m., yesterday, another rear-end collision occurred on the Northeast Freeway ramp.

A car operated by Jacqueline W. Barborak, 22, of 1161 Maple Ave., Wellsville was stopped at the intersection of the ramp with W. 8th St. when struck from behind by a car driven by Dorothy Raney, 43, of 1254 Grandview Ave. No arrests were made.

Stella R. Long of 1205 Center St., Wellsville and Ann Long of 1107 White St., Wellsville, were treated and released at City Hospital. Stella Long reported a back muscle was strained and Ann Long was "nervous" as a result of the accident.

Fine Levied In Case Here

A city man, originally charged with drunken driving, pleaded guilty to a reduced charge in Municipal Court this morning.

Elmer Sylvester Call of 1230 Ceramic St. was fined $200 and costs on a charge of being in physical control of a vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff dismissed the drunk driving charge at the request of Assistant City Solicitor Richard Clark and read the new affidavit filed by Patrolman David Keith Mumaw.

Call was charged after an accident last Friday when his car left Dresden Ave. and struck a taxicab parked on property owned by the cab company and the Lynn Ambulance Co.

He had posted $507.50 bond.

Call was represented by Atty. George Aronson.

In other actions, Judge Chertoff continued until Sept. 6 the case of John Hilditch of S. Surry Ln., charged Aug. 7 with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Patrolmen L. E. Richard and James Buckley filed the charge after finding Hilditch in the Pleasant Height Laundramat on Lisbon St. with two boys, 15 and 17.

Chertoff was informed Hilditch is attempting to enlist in the Navy.

The case of Charles V. Barnes of 1651 Park Ave., was continued indefinitely. He is charged by the Ohio Highway Patrol with improper passing and was to have appeared this morning However, the court learned Barnes is presently in the service and could not be present today.

Franklin Edison Nau of 808 Lexington Ave., Youngstown, forfeited $32.50 bond on a speeding charge filed by the patrol.

Arrested at the same time was Gardenia K. Wilcox of 18th St. Heights, Wellsville, who also paid $10 and costs.

Both drivers were charged with doing 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone.

Auto Damaged Here In Unusual Accident

Although there was no collision, a city car was damaged as another vehicle passed it early today.

The incident ocurred at 3rd and Market Sts. about 1:08.

A car driven by Robert J. Haney, 49, of Hoffman Acres started to pass another driven by David G. Bentley, 33, of 2102 Chester Ave., Wellsville.

As Haney pulled around the Bentley auto, police said, the bottom portion of the car's air cleaner came loose, bounced onto the wheels and was thrown into the front of Bentley's car, puncturing the right front tire and denting the right front fender.

No charges were filed and no one was injured.

kin Resolution as a vaguely worded grant of broad powers.

Bartlett said it could be read as congressional authorization for almost any step in the Vietnam area, including an invasion of Communist China "to prevent further aggression."

On the Senate floor, Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., said he was worried about published hints of a possible invasion of North Vietnam.

"This step is where I get off," said Yarborough, who has not criticized administration policy. "Any land invasion of North Vietnam would be in my opinion an utterly indefensible step. It would be escalation gone mad."

Chairman Earle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told the Senate preparedness subcommittee that U.S. aims in Vietnam do not include the conquest of the North.

"Moreover, an expansion of the war—geographically or in number of participants—is considered contrary to United States interest," Gen. Wheeler said. President Johnson recently approved addition of 45,000 to 50,000 men to U.S. troop strength in Vietnam by next year.

Wheeler said U.S. bombing of the Communist North "is achieving its objectives and is saving American and allied lives in South Vietnam."

Johnson cracked back Wednesday at one criticism by some of his Vietnam policy foes. He declared his confidence in the effort to hold free elections in South Vietnam and said "this effort ought to be welcomed and encouraged."

Some critics have attacked the way the ruling South Vietnamese military has administered the elections.

Johnson said the military leaders have pledged to support the outcome of the elections and added: "I take that pledge most seriously." He spoke at a ceremony honoring five U.S. government employes for service in Vietnam.

Halt Bombing Of North, 4 Bishops Urge

By The Associated Press

Four Roman Catholic bishops have urged that the United States abandon its bombing of North Vietnam and name a time and a place for peace negotiations with all parties including the Viet Cong.

The appeal, which endorsed the national Negotiation Now!, campaign also called for support of internationally supervised free elections in South Vietnam, and reaffirmation of a U.S. offer of a billion-dollar economic development program through the United Nations.

Announcing their support for the program Wednesday were the Most Rev. Paul J. Hallinan, archbishop of Atlanta, Ga.; the Most Rev. John J. Dougherty, president of Seton Hall University, South Orange, N.J.; the Most Rev. Victor J. Reed, bishop of the Oklahoma City-Tulsa, Okla. Diocese, and the Most Rev. James P. Shannon, auxiliary bishop of St. Paul Minn.

There was no comment from the White House on the bishops' statement.

NFO Warns Of Boycott Over Prices

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The militant National Farmers Organization has given the nation's food processors an ultimatum: Increase prices for farm products or face an all-out market boycott by farmers that could "shut down the agricultural plant of America."

More than 35,000 NFO members shouted their approval of the plan and adopted the slogan., "No prices, no production," at a meeting Wednesday.

No deadline for the desired price boosts was set, but NFO President Oren Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., indicated that the board of directors will not hesitate to order the all-commodity boycott if market conditions fail to improve.

"The NFO is serving notice that farmers can no longer accept the low farm prices we are receiving," he said.

"Every processor has some time to decide whether he wants to pay the prices and sign the purchase contracts or push the American farmer into waging the economic battle we are willing to fight."

NFO members also authorized the directors to order holding actions of three to four days on milk plus regional market boycotts on livestock and to establish an NFO "grain bank" in hopes of putting a "floor" under grain prices.

Friends may call at the Haugh Funeral Home in Wellsville Friday.

Tito's Talks In Mideast Seen Failure

CAIRO (AP) — Yugoslav President Tito wound up his swing through Arab lands today amid signs that his talks with Arab leaders failed to produce any peace formula for the Middle East.

The semiofficial Egyptian newspaper Al Ahram quoted Yugoslav sources as saying Tito will soon launch "far-reaching political activity" through personal contacts and through the United Nations. The activity reportedly will be aimed at breaking what Tito has termed the "period of diplomatic stagnation"—the time since the emergency U.N. General Assembly on the Middle East adjourned in July.

Al Ahram said Tito insisted that he had proposed no specific peace plans to Arab leaders, saying, "I came here merely to exchange views."

Informed sources said Tito had pleaded for a "realistic" approach to Middle East problems growing out of the June 5-10 war, and that this stand met especially stiff opposition in Syria

On the religious front, the proposal of the chief rabbi of the Israeli army to hold prayers on Moslem territory ignited fears among politicians that it would touch off widespread Moslem protests, both in Israel-occupied territory and outside it.

The rabbi, Brig. Shlomo Goren, announced he would pray atop the hill where the second Jewish temple once stood in Old Jerusalem. The spot now holds the mosques of the Dome of the Rock and El Aksa, both sacred to Islam.

The second Jewish temple was destroyed in 70 AD by Titus. All that remains of it is Jerusalem's Wailing Wall, which stands just outside the mosque area.

The International Red Cross said that the first Arab refugees from Jordanian soil now under Israeli control should start returning to their homes Friday.

Cows And Cattle At Fair To Set An All-Time High

LISBON — The 122nd annual Columbiana County Fair Aug. 23-27 will show a record 525 head of dairy cows and beef cattle. There were 348 last year.

Farm directors counted 302 entries in the open class Wednesday evening and Robert Lewis, county 4-H agent, announced there will be 223 head in the Junior Fair division. The juniors will enter 10 animals in the beef breeding class, 123 dairy cattle and 90 steers.

Other entries follow, with last year's total in parentheses:

Poultry — 252 open, 30 junior, 282 (426).

There will be nine draft horses and three dairy goats on the grounds. Four subordinate granges will have displays.

Ben Weingart of Leetonia, president, said "Fair Special" bus tickets are on sale at the East Liverpool terminal. The Ohio Valley Charter Service of East Liverpool will run three specials to the fairgrounds Friday and Saturday.

The grounds are in good shape directors said. The annual disinfecting of buildings and grounds is scheduled Friday under the supervision of Dr. Robert L. Jackson of Salem. This year, for the first time, all animals must be taken from the grounds and the barns and stalls cleaned completely before the spraying.

Mrs. Thelma Cope, secretary, said the entry deadline for baked goods and needlework is Tuesday noon and the deadline for flowers, fruit, vegetables, grain, hay, seeds and culinary arts is 5 p.m. Tuesday.

She said exhibitors may save time by mailing entries now to 376 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, and she will have the tickets ready for them on entry day. Entries also may be left at the secretary's office on the grounds. It is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

All needlework must be in the arts and crafts building by 5 p.m. Tuesday and baked goods must be there by 9 a.m. Wednesday, Mrs. Cope said.

King Says Race Conflict Nears Vital Crossroads

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Racial conflict in America is moving toward a critical crossroads of new gains for Negroes—or violent insurrection, in the view of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., advocate of nonviolent tactics.

King considers his plan for mass civil disobedience a last resort.

"This is something like a last plea to the nation to respond to nonviolence," he said in an interview. He said it quietly, sitting in the pastor's study at his Ebenezer Baptist Church.

"We can't continue to live like this," King said. The struggle has reached the point, he went on, that convinces him there must be some quick economic gains for Negroes.

of constructive action, this bitterness," King said. "And if there is not provided a channel of constructive action, this bitterness will lead to desperation, riots and social disruption."

If his mass civil disobedience campaign—involving boycotts, sit-ins at factories and camping in Washington—results in repressive steps by the government and by whites, then the violence "will become planned insurrection," King predicted.

King said he was motivated to announce the campaign this week by the growing violent temper of many Negroes. Asked if his new move was aimed at countering support by Black Power spokesmen, King replied that he was not singling out Black Power.

"I'm just dealing with the whole violent development," he said.

If his strategy fails, King said, "I would say to the nation, I've done my best." He said he knew of nothing else to try.

King had finished a speech to delegates to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference of which he is president.

'Real Optimism' Shown On Budget, Tax Dilemma

HARRISBURG (AP) — House Minority Leader Herber tFineman is "real optimistic" about chances for a solution next week of the three-month tax and budget dilemma.

"The negotiations have been proceeding smoothly," Fineman D-Philadelphia, said. "There's been give-and-take on both sides. Neither side has been inflexible.

"We're narrowing our differences. I believe there's a real possibility that we can get together one day next week."

The bipartisan consultations on Gov. Shafer's $1.79 billion budget and $300 million tax needs were suspended Wednesday until next week to give both sides time to review the proposals and counter-proposals.

"We need time now to study the offers," said Sen. Minority Leader Ernest P. Kline, D-Beaver, the other Democratic negotiator, after the leadership had huddled for the third consecutive day.

Before the negotiations were halted, however, the Republican-controlled Senate sent to the House a $1.46 billion general appropriations bill to finance the bulk of state spending in the 1967-68 fiscal year.

The vote was unanimous, although Kline first placed Democratic objections on the record.

"I would hope this does not detract from the negotiations," he warned. He acknowledged that it would be futile for the Democrats to oppose the action since Republicans had the necessary 26 votes in hand.

The two parties reportedly are divided by $100 million, with the Republicans starting at $300 million, the Democrats at $200 million.

The GOP arbitors, Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup, Bedford, and House Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson, Allegheny, reportedly have offered to come down on their position if the Democrats will come up.

The $1.46 billion general fund bill can be financed from the existing tax structure, but does not include $284 million in special appropriations, which constitute the remainder of the Shafer budget.

House Appropriations Chairman H. Jack Seltzer, R-Lebanon, said he would like to send the bill to the floor next week and have it passed.

Asked how Senate approval of the $1.46 million money measure affected the Democratic bargaining position, he replied:

"It has no effect. There will be no Democratic votes for the general appropriations bill until there is an agreement on how much tax revenue is necessary.

"We're not going to vote to spend money without knowing how much we need to pay for it."

Other Wednesday highlights:

Samaritan — The Huse sent to the Senate a bill which would exempt volunteer ambulance services and rescue squads from liability in transporting an injured person to a hospital. The vote was 182-13.

Traffic Safety — The House passed a bill which would require used cars to pass state inspections before they are sold. The vote was 187-9, the measure going to the Senate.

Riots — The Senate passed and forwarded to the House two bills prompted by the rash of civil outbreaks which have erupted throughout the nation. One would make it illegal to possess molotov cocktails, passed, 46-0; the other would set stiff penalties for anyone found interfering with firemen, also 46-0.

Loans — The Senate concurred in minor House amendments to a bill to authorize establishment of local industrial development authorities empowered to float tax-free bonds as an incentive to new industry. The Administration bill goes to the ministration bill goes to the governor.

Moundsville Council Wars On Gambling

MOUNDSVILLE (AP) — All gambling devices — including slot machines — have been ordered out of Moundsville by midnight Monday — or else.

The city council delivered the warning to groups in the city reported to have gambling operations under way. And the council backed up the threat by approving spending $1,000 on special undercover investigators.

In addition, councilmen this week voted to draft an ordinance increasing the fines by 500 per cent on illegal sales of beer and liquor.

Council took the steps following publication of an Associated Press survey showing at least 33 establishments in Moundsville hold the $250 federal gaming stamp and that others hold the $50 federal wagering stamp.

Councilman Charles K. Crow complained that "wide - open bookie joints" exist in Moundsville. Crow said in calling for the crackdown: "We're going to have to start at the top . . . find evidence, write out complaints, make raids if necessary, then take the cases to court and let the court decide."

Area Youth Cited In Route 7 Crash

A 17-year-old Rogers youth was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon Wednesday night after his car was struck from behind by a tractor-trailer truck on Route 7 near Rogers.

Officers said David E. Curran of the Pine Hollow Trailer Court was headed south and making a left turn when his 1953 sedan was struck from behind by the truck driven by Thomas C. Flock, 28, of Greensburg, Pa.

Curran had halted on the roadway about 1.7 miles south of Rogers and another vehicle was halted behind him, officers said.

Flock came upon the two vehicles and swung around the first, then struck the car operated by Curran, who was then making a left turn.

Curran was cited for lack of a driver's license.

HAMMONDSVILLE — The Rev. Lena Tice, a missionary in the Kentucky mountains for 43 years, and her husband, Oak Tice, a retired employe of the former Toronto steel mill, will move to a newly - remodeled home in New Somerset this fall. The couple presently resides in Hammondsville.

Rev. Tice, who did evangelistic and pastorate work in Kentucky, was the former Lena McKee of East Liverpool. She attended the Cleveland Bible Institution. In 1924, she began holding pastorates in the tri-state area and recently completed six years in the Chestnut Grove Church of the Nazarene on the Irondale - Monroeville Rd.

Her husband was also Saline Township constable. The couple served as caretakers at the Hollow Rock Campground for many years. They have a son and six grandchildren.

Cincinnati Man, 32, Charged With Murder

CINCINNATI (AP) — Robert Jones, 32, Cincinnati, has been charged with second-degree murder as the result of a shooting that broke up a neighborhood card game on Aug. 12.

Police said David Rogers, 53, was killed in the shooting in his back yard. Jones surrendered to police Wednesday.

'Real Optimism' Shown On Budget, Tax Dilemma

HARRISBURG (AP) — House Minority Leader Herber tFineman is "real optimistic" about chances for a solution next week of the three-month tax and budget dilemma.

"The negotiations have been proceeding smoothly," Fineman D-Philadelphia, said. "There's been give-and-take on both sides. Neither side has been inflexible.

"We're narrowing our differences. I believe there's a real possibility that we can get together one day next week."

The bipartisan consultations on Gov. Shafer's $1.79 billion budget and $300 million tax needs were suspended Wednesday until next week to give both sides time to review the proposals and counter-proposals.

"We need time now to study the offers," said Sen. Minority Leader Ernest P. Kline, D-Beaver, the other Democratic negotiator, after the leadership had huddled 'for the third consecutive day.

Before the negotiations were halted, however, the Republican-controlled Senate sent to the House a $1.46 billion general appropriations bill to finance the bulk of state spending in the 1967-68 fiscal year.

The vote was unanimous, although Kline first placed Democratic objections on the record.

"I would hope this does not detract from the negotiations," he warned. He acknowledged that it would be futile for the Democrats to oppose the action since Republicans had the necessary 26 votes in hand.

The two parties reportedly are divided by $100 million, with the Republicans starting at $300 million, the Democrats at $200 million.

The GOP arbitors, Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup, Bedford, and House Majority Leader Lee A. Donaldson, Allegheny, reportedly have offered to come down on their position if the Democrats will come up.

The $1.46 billion general fund bill can be financed from the existing tax structure, but does not include $284 million in special appropriations, which constitute the remainder of the Shafer budget.

House Appropriations Chairman H. Jack Seltzer, R-Lebanon, said he would like to send the bill to the floor next week and have it passed.

Asked how Senate approval of the $1.46 million money measure affected the Democratic bargaining position, he replied:

"It has no effect. There will be no Democratic votes for the general appropriations bill until there is an agreement on how much tax revenue is necessary.

"We're not going to vote to spend money without knowing how much we need to pay for it."

Other Wednesday highlights:

Samaritan — The Huse sent to the Senate a bill which would exempt volunteer ambulance services and rescue squads from liability in transporting an injured person to a hospital. The vote was 182-13.

Traffic Safety — The House passed a bill which would require used cars to pass state inspections before they are sold. The vote was 187-9, the measure going to the Senate.

Riots — The Senate passed and forwarded to the House two bills prompted by the rash of civil outbreaks which have erupted throughout the nation. One would make it illegal to possess molotov cocktails, passed, 46-0; the other would set stiff penalties for anyone found interfering with firemen, also 46-0.

Loans — The Senate concurred in minor House amendments to a bill to authorize establishment of local industrial development authorities empowered to float tax-free bonds as an incentive to new industry. The Administration bill goes to the ministration bill goes to the governor.

Moundsville Council Wars On Gambling

MOUNDSVILLE (AP) — All gambling devices — including slot machines — have been ordered out of Moundsville by midnight Monday — or else.

The city council delivered the warning to groups in the city reported to have gambling operations under way. And the council backed up the threat by approving spending $1,000 on special undercover investigators.

In addition, councilmen this week voted to draft an ordinance increasing the fines by 500 per cent on illegal sales of beer and liquor.

Council took the steps following publication of an Associated Press survey showing at least 33 establishments in Moundsville hold the $250 federal gaming stamp and that others hold the $50 federal wagering stamp.

Councilman Charles K. Crow complained that "wide - open bookie joints" exist in Moundsville. Crow said in calling for the crackdown: "We're going to have to start at the top . . . find evidence, write out complaints, make raids if necessary, then take the cases to court and let the court decide."

Area Youth Cited In Route 7 Crash

A 17-year-old Rogers youth was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon Wednesday night after his car was struck from behind by a tractor-trailer truck on Route 7 near Rogers.

Officers said David E. Curran of the Pine Hollow Trailer Court was headed south and making a left turn when his 1953 sedan was struck from behind by the truck driven by Thomas C. Flock, 28, of Greensburg, Pa.

Curran had halted on the roadway about 1.7 miles south of Rogers and another vehicle was halted behind him, officers said.

Flock came upon the two vehicles and swung around the first, then struck the car operated by Curran, who was then making a left turn.

Curran was cited for lack of a driver's license.

News Of Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Miss Lynnell Baumgartner of Monroe, Mich., is visiting Miss Doreen Gearin of Twiss Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Okey Parsons of East Liverpool and Dean Sweeney and family visited Sunday with Chief of Police Gordon Sweeney and family of E. Main St.

Eighty - five attended the 59th annual reunion of the Strabley family Sunday at Firestone Park, Columbiana. Freeman Strabley, president, of Salineville, conducted the business session and led devotions.

Dinner was served at noon. Guests were present from South Carolina, Carrollton, Sumitville, Warren, Girard, Leetonia, Alliance, Beloit and other area points.

The 60th reunion will be held Aug. 11 at the park in Columbiana.

SALINEVILLE — The Altar and Rosary Society of St. Patrick's Church met Wednesday night in the parish hall to make plans for an annual homecoming public dinner Labor Day.

Mrs. Ellen Conlin, president, said proceeds will be used for the church.

The descendants of John Sweeney and Elizabeth Sweeney will hold a reunion Sunday at Euclid Memorial Park, Euclid.

Mrs. Mary C. Cartisole and Miss Rita Hanley have returned home following a visit with their sister and family at Flint, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Eish visited in Pittsburgh Saturday.

Injury Spoils Jim Maloney's Perfect Game Attempt

Pirates Blanked 4-0, Get 2 Hits Off McCool

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The tale of the tape — that's the story of a serious, but unsuccessful bid for the first no-hitter in the 59-year history of Pittsburgh's Forbes Field.

Tape around the right ankle of Cincinnati's Jim Maloney enabled the veteran righthander to make the bid Wednesday night.

But it didn't prevent him from aggravating an injury, which forced him to leave in the seventh inning of the game won by Cincinnati 4-0.

Billy McCool took over and was touched for both Pittsburgh hits in the eighth inning.

St. Louis nipped the Chicago Cubs 4-3, Atlanta topped San Francisco 6-3, the New York Mets beat Philadelphia 5-3 and Los Angeles trounced Houston 7-1 in other National League games.

"I was scared," said McCool, who relieved Maloney after he stepped into a hole with his right foot in delivering a fourth ball to Matty Alou, making Alou the first Pirate base runner.

"I wanted it real badly," continued McCool, "but I wished he could have stayed in. I think he might have gotten it."

Maloney declined to talk about what might have been but he did comment about his ankle injury, which he said he suffered last Friday night against Los Angeles.

"I haven't been able to run on it at all, and the only way I could pitch tonight was because of the tape," he said.

He also said that if it had been his left ankle, he would have been able to continue, but since it was the right one he couldn't because he pushes off on it when he pitches.

Jose Pagan kept the Forbes Field jinx against no-hitter intact with a one-out single in the eighth. Jerry May followed with a double but McCool then settled down to preserve the shutout.

It was the second time Maloney has been forced from a no-hitter by injury. In 1964, he went to the seventh inning at Los Angeles and left because of arm trouble. John Tsitouris relieved and finished with a one-hitter.

In 1965, Maloney pitched two 10-inning no-hitters, but only won one of them. He beat Chicago 1-0 but lost to the Mets 1-0 on two hits in the 11th of the other.

Tony Perez' 23rd homer gave the Reds a 2-0 lead in the fourth, and they added another pair in the sixth on Lee May's RBI double and an error.

First-place St. Louis came up with two runs in the ninth on a two-out bases loaded walk and Alex Johnson's infield hit to beat Chicago. The Cubs had taken a 3-2 lead on Glenn Beckert's two-run homer in the seventh.

Ron Swoboda was the big gun in New York's victory over Philadelphia. He slammed three hits and drove in four runs.

Hank Aaron's 30th homer, with two on in the third, powered Atlanta past San Francisco as Ken Johnson boosted his record to 13-5.

Los Angeles broke out of run scoring famine as Jim Lefebvre and pitch Bill Singer each drove in two runs against Houston. Singer also limited the Astros to four hits in bringing his record to 7-4.

Bernie Allen Hits Double

Hargan 3-Hits Senators, Indians Win On 2 Hits, 1-0

WASHINGTON (AP) — Steve Hargan pitched a brilliant game for the Cleveland Indians Wednesday night, but first a word of sympathy for Camilo Pascual.

The Washington Senators' righthander pitched a two-hitter, didn't allow a hit until the seventh inning and faced only 32 men. He also lost, 1-0.

The 15,209 fans who came for action could have stopped in at D. C. Stadium and watched all the scoring in six minutes.

Pascual (11-9) had two outs in the top of the ninth when he walked Leon Wagner. Chuck Hinton ran for him. Then Tony Horton banged the first pitch to the 381-foot sign in front of the Indians' bull pen in left center for a double.

Hinton scored and that was it.

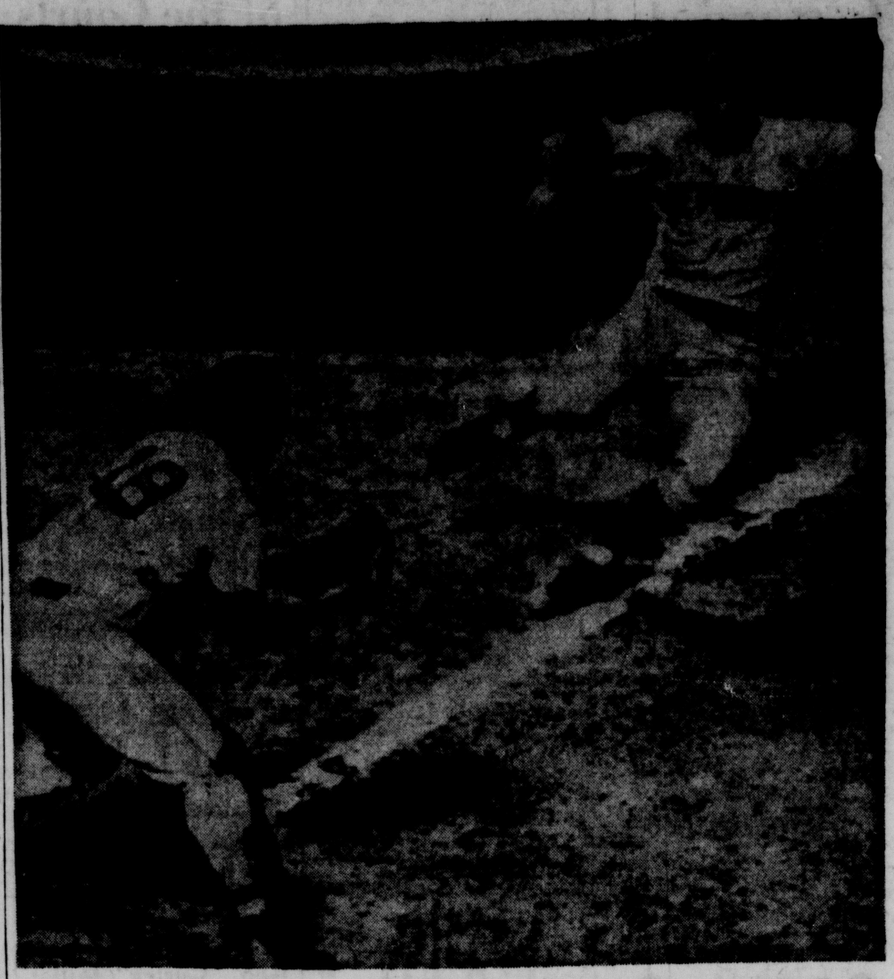
Both pitchers could have sued for nonsupport. Hargan (13-9) fired a three-hitter, walked only two and struck out 10. He didn't allow the first hit until Bernie Allen doubled in the fifth, the first safety off either pitcher.

Hank Allen doubled in the sixth and Frank Howard walked with two outs, but Hargan fanned Fred Valentine to end the inning. The other hit was Paul Casanova's slow roller in the seventh.

Allen's double went into the Cleveland bullpen and he circled the bases, thinking it was a homer. He was called back to second.

Besides Horton's double, the only other hit off Pascual was Max Alvis' two-out single in the seventh.

Luis Tiant (7-8) will try to make it three in a row over the sixth place Senators tonight when he faces Phil Ortega (9-5).



TIGER TAGGED—Red Sox catcher Elston Howard tags out Tiger runner Don Wert in the first inning of last night's game at Boston. Wert was trying to score from third on a fly ball to centerfielder Reggie Smith, who threw to Howard in time to make the play. Red Sox won 6-3 to move into third place in American League.

Steubenville Tops Willowick Legion

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—The two unbeatens—Lima and Cambridge — meet today in the fourth round of the annual Ohio American Legion Baseball Tournament.

Lima with a 33-10 season record, and Cambridge with a 22-15 over-all mark, remained undefeated after Wednesday's play in the double elimination tournament.

In today's play, Lima faced Cambridge at 9 a.m. while Pemberville (21 - 8) opposed Wadsworth (30-14) and Ashley (20 - 18) was paired against Steubenville (25 - 7). Miamisburg (30-6) drew a bye for the morning round.

The field will be cut to five before drawings are held for the afternoon games.

In Wednesday's play, Cambridge stopped undefeated Wadsworth 8 - 5 in 11 innings. The score was deadlocked 5-5 in the ninth, with Cambridge scoring three runs in the 11th.

Lima crushed Ashley 17 - 1 with the help of two empty bases home runs by Paul Mullenhour.

Cincinnati Bentley, highly rated going into tournament play, was eliminated by Pemberville 9 - 7. Pemberville picked up seven runs in the first inning and Bentley never recovered from the shock.

Miamisburg picked up a 6-3 victory in ousting powerful Euclid, while Steubenville knocked out Willowick 8-5.

Tuesday afternoon linescores:

Cambridge	001 000 030 03--8 12 1
Wads'th	100 000 031 00--5 1 2

Hartford Pro-Am To Goalby

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) —The annual destruction of par figures at Wethersfield Country Club begins today as 146 professionals and amateurs begin the four-day $100,000 Greater Hartford Open Golf Tournament.

Twenty-four of the 49 pros competing in Wednesday's pro-amateur preliminary broke the course standard of 71, led by Bob Goalby's seven-under-par effort of 30-34—64. The 37-year-old former University of Illinois football player added the $300 pro-am prize to the $72,437 he'd won in 23 tournaments this year.

Defending champion is Art Wall Jr., who took home the $20,000 first place check in 1966 after compiling a record low 72-hole total of 266—18 under par.

The pro-am tuneup Wednesday included a 72 by Wall and 68 by Julius Boros, the year's second-leading money winner at $112,910. Gary Player of South Africa shot a 70 along with Frank Beard. Beard and Boros each have three tourney wins in 1967.

The Professional Golfers Association officials at the tournament decided Monday that due to installation of a new water system, which produced some bare spots on the fairways, the players will be allowed to "lift, clean and place" their ball within one club length when their shots end up on the fairway of the hole they are playing.

3 In AL Flag Race Reported After Face

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Three teams scrambling for the American League pennant are reported trying to obtain relief pitcher Elroy Face from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Baseball writer Charley Feeney of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette said in today's editions the California Angels, Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers have expressed interest in the veteran righthander.

Face has compiled a 6-4 record and a 1.61 earned run average in 55 innings for Pittsburgh this year.

Illinois and Minnesota have 15 football lettermen returning.

Browns May Shift Middle Linebacker

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — The Cleveland Browns have three middle linebackers and Coach Blanton Collier may do some shifting.

Collier may move either veteran Vince Costello or Dale Lindsey to the outside. The Browns No. 1 pick in the National Football League draft for this season was Bob Matheson, a 245-pound linebacker from Duke.

Costello, 35, thought about retirement during the off season but decided to take another shot at the job. Over the years Costello has defended his position against a gang of challengers.

Matheson likely will be given as much playing time as possible through the remaining four exhibition games, including Saturday night's action against the Los Angeles Rams.

Collier doesn't have an abundance of linebackers on the flanks. The regulars are Jim Houston and John Brewer. The Browns traded Sid Williams to the New York Giants and have rookies Bill Andrews and Cecil Dowdy in reserve.

Teenagers Dominate Ladies Amateur Golf

Marianne, an 11th grade student from Santa Ana, Calif., upset four-time champion JoAnne Gunderson Carner of Seekonk, Mass., 2 and 1 in advancing to the quarter-finals.

Of the other seven quarter-finals, four are under 20 years old.

The U.S. Golfers Association tourney is being played over the 6,062-yard Annandale Golf Course.

She capped the two-round opening of match play by defeating Roberta Albers, Tampa, Fla., former Trans-Mississippi champion, 3 and 2.

Jane Bastanchury, 19, the Trans - Mississippi champion from Whittier, Calif., stunned Teddy Boddie, of Shreveport, La., 2 and 1. In the afternoon, Miss Bastanchury ousted Judy Bell of Colorado Springs, Colo., 3 and 1.

Medalist Phyllis (Tish) Preuss, 28, of Pompano Beach, Fla., shot down western junior champion Candace Michaeloff of Minneapolis 5 and 4 and Marceila Rose of St. Louis 6 and 4.

Punchless Sox Win 14-1; Twins Run Streak To 7

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox, who sometimes seem to win with mirrors, did it Wednesday night with a hitter who can't run, a runner who suddenly can hit and—would you believe—three home runs.

The notoriously light hitting White Sox sprayed 17 safeties around Comiskey Park including two home runs by Pete Ward and one by Gerry McNertney and walloped Kansas City 14-1.

Ken Boyer, sidelined by a pulled muscle in his left leg, came off the bench in the fourth inning and delivered a bases-loaded single that drove in three runs. The ball soared over left fielder Danny Cater's head and the three runners scored easily. But Boyer, limping badly, barely made it to first base.

Sandy Alomar, acquired just hours before game time from the New York Mets as part of the Boyer deal, started at shortstop for Chicago, lashed two singles and scored two runs. Throughout his career, Alomar has been noted as a fast runner and good fielder but weak hitter.

The victory kept the Sox 1½ games back of the streaking first place Minnesota Twins who won their seventh straight, 5-1 from California.

Boston moved into third place by beating Detroit 6-3. Cleveland nipped Washington 1-0 and Baltimore edged New York 5-4.

In the National League, New York beat Philadelphia 5-3, Cincinnati blanked Pittsburgh 4-0, Atlanta rapped San Francisco 6-3, St. Louis shaded Chicago 4-3 and Los Angeles defeated Houston 7-1.

Ward's two homers drove in three runs for the White Sox but the blow that broke the game wide open was Boyer's pinch hit in the fourth. It climaxed a five-run rally that opened a 9-0 Chicago lead.

Boyer, who pulled up lame in Minnesota last week while fielding a ground ball, struggled to get down the line as the three runners tore around the bases and Cater chased after his drive.

Alomar started the big inning with his second hit and scored the Sox' first run on Walt Williams' double. Williams stole third and scored on a passed ball third strike before Chicago loaded the bases for Boyer.

Gary Peters, who hadn't won since July 23, was the beneficiary of the unusually heavy attack and picked up his 13th victory on a four-hitter.

Minnesota bunched four hits and two walks for five first inning runs against California and that was enough for Dean Chance, who won his 16th game.

The first three Minnesota batters—Zoilo Versalles, Cesar Tovar and Tony Oliva—tripled, doubled and singled for two runs. An infield out following two walks drove in another run and Ted Uhlaender's two-out double produced two more.

George Scott drove in four runs with a pair of homers and Reggie Smith contributed a solo shot as Boston rapped Detroit. Scott and Smith connected in the first inning against Denny McLain and then Scott hit another in the third.

Steve Hargan outduelled Camilo Pascual and Tony Horton's ninth inning double—only the second hit for the Indians—gave Cleveland its victory.

Hargan, who struck out 10, finished with a three-hitter. Horton's two-out double scored pinch runner Chuck Hinton from first base. Pascual did not allow a hit until the seventh when Max Alvis singled with two out.

Frank Robinson drove in four runs for the Orioles—three of them on a sixth inning homer—as Baltimore beat Al Downing. Tom Phoebus, who struck out 12, needed late inning help from Wally Bunker and Stu Miller to nail down the victory.

Vin Cazetta Will Coach Pro Pipers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Vincent Cazetta, an assistant coach at the university of Rhode Island, was named head coach of the Pittsburgh Pipers of the newly-formed American Basketball Association yesterday.

Cazetta, who has been at Rhode Island for four years, said, "I am real thrilled to get into professional basketball. I think we have the ingredients here for a real exciting team and we're looking for a successful season."

While he was assistant coach there in 1958 the team went to the NCAA finals but was eliminated by the University of Kentucky.

Steubenville Tops Willowick Legion

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—The two unbeatens—Lima and Cambridge — meet today in the fourth round of the annual Ohio American Legion Baseball Tournament.

Lima with a 33-10 season record, and Cambridge with a 22-15 over-all mark, remained undefeated after Wednesday's play in the double elimination tournament.

In today's play, Lima faced Cambridge at 9 a.m. while Pemberville (21 - 8) opposed Wadsworth (30-14) and Ashley (20 - 18) was paired against Steubenville (25 - 7). Miamisburg (30-6) drew a bye for the morning round.

The field will be cut to five before drawings are held for the afternoon games.

In Wednesday's play, Cambridge stopped undefeated Wadsworth 8 - 5 in 11 innings. The score was deadlocked 5-5 in the ninth, with Cambridge scoring three runs in the 11th.

Lima crushed Ashley 17 - 1 with the help of two empty bases home runs by Paul Mullenhour.

Cincinnati Bentley, highly rated going into tournament play, was eliminated by Pemberville 9 - 7. Pemberville picked up seven runs in the first inning and Bentley never recovered from the shock.

Miamisburg picked up a 6-3 victory in ousting powerful Euclid, while Steubenville knocked out Willowick 8-5.

Tuesday afternoon linescores:

Cambridge	001 000 030 03--8 12 1
Wads'th	100 000 031 00--5 1 2

Punchless Sox Win 14-1; Twins Run Streak To 7

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox, who sometimes seem to win with mirrors, did it Wednesday night with a hitter who can't run, a runner who suddenly can hit and—would you believe—three home runs.

The notoriously light hitting White Sox sprayed 17 safeties around Comiskey Park including two home runs by Pete Ward and one by Gerry McNertney and walloped Kansas City 14-1.

Ken Boyer, sidelined by a pulled muscle in his left leg, came off the bench in the fourth inning and delivered a bases-loaded single that drove in three runs. The ball soared over left fielder Danny Cater's head and the three runners scored easily. But Boyer, limping badly, barely made it to first base.

Sandy Alomar, acquired just hours before game time from the New York Mets as part of the Boyer deal, started at shortstop for Chicago, lashed two singles and scored two runs. Throughout his career, Alomar has been noted as a fast runner and good fielder but weak hitter.

The victory kept the Sox 1½ games back of the streaking first place Minnesota Twins who won their seventh straight, 5-1 from California.

Boston moved into third place by beating Detroit 6-3. Cleveland nipped Washington 1-0 and Baltimore edged New York 5-4.

In the National League, New York beat Philadelphia 5-3, Cincinnati blanked Pittsburgh 4-0, Atlanta rapped San Francisco 6-3, St. Louis shaded Chicago 4-3 and Los Angeles defeated Houston 7-1.

Ward's two homers drove in three runs for the White Sox but the blow that broke the game wide open was Boyer's pinch hit in the fourth. It climaxed a five-run rally that opened a 9-0 Chicago lead.

Boyer, who pulled up lame in Minnesota last week while fielding a ground ball, struggled to get down the line as the three runners tore around the bases and Cater chased after his drive.

Alomar started the big inning with his second hit and scored the Sox' first run on Walt Williams' double. Williams stole third and scored on a passed ball third strike before Chicago loaded the bases for Boyer.

Gary Peters, who hadn't won since July 23, was the beneficiary of the unusually heavy attack and picked up his 13th victory on a four-hitter.

Minnesota bunched four hits and two walks for five first inning runs against California and that was enough for Dean Chance, who won his 16th game.

The first three Minnesota batters—Zoilo Versalles, Cesar Tovar and Tony Oliva—tripled, doubled and singled for two runs. An infield out following two walks drove in another run and Ted Uhlaender's two-out double produced two more.

George Scott drove in four runs with a pair of homers and Reggie Smith contributed a solo shot as Boston rapped Detroit. Scott and Smith connected in the first inning against Denny McLain and then Scott hit another in the third.

Steve Hargan outduelled Camilo Pascual and Tony Horton's ninth inning double—only the second hit for the Indians—gave Cleveland its victory.

Hargan, who struck out 10, finished with a three-hitter. Horton's two-out double scored pinch runner Chuck Hinton from first base. Pascual did not allow a hit until the seventh when Max Alvis singled with two out.

Frank Robinson drove in four runs for the Orioles—three of them on a sixth inning homer—as Baltimore beat Al Downing. Tom Phoebus, who struck out 12, needed late inning help from Wally Bunker and Stu Miller to nail down the victory.

Vin Cazetta Will Coach Pro Pipers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Vincent Cazetta, an assistant coach at the university of Rhode Island, was named head coach of the Pittsburgh Pipers of the newly-formed American Basketball Association yesterday.

Cazetta, who has been at Rhode Island for four years, said, "I am real thrilled to get into professional basketball. I think we have the ingredients here for a real exciting team and we're looking for a successful season."

While he was assistant coach there in 1958 the team went to the NCAA finals but was eliminated by the University of Kentucky.

Hartford Pro-Am To Goalby

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) —The annual destruction of par figures at Wethersfield Country Club begins today as 146 professionals and amateurs begin the four-day $100,000 Greater Hartford Open Golf Tournament.

Twenty-four of the 49 pros competing in Wednesday's pro-amateur preliminary broke the course standard of 71, led by Bob Goalby's seven-under-par effort of 30-34—64. The 37-year-old former University of Illinois football player added the $300 pro-am prize to the $72,437 he'd won in 23 tournaments this year.

Defending champion is Art Wall Jr., who took home the $20,000 first place check in 1966 after compiling a record low 72-hole total of 266—18 under par.

The pro-am tuneup Wednesday included a 72 by Wall and 68 by Julius Boros, the year's second-leading money winner at $112,910. Gary Player of South Africa shot a 70 along with Frank Beard. Beard and Boros each have three tourney wins in 1967.

The Professional Golfers Association officials at the tournament decided Monday that due to installation of a new water system, which produced some bare spots on the fairways, the players will be allowed to "lift, clean and place" their ball within one club length when their shots end up on the fairway of the hole they are playing.

Browns May Shift Middle Linebacker

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — The Cleveland Browns have three middle linebackers and Coach Blanton Collier may do some shifting.

Collier may move either veteran Vince Costello or Dale Lindsey to the outside. The Browns No. 1 pick in the National Football League draft for this season was Bob Matheson, a 245-pound linebacker from Duke.

Costello, 35, thought about retirement during the off season but decided to take another shot at the job. Over the years Costello has defended his position against a gang of challengers.

Matheson likely will be given as much playing time as possible through the remaining four exhibition games, including Saturday night's action against the Los Angeles Rams.

Collier doesn't have an abundance of linebackers on the flanks. The regulars are Jim Houston and John Brewer. The Browns traded Sid Williams to the New York Giants and have rookies Bill Andrews and Cecil Dowdy in reserve.

Teenagers Dominate Ladies Amateur Golf

Marianne, an 11th grade student from Santa Ana, Calif., upset four-time champion JoAnne Gunderson Carner of Seekonk, Mass., 2 and 1 in advancing to the quarter-finals.

Of the other seven quarter-finals, four are under 20 years old.

The U.S. Golfers Association tourney is being played over the 6,062-yard Annandale Golf Course.

She capped the two-round opening of match play by defeating Roberta Albers, Tampa, Fla., former Trans-Mississippi champion, 3 and 2.

Jane Bastanchury, 19, the Trans - Mississippi champion from Whittier, Calif., stunned Teddy Boddie, of Shreveport, La., 2 and 1. In the afternoon, Miss Bastanchury ousted Judy Bell of Colorado Springs, Colo., 3 and 1.

Medalist Phyllis (Tish) Preuss, 28, of Pompano Beach, Fla., shot down western junior champion Candace Michaeloff of Minneapolis 5 and 4 and Marceila Rose of St. Louis 6 and 4.

3 In AL Flag Race Reported After Face

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Three teams scrambling for the American League pennant are reported trying to obtain relief pitcher Elroy Face from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Baseball writer Charley Feeney of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette said in today's editions the California Angels, Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers have expressed interest in the veteran righthander.

Face has compiled a 6-4 record and a 1.61 earned run average in 55 innings for Pittsburgh this year.

Illinois and Minnesota have 15 football lettermen returning.

Garrett Ford Overweight As WVU Starts Practice

By DAVE SCHULZ
Associated Press Writer

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Don't tell Garrett Ford about those soft federal jobs in Washington.

The West Virginia University tailback, an All-America candidate, reported for pre - season practice about 10 pounds overweight Wednesday after working during the summer for the Post Office Department near his home in Hyattsville, Md., a Washington suburb.

Ford explained that he weighs about 230 pounds and usually weighs about 220 pounds during the season.

"I didn't have much of a chance to work out during the summer," he said. But today Ford and 71 other prospects began running as the Mountaineers started twice-a-day workouts which continue until school begins Aug. 31.

Ford, who figures he can lose his excess weight by Saturday, and tackle Mike Fewell of Winfield, W. Va., were the only ones who coach Jim Carlen singled out for being considerably overweight.

Carlen, beginning his second year at WVU, said other players who were overweight were only two or three pounds over and they could "easily lose that juch running around in this hot weather."

There were 23 lettermen and seven non-scholarship players among the players and only one reported in trouble. Guard Bob Cummings of Charleston was injured while swimming this summer and is not yet in top condition, Carlen said.

"Over-all, Carlen said, "these boys are in excellent shape."

In addition to Ford, the list of returning letterwinners includes lineman Danny Williamson, defensive halfback John Mallory and linebacker Baker Brown. All three were all-conference selections last season.

Carlen also said he had a fine crop of sophomores, including Carl Crennel, a linebacker he considers "one of the nation's finest sophomores."

Carlen pointed to split end Oscar Patrick and wingback Eddie Silverio as possible potential first-stringers as sophomores.

He also likes the teams' chances of improving on last years 3-5-2 record bu twouldn't make any predictions for the season. All he would say was, "We play Millanova right here Sept. 9."

Carlos Ortiz Holds Title On Decision

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Carlos Ortiz, his fifth straight successful lightweight championship defense behind him, had a slightly puffy eye cocked toward bigger and better things.

"Give me two months," the Puerto Rican-born New Yorker said in his dressing room after solidly trouncing Ismael Laguna in 15 rounds Wednesday night, "and I'll be ready to fight again.

"Two months. Then bring on Cokes."

"I don't need the money," the happy Ortiz said. "I'm loaded. But I would like to be the first Puerto Rican to hold three titles. I'd like Cokes."

Ortiz, 30, held the world junior welterweight title before taking the lightweight championship from Joe Brown in 1962. In lightweight title fights he is 11-1, losing the title to Laguna in his native Panama in 1965 on a 15-round decision, then winning it back seven months later in Puerto Rico.

This time there was little doubt about it.

In the middle rounds, he let up a bit—"I told him to take it easy, to let Laguna have a couple," manager Bill Daly explained later—and the swift, flashy Panamanian swarmed to the attack to the delight of a group of about 2,500 Panamanians in the shouting, chanting, flag-waving crowd of 19,480 at Shea Stadium.

"I had him from the first round on," Ortiz said. "I knew I had him when I first hit him with that right hand. He was fighting my fight.

"I was never concerned. I just wanted to be sure I didn't make any mistakes and had enough to go the distance if I had to. He was in good condition and fought a good fight. But I'm the champion."

Then he grinned even more broadly.

"In fact," he said, "I'm the greatest."

Referee Art Mercante and judge Al Berl each had Ortiz ahead in rounds 10-4-1. Judge Jack Gordon had Ortiz the winner 11-3-1. The Associated Press scored for Ortiz 10-4-1.

"I'm very proud of my people," Ortiz said of the Puerto Ricans in the audience. "We don't want to do anything against our citizenship. I won. But I don't think there would be any trouble if I hadn't. But I fought extra hard to be sure."

Hundreds of extra police were on duty to prevent a recurrence of the riots that developed in Madison Square Garden the last three times Puerto Rican fighters were involved. There wasn't a hint of trouble.

Laguna, taller and faster, had only praise for Ortiz as "a great champion. He won it clearly and cleanly. I have no excuses."

Time and again Laguna swarmed in with a flashy, two-handed attack. Time and again the stolid Ortiz punished him, rocking him in the second, fourth, eighth, 10th and 11th rounds with right hands.

"He tries to suck you in," Ortiz said. "He feints in, then steps back. I've fought him before. I know him. I just wait until he starts back, then go with the right. He's a sucker for it.

"I'm 30 years old and have been fighting for 13 years. For six I have been champion. A boy like that isn't supposed to beat me."

There were no knockdowns. Ortiz suffered nicks at the corner of both eyes, but they didn't bother him. Each fighter weighed 135 pounds.

Midland Club Names Fund Committee

A fund-raising committee was named when the Midland Sideline Coaches Club held its initial meeting of the 1967-68 year Tuesday night at the Lions Club pavilion.

Named to initiate projects for fund-raising for athletics at Lincoln High School were Angelo Migliore, Frank D'Eramo, Athletic Director Vic Marinetti and Lou DiCiccio.

D'Eramo, president of the club, ran the meeting. Guests attending included School Superintendent Wilbur P. Dershimer and the coaching staff: Joe Hamilton, Rey Peduzzi and Tom Hanson, and Martinetti.

Hamilton, head football coach, discussed the football picture for the coming season, and said he feels he's in trouble because he only has two lettermen returning, but feels the picture will improve.

The club announced that a membership drive is now underway.

At the next meeting, Sept. 5, Hamilton will go over pre-game plans and will give scouting reports. Refreshments will be served.

100 Local Boys May See Pitt-UCLA Fray

Henry J. Kuzma, principal of Lincoln Junior - Senior High School, has announced that he has arranged for a football trip for 100 Midland boys to see the Pitt-UCLA game at the University of Pittsburgh on Sept. 23. Any boy in grade one through 12 is eligible to attend, he said. The tickets will be sold on a first come, first served basis. Kuzma said he is basically interested in seeing that boys in grades one through nine have an opportunity to witness a big game; however, those in grades ten through 12 may attend, also.

The cost of the trip will be $2.00, $1.00 for admission, and $1.00 for bus transportation. Chartered buses will leave at 10 a.m. Sept. 23 from the new gym and will return home immediately after the game.

Any boy who is interested in attending is asked to stop at the high school office on Monday at 9 a.m. to make reservations with Miss Margaret Gentile, office clerk. Tickets will be available to students from public or parochial schools.

Kuzma said chaperones are needed for the trip. Those who wish to fill this capacity may call the high school and leave their names.

Kathy Whithworth Aims For Year's 6th Golf Title

PEKIN, Ill. (AP) — A sixth tournament crown of the year is the goal of Kathy Whitworth as she heads a strong force of lady golf pros into the first round of the $10,000 Women's Western Open today.

The title is up for grabs since Mickey Wright, the defending champion, has decided to skip the event. But other top money winners are on tap for this oldest of all opens for women. Miss Whitworth is No. 1 on the cash list with $19,567.

She is followed by Carol Mann with $17,712; Susie Maxwell, $16,210, and Sandra Haynie, $14,-

triumphs this season and Miss Maxwell two. Miss Haynie, a four-time winner last year, has yet to take a top prize in 1967. She has finished second three times.

There are four holders of 11 Western Open Championships in the field. Patty Berg has seven of them, Betsy Rawls two and Miss Mann and Miss Maxwell one each.

The 38th tournament will end Sunday after 72 holes of medal play. It is over the Pekin Country Club course that rambles 6,-605 yards with a 37-38—75 par.

Cheerleader Tryouts Scheduled In Chester

Lead In IL Taken Over By Richmond

The Rochester Red Wings have fallen from first place in the International League race for the first time in more than three months.

They were supplanted Wednesday night by the Richmond Braves.

Richmond, a 3-2 victor over the Jacksonville Suns, got a big assist from Syracuse. The Chiefs turned back the Red Wings twice, 2-1 and 8-7, the second game going 10 innings.

Other Wednesday night action saw the Buffalo Bisons trounce the Toronto Maple Leafs 6-1 and the Toledo Mud Hens edge Columbus 4-3.

Relief pitchers Ron Chandler and Jack DiLauro choked off a Columbus rally in the ninth inning to save the Toledo victory. Columbus starter Jim Shellenback's error set up a three-run first inning for the Mud Hens.

Derby Field At Eight, Miracle Hill Entered

The seventh running of the West Virginia Derby will go Friday night at Waterford Park with eight speedy three - year - olds vying for first place honors and the major portion of the $7,-500 purse which goes with them.

This blue-ribbon field is the best to answer the call in the Derby since its inception. It has stakes winners from Canada, the Detroit area, Kentucky, and Ohio and the local area.

The stakes winners from Canada are More of Mort and Mr. Sin. More Of Mort recently won the Quebec Derby at Montreal, one of the features of Expo '67. Mr. Sin finished second to Air Boat in the Prep last week.

A stakes winner coming from Randall Park in Cleveland is Fred Nick Jr. This Colorado-bred colt went off the favorite in the prep but met with trouble most of the way. At the finish he had come from last place at the head of the stretch to end up fifth, not too far back. The mile and one eighth distance of the West Virginia Derby could be to Fred Nick Jr.'s advantage.

Pat Santo, trainer of the Canadian - owned entry of More Of Mort and Mr. Sin, will be seeking his fifth triumph in the event.

Bjorn Ferm Wins U.S. Pentathlon

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (AP) — Although pleased over winning the United States modern Pentathlon, Sweden's Bjorn Ferm headed home today expressing disappointment over his performance in the steeplechase riding.

"I might have done much better in the riding," he said, Wednesday, "the riding, it did not go too well." Ferm, who took the lead by winning the opening event, the fencing, last Saturday finished 12th in the 1,200-meter steeplechase. It boosted his total points 5,058, 232 ahead of Bill Matheson, formerly Los Angeles State College runner and now an Army captain. Matheson finished second in the Wednesday's riding and recorded a total 4,826 points.

Rams Pointing For NFL Title

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams are bubbling with confidence. After breaking out of the cellar to finish third with an 8-6 record in 1966, George Allen's charges think they can go all the way this season.

"Our problem a year ago was to make these people believe in themselves after being down so long," said Coach Allen at the Rams' new training camp on the campus of California State at Fullerton. "Now they have confidence that they can beat anybody, any time and any place.

"In the draft and during the trading season we have tried to help our offense. We think our defense is solid. Only Green Bay gave up fewer points."

Allen, who stirred up a wild controversy a year ago when he left the Chicago Bears to become a head coach, is not a great believer in rookies. It is probable that only two new men —running back Willie Ellison of Texas Southern and defensive tackle Diron Talbert, 6 foot 5, 238, of Texas will survive the final cut.

"The only year we're concerned about is 1967," said Allen. "Our objective is to win right now. If a rookie can help my club I'll keep him but not just because he is a rookie."

The Rams' big move of the off season was the trade that brought halfback Tommy Mason and tight end Hal Bedsole to Los Angeles from Minnesota for tight end Marlin McKeever.

Bedsole has been placed on the injured list because of a knee injury. Mason works out with heavily taped knees waiting his first real test in the late exhibition season.

"I am going to treat Mason just like I treated Dick Bass last year," said Allen. "Bass had a history of injuries so we decided to keep him out of most of the preseason games. It worked. Dick played 14 regular season games and gained 1,090 yards.

"Tommy has the same history of injuries. He'll play either the last or next to last preseason game and we expect him to be ready for the opener at New Orleans, Sept. 17. We knew all about his bad knees when we made the deal. You have to risk something to get something."

The Rams ranked near the middle in offense last year but their strong defense and the ability of Bruce Gossett to make 28 of 49 field goal attempts did the job.

The addition of Bernie Casey, the 6-4 flanker from the San Francisco 49ers by way of the Atlanta Falcons, gives the Rams a long ball threat. Casey, Bucky Pope who is 6-5 and Jack Snow, 6-2, are high pocket catchers for Roman Gabriel's passes.

Tommy McDonald may be hard pressed to make the club if Pope continues his fine recovery after missing most of two years due to knee surgery.

Allen plans to use Mason as a "spot" player with either Ellison or Les Josephson giving him rest. Mason underwent operations on both knees Feb. 28.

The veteran offensive line will be back intact with Ken Iman at center. Tom Mack, Joe Scibelli and Don Chuy will split the work at guards and Charlie Cowan, Joe Corallo and Bob Nichols at tackle.

The Rams are set at linebacker, despite the retirement of Bill George. Jack Pardee, Myron Pottios and Maxie Baughan are the regulars. Clancy Williams and Irv Cross will be at the corners, Chuck Lamson at strong safety and Eddie Meador at free safety.

There have been rumors that Bill Munson, dissatisfied about sitting on the bench behind Gabriel, may play out his option. Gabriel, incidentaly dropped his suit against the Rams over that contract signing fluff with Oakland a year ago.

Competing in the new Coastal Division of the Western Conference with San Francisco, Baltimore and Atlanta, the Rams are taking dead aim on the title.

EL Equipment To Be Issued

All boys interested in playing football for East Liverpool High School this fall who have not yet drawn equipment are asked to report to Patterson Field at 2:30 this afternoon to draw equipment, Coach Bob McNea announces.

3 Upsets In Essex Net Play

MANCHESTER, Mass. (AP) —Three seeded players were on the sidelines today as the Essex County Club Women's Tennis Tournament entered its third day.

Eliminated in second-round play Wednesday were third-seeded Lesley Turner of Australia, fifth-seeded Mary Ann Eisel of St. Louis and sixth-seeded Kathy Harter of Seal Beach, Calif.

In action marked by upsets, top-seeded Maria Bueno of Brazil advanced to the quarter-finals in defense of her championship by defeating Tory Fretz of Los Angeles 6-2, 6-2.

Miss Turner was forced to default to Mrs. Joyce Williams, a British Wightman Cup player, with their match even 1-1 in sets. The Aussie lass was forced to quit because of a blister on her racquet hand.

Karen Krantzcke, a 6-foot-2 Australian, outlasted Miss Eisel 6-3, 7-9, 6-4 in a gruelling two-hour match, while Scotland's Winnie Shaw, a member of the British Wightman Cup team, whipped Miss Harter 6-3, 6-4.

Garrett Ford Overweight As WVU Starts Practice

By DAVE SCHULZ
Associated Press Writer

MORGANTOWN (AP) — Don't tell Garrett Ford about those soft federal jobs in Washington.

The West Virginia University tailback, an All-America candidate, reported for pre - season practice about 10 pounds overweight Wednesday after working during the summer for the Post Office Department near his home in Hyattsville, Md., a Washington suburb.

Ford explained that he weighs about 230 pounds and usually weighs about 220 pounds during the season.

"I didn't have much of a chance to work out during the summer," he said. But today Ford and 71 other prospects began running as the Mountaineers started twice-a-day workouts which continue until school begins Aug. 31.

Ford, who figures he can lose his excess weight by Saturday, and tackle Mike Fewell of Winfield, W. Va., were the only ones who coach Jim Carlen singled out for being considerably overweight.

Carlen, beginning his second year at WVU, said other players who were overweight were only two or three pounds over and they could "easily lose that juch running around in this hot weather."

There were 23 lettermen and seven non-scholarship players among the players and only one reported in trouble. Guard Bob Cummings of Charleston was injured while swimming this summer and is not yet in top condition, Carlen said.

"Over-all, Carlen said, "these boys are in excellent shape."

In addition to Ford, the list of returning letterwinners includes lineman Danny Williamson, defensive halfback John Mallory and linebacker Baker Brown. All three were all-conference selections last season.

Carlen also said he had a fine crop of sophomores, including Carl Crennel, a linebacker he considers "one of the nation's finest sophomores."

Carlen pointed to split end Oscar Patrick and wingback Eddie Silverio as possible potential first-stringers as sophomores.

He also likes the teams' chances of improving on last years 3-5-2 record bu twouldn't make any predictions for the season. All he would say was, "We play Millanova right here Sept. 9."

Carlos Ortiz Holds Title On Decision

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Carlos Ortiz, his fifth straight successful lightweight championship defense behind him, had a slightly puffy eye cocked toward bigger and better things.

"Give me two months," the Puerto Rican-born New Yorker said in his dressing room after solidly trouncing Ismael Laguna in 15 rounds Wednesday night, "and I'll be ready to fight again.

"Two months. Then bring on Cokes."

The reference was to Curtis Cokes, the world welterweight champion.

"I don't need the money," the happy Ortiz said. "I'm loaded. But I would like to be the first Puerto Rican to hold three titles. I'd like Cokes."

Ortiz, 30, held the world junior welterweight title before taking the lightweight championship from Joe Brown in 1962. In lightweight title fights he is 11-1, losing the title to Laguna in his native Panama in 1965 on a 15-round decision, then winning it back seven months later in Puerto Rico.

This time there was little doubt about it.

In the middle rounds, he let up a bit—"I told him to take it easy, to let Laguna have a couple," manager Bill Daly explained later—and the swift, flashy Panamanian swarmed to the attack to the delight of a group of about 2,500 Panamanians in the shouting, chanting, flag-waving crowd of 19,480 at Shea Stadium.

"I had him from the first round on," Ortiz said. "I knew I had him when I first hit him with that right hand. He was fighting my fight.

"I was never concerned. I just wanted to be sure I didn't make any mistakes and had enough to go the distance if I had to. He was in good condition and fought a good fight. But I'm the champion."

Then he grinned even more broadly.

"In fact," he said, "I'm the greatest."

Referee Art Mercante and judge Al Berl each had Ortiz ahead in rounds 10-4-1. Judge Jack Gordon had Ortiz the winner 11-3-1. The Associated Press scored for Ortiz 10-4-1.

"I'm very proud of my people," Ortiz said of the Puerto Ricans in the audience. "We don't want to do anything against our citizenship. I won. But I don't think there would be any trouble if I hadn't. But I fought extra hard to be sure."

Hundreds of extra police were on duty to prevent a recurrence of the riots that developed in Madison Square Garden the last three times Puerto Rican fighters were involved. There wasn't a hint of trouble.

Laguna, taller and faster, had only praise for Ortiz as "a great champion. He won it clearly and cleanly. I have no excuses."

Time and again Laguna swarmed in with a flashy, two-handed attack. Time and again the stolid Ortiz punished him, rocking him in the second, fourth, eighth, 10th and 11th rounds with right hands.

"He tries to suck you in," Ortiz said. "He feints in, then steps back. I've fought him before. I know him. I just wait until he starts back, then go with the right. He's a sucker for it.

"I'm 30 years old and have been fighting for 13 years. For six I have been champion. A boy like that isn't supposed to beat me."

There were no knockdowns. Ortiz suffered nicks at the corner of both eyes, but they didn't bother him. Each fighter weighed 135 pounds.

Midland Club Names Fund Committee

A fund-raising committee was named when the Midland Sideline Coaches Club held its initial meeting of the 1967-68 year Tuesday night at the Lions Club pavilion.

Named to initiate projects for fund-raising for athletics at Lincoln High School were Angelo Migliore, Frank D'Eramo, Athletic Director Vic Marinetti and Lou DiCicclo.

D'Eramo, president of the club, ran the meeting. Guests attending included School Superintendent Wilbur P. Dershimer and the coaching staff: Joe Hamilton, Rey Peduzzi and Tom Hanson, and Martinetti.

Hamilton, head football coach, discussed the football picture for the coming season, and said he feels he's in trouble because he only has two lettermen returning, but feels the picture will improve.

Angelo Migliore was general chairman of the event. Refreshments were served.

The club announced that a membership drive is now underway.

At the next meeting, Sept. 5, Hamilton will go over pre-game plans and will give scouting reports. Refreshments will be served.

100 Local Boys May See Pitt-UCLA Fray

Henry J. Kuzma, principal of Lincoln Junior - Senior High School, has announced that he has arranged for a football trip for 100 Midland boys to see the Pitt-UCLA game at the University of Pittsburgh on Sept. 23. Any boy in grade one through 12 is eligible to attend, he said. The tickets will be sold on a first come, first served basis. Kuzma said he is basically interested in seeing that boys in grades one through nine have an opportunity to witness a big game; however, those in grades ten through 12 may attend, also.

The cost of the trip will be $2.00, $1.00 for admission, and $1.00 for bus transportation. Chartered buses will leave at 10 a.m. Sept. 23 from the new gym and will return home immediately after the game.

Any boy who is interested in attending is asked to stop at the high school office on Monday at 9 a.m. to make reservations with Miss Margaret Gentile, office clerk. Tickets will be available to students from public or parochial schools.

Kuzma said chaperones are needed for the trip. Those who wish to fill this capacity may call the high school and leave their names.

Kathy Whithworth Aims For Year's 6th Golf Title

PEKIN, Ill. (AP) — A sixth tournament crown of the year is the goal of Kathy Whitworth as she heads a strong force of lady golf pros into the first round of the $10,000 Women's Western Open today.

The title is up for grabs since Mickey Wright, the defending champion, has decided to skip the event. But other top money winners are on tap for this oldest of all opens for women. Miss Whitworth is No. 1 on the cash list with $19,567.

She is followed by Carol Mann with $17,712; Susie Maxwell, $16,210, and Sandra Haynie, $14,-

Miss Mann has three 923.

triumphs this season and Miss Maxwell two. Miss Haynie, a four-time winner last year, has yet to take a top prize in 1967. She has finished second three times.

There are four holders of 11 Western Open Championships in the field. Patty Berg has seven of them, Betsy Rawls two and Miss Mann and Miss Maxwell one each.

The 38th tournament will end Sunday after 72 holes of medal play. It is over the Pekin Country Club course that rambles 6,-605 yards with a 37-38—75 par.

Cheerleader Tryouts Scheduled In Chester

All girls aged 9-13 interested in trying out as cheerleaders for the Chester "Mice" of the football little league are asked to meet at the Chester City Park at 10 a.m. Friday.

Miss Sarah Thomas from Oak Glen High School will be in charge of the group.

Extra Day Okayed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Randall Park in Cleveland received approval Wednesday from the Ohio State Racing Commission to schedule one extra race a day during Labor Day week, in exchange for a reduced schedule on three other days.

Paul and Lloyd Waner combined for 460 hits for the Pirates in 1927.

Lead In IL Taken Over By Richmond

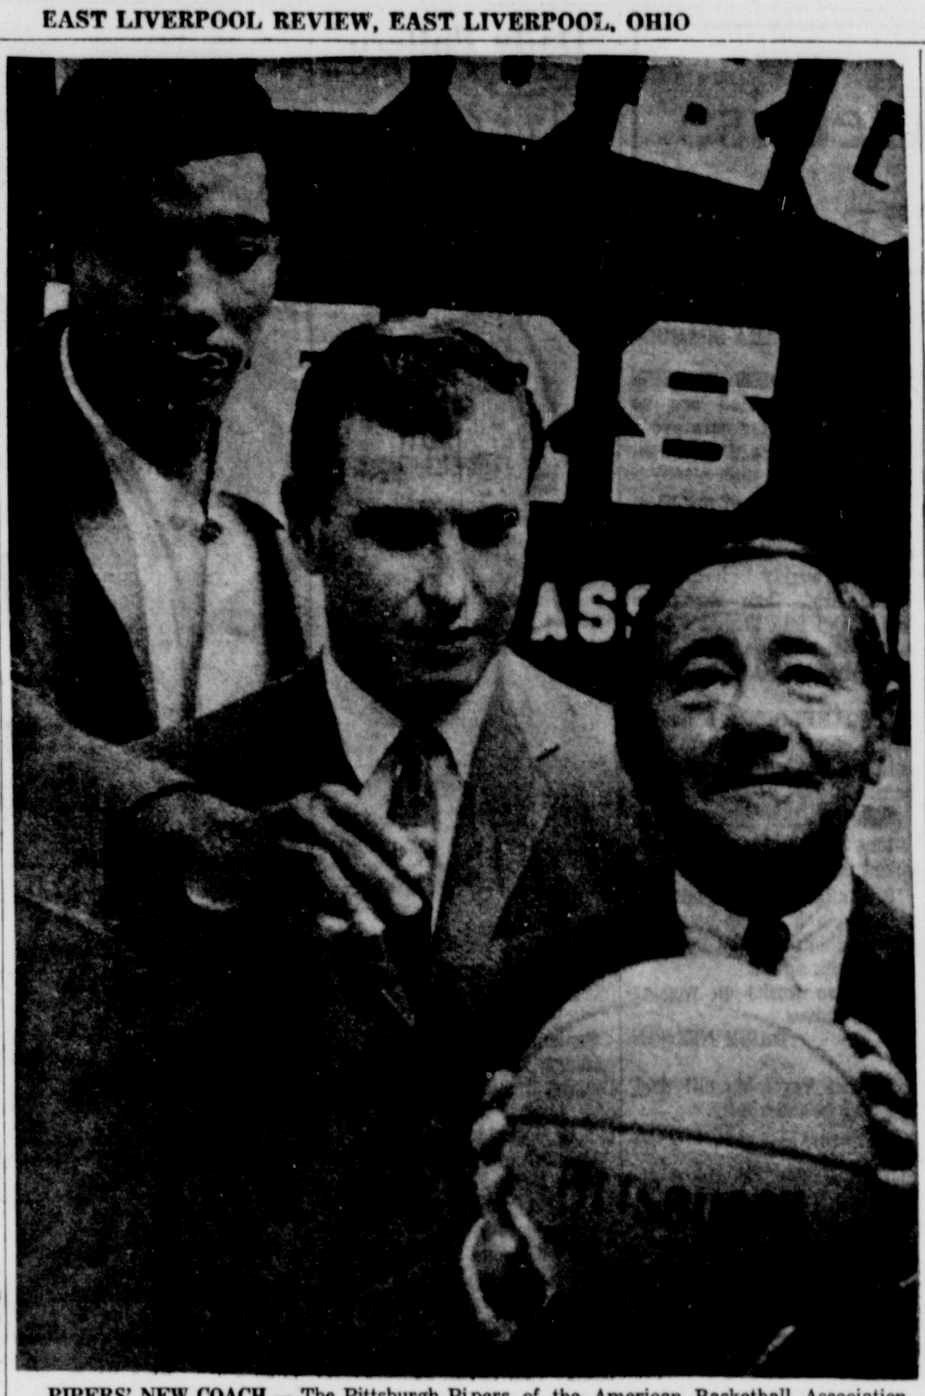
The Rochester Red Wings have fallen from first place in the International League race for the first time in more than three months.

They were supplanted Wednesday night by the Richmond Braves.

Richmond, a 3-2 victor over the Jacksonville Suns, got a big assist from Syracuse. The Chiefs turned back the Red Wings twice, 2-1 and 8-7, the second game going 10 innings.

Other Wednesday night action saw the Buffalo Bisons trounce the Toronto Maple Leafs 6-1 and the Toledo Mud Hens edge Columbus 4-3.

Relief pitchers Ron Chandler and Jack DiLauro choked off a Columbus rally in the ninth inning to save the Toledo victory. Columbus starter Jim Shellenback's error set up a three-run first inning for the Mud Hens.



PIPERS' NEW COACH — The Pittsburgh Pipers of the American Basketball Association yesterday announced the signing of Vincent C. Cazetta (center) to be the coach of the new team. Former Pittsburgh Rens star Connie Hawkins reaches for ball held by Gabe Rubin, general manager of the team.

Derby Field At Eight, Miracle Hill Entered

The seventh running of the West Virginia Derby will go Friday night at Waterford Park with eight speedy three - year - olds vying for first place honors and the major portion of the $7,-500 purse which goes with them.

This blue-ribbon field is the best to answer the call in the Derby since its inception. It has stakes winners from Canada, the Detroit area, Kentucky, and Ohio and the local area.

The stakes winners from Canada are More of Mort and Mr. Sin. More Of Mort recently won the Quebec Derby at Montreal, one of the features of Expo '67. Mr. Sin finished second to Air Boat in the Prep last week.

A stakes winner coming from Randall Park in Cleveland is Fred Nick Jr. This Colorado-bred colt went off the favorite in the prep but met with trouble most of the way. At the finish he had come from last place at the head of the stretch to end up fifth, not too far back. The mile and one eighth distance of the West Virginia Derby could be to Fred Nick Jr.'s advantage.

Pat Santo, trainer of the Canadian - owned entry of More Of Mort and Mr. Sin, will be seeking his fifth triumph in the event.

Bjorn Ferm Wins U.S. Pentathlon

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (AP) — Although pleased over winning the United States modern Pentathlon, Sweden's Bjorn Ferm headed home today expressing disappointment over his performance in the steeplechase riding.

"I might have done much better in the riding," he said, Wednesday, "the riding, it did not go too well." Ferm, who took the lead by winning the opening event, the fencing, last Saturday finished 12th in the 1,200-meter steeplechase. It boosted his total points 5,058, 232 ahead of Bill Matheson, formerly Los Angeles State College runner and now an Army captain. Matheson finished second in the Wednesday's riding and recorded a total 4,826 points.

Rams Pointing For NFL Title

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

FULLERTON, Calif. (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams are bubbling with confidence. After breaking out of the cellar to finish third with an 8-6 record in 1966, George Allen's charges think they can go all the way this season.

"Our problem a year ago was to make these people believe in themselves after being down so long," said Coach Allen at the Rams' new training camp on the campus of California State at Fullerton. "Now they have confidence that they can beat anybody, any time and any place.

"In the draft and during the trading season we have tried to help our offense. We think our defense is solid. Only Green Bay gave up fewer points."

Allen, who stirred up a wild controversy a year ago when he left the Chicago Bears to become a head coach, is not a great believer in rookies. It is probable that only two new men —running back Willie Ellison of Texas Southern and defensive tackle Diron Talbert, 6 foot 5, 238, of Texas will survive the final cut.

"The only year we're concerned about is 1967," said Allen. "Our objective is to win right now. If a rookie can help my club I'll keep him but not just because he is a rookie."

The Rams' big move of the off season was the trade that brought halfback Tommy Mason and tight end Hal Bedsole to Los Angeles from Minnesota for tight end Marlin McKeever.

Bedsole has been placed on the injured list because of a knee injury. Mason works out with heavily taped knees waiting his first real test in the late exhibition season.

"I am going to treat Mason just like I treated Dick Bass last year," said Allen. "Bass had a history of injuries so we decided to keep him out of most of the preseason games. It worked. Dick played 14 regular season games and gained 1,090 yards.

"Tommy has the same history of injuries. He'll play either the last or next to last preseason game and we expect him to be ready for the opener at New Orleans, Sept. 17. We knew all about his bad knees when we made the deal. You have to risk something to get something."

The Rams ranked near the middle in offense last year but their strong defense and the ability of Bruce Gossett to make 28 of 49 field goal attempts did the job.

The addition of Bernie Casey, the 6-4 flanker from the San Francisco 49ers by way of the Atlanta Falcons, gives the Rams a long ball threat. Casey, Bucky Pope who is 6-5 and Jack Snow, 6-2, are high pocket catchers for Roman Gabriel's passes.

Tommy McDonald may be hard pressed to make the club if Pope continues his fine recovery after missing most of two years due to knee surgery.

Allen plans to use Mason as a "spot" player with either Ellison or Les Josephson giving him rest. Mason underwent operations on both knees Feb. 28.

The veteran offensive line will be back intact with Ken Iman at center. Tom Mack, Joe Scibelli and Don Chuy will split the work at guards and Charlie Cowan, Joe Corallo and Bob Nichols at tackle.

The Rams are set at linebacker, despite the retirement of Bill George. Jack Pardee, Myron Pottios and Maxie Baughan are the regulars. Clancy Williams and Irv Cross will be at the corners, Chuck Lamson at strong safety and Eddie Meador at free safety.

There have been rumors that Bill Munson, dissatisfied about sitting on the bench behind Gabriel, may play out his option. Gabriel, incidentaly dropped his suit against the Rams over that contract signing fluff with Oakland a year ago.

Competing in the new Coastal Division of the Western Conference with San Francisco, Baltimore and Atlanta, the Rams are taking dead aim on the title.

3 Upsets In Essex Net Play

MANCHESTER, Mass. (AP) —Three seeded players were on the sidelines today as the Essex County Club Women's Tennis Tournament entered its third day.

Eliminated in second-round play Wednesday were third-seeded Lesley Turner of Australia, fifth-seeded Mary Ann Eisel of St. Louis and sixth-seeded Kathy Harter of Seal Beach, Calif.

In action marked by upsets, top-seeded Maria Bueno of Brazil advanced to the quarter-finals in defense of her championship by defeating Tory Fretz of Los Angeles 6-2, 6-2.

Miss Turner was forced to default to Mrs. Joyce Williams, a British Wightman Cup player, with their match even 1-1 in sets. The Aussie lass was forced to quit because of a blister on her racquet hand.

Karen Krantzcke, a 6-foot-2 Australian, outlasted Miss Eisel 6-3, 7-9, 6-4 in a gruelling two-hour match, while Scotland's Winnie Shaw, a member of the British Wightman Cup team, whipped Miss Harter 6-3, 6-4.

BIRD WATCHERS! Look out for the red-eyed veerer. Hard to tell if he is drunk or tired. Usually spotted late in the day, meanders from lane to lane. May be traveling too fast, or barely creeping along. A nodding head is a good tip off. Pass this bird with care!

HEAD PROTECTOR OR HEAD REST? Small, round head rests on many cars do little to protect you from whiplash injury. Safety experts say a head PROTECTOR must withstand a force of 200 pounds pressure.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR FOLKS: I can't write this hint fast enough!

This idea was born out because I couldn't find a paint brush.

This porch hadn't been painted in five years and the paint was off practically down to the wood. 'Twas really in bad shape.

I happened to have one of those cheap synthetic sponges, so I just put on my rubber gloves, dipped the sponge halfway into the well-stirred paint and started smearing. And SMEAR I did. . .

Wowie! I could paint four times as fast. The paint-soaked sponge literally filled up all the nail holes and cracks, flowing into places where it was needed the most. (I found a brush didn't do this. It applies the paint TOO evenly.) And by coming back across the boards lightly as if I were using a brush, I didn't even make a brush stroke! The sponge doesn't leave a streak!

I don't advocate doing this while the sun is shining on your porch because the lumber is hot and will dry the paint too fast.

And when it comes to painting under those steps and the sideboards, heavens to Betsy, you can do it in nothing flat with that good old sponge. I painted the whole porch in one-fourth the time it ordinarily would have taken me with a paint brush, and I feel I even did a better job too.

If the paint is peeling on your porch or steps, be sure to use a wire brush and scrub it first before starting your paint job.

Or if in too bad a condition, you can remove some of that peeling paint with ammonia water. Know that? I did. Just use it half and halfand scrub down those steps or porch with your broom, then rinse with the garden hose.

Be certain to let it dry THOROUGHLY because you can't paint over wet wood.

So gals, (and let's hope husbands pay attention), give it a try. You won't even have a brush to clean. Isn't that tricky? You can just throw that inexpensive old sponge away.

And be sure to have an extra minutes in the boiling water, handy that fit your husband. Who knows, he may decide to help you!

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: HELP! I have just referred to your wonderful book of housekeeping hints concerning the removal of chewing gum. It says to freeze the article!

I simply cannot get my Victorian sofa into my freezer. . .

BARBARA SIMMONS.

DEAR HELOISE: The little corn holders which are so useful when eating corn are a bit of a nusiance when washing dishes.

I stick the ends of my holders through the wires of a small, coarse strainer. Swish them thoroughly in hot, sudsy water first, then the rinse water and into the dish rack — all done at one time.

MRS. E. O. SHANNON.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a couple of wash-and-wear skirts with wooden barrel buttons on them.

Now after being washed, I simply dab a bit of petroleum jelly on them and the new look comes back again.

This also works on wooden-handled knives.

DAISY NELSON.

So does vegetable oil! And it soaks in beautifully.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: At canning time, my French fryer basket becomes indispensible.

When canning tomatoes, I keep a pot of boiling water on the stove. After filling the fryer basket two-thirds full of tominutes in the bokling water, then lift them out and peel them. No burned fingers. Peaches can be slipped the same way.

Lisbon Rotary Views Film, Sets Fair Plans

LISBON — A Firestone Bank film, "How to Manage Your Money," was shown at the Rotary Club's dinner meeting Tuesday in the Daughters of America Hall. William Haifley was program chairman.

Wilbur Whan, president, said members will dine at 6:15 p.m. next Tuesday at the Wick Hotel, then go to the Fairgrounds to prepare for two projects. The club will operate a doughnut stand and sponsor helicopter rides from a landing strip behind the Floral Hall.

For a steak topping, mix cream cheese and blue cheese until smooth. When the steak comes out of the broiler or from over the coals), add dollops of the cheese mixture. They'll get creamy soft and taste delectable.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR FOLKS: I can't write this hint fast enough!

This idea was born out because I couldn't find a paint brush.

This porch hadn't been painted in five years and the paint was off practically down to the wood. 'Twas really in bad shape.

I happened to have one of those cheap synthetic sponges, so I just put on my rubber gloves, dipped the sponge halfway into the well-stirred paint and started smearing. And SMEAR I did. . .

Wowie! I could paint four times as fast. The paint-soaked sponge literally filled up all the nail holes and cracks, flowing into places where it was needed the most. (I found a brush didn't do this. It applies the paint TOO evenly.) And by coming back across the boards lightly as if I were using a brush, I didn't even make a brush stroke! The sponge doesn't leave a streak!

I don't advocate doing this while the sun is shining on your porch because the lumber is hot and will dry the paint too fast.

And when it comes to painting under those steps and the sideboards, heavens to Betsy, you can do it in nothing flat with that good old sponge. I painted the whole porch in one-fourth the time it ordinarily would have taken me with a paint brush, and I feel I even did a better job too.

If the paint is peeling on your porch or steps, be sure to use a wire brush and scrub it first before starting your paint job.

Or if in too bad a condition, you can remove some of that peeling paint with ammonia water. Know that? I did. Just use it half and halfand scrub down those steps or porch with your broom, then rinse with the garden hose.

Be certain to let it dry THOROUGHLY because you can't paint over wet wood.

So gals, (and let's hope husbands pay attention), give it a try. You won't even have a brush to clean. Isn't that tricky? You can just throw that inexpensive old sponge away.

And be sure to have an extra minutes in the boiling water, handy that fit your husband. Who knows, he may decide to help you!

HELOISE.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: HELP! I have just referred to your wonderful book of housekeeping hints concerning the removal of chewing gum. It says to freeze the article!

I simply cannot get my Victorian sofa into my freezer. . .

BARBARA SIMMONS.

DEAR HELOISE: The little corn holders which are so useful when eating corn are a bit of a nusiance when washing dishes.

I stick the ends of my holders through the wires of a small, coarse strainer. Swish them thoroughly in hot, sudsy water first, then the rinse water and into the dish rack — all done at one time.

MRS. E. O. SHANNON.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a couple of wash-and-wear skirts with wooden barrel buttons on them.

Each time they're washed the buttons lose their luster and looked dried out.

Now after being washed, I simply dab a bit of petroleum jelly on them and the new look comes back again.

DAISY NELSON.

So does vegetable oil! And it soaks in beautifully.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: At canning time, my French fryer basket becomes indispensible.

When canning tomatoes, I keep a pot of boiling water on the stove. After filling the fryer basket two-thirds full of tominutes in the bokling water, then lift them out and peel them. No burned fingers. Peaches can be slipped the same way.

BETTY M.

Lisbon Rotary Views Film, Sets Fair Plans

LISBON — A Firestone Bank film, "How to Manage Your Money," was shown at the Rotary Club's dinner meeting Tuesday in the Daughters of America Hall. William Haifley was program chairman.

Wilbur Whan, president, said members will dine at 6:15 p.m. next Tuesday at the Wick Hotel, then go to the Fairgrounds to prepare for two projects. The club will operate a doughnut stand and sponsor helicopter rides from a landing strip behind the Floral Hall.

For a steak topping, mix cream cheese and blue cheese until smooth. When the steak comes out of the broiler or from over the coals), add dollops of the cheese mixture. They'll get creamy soft and taste delectable.

South Side Area News

GEORGETOWN — Officers will be elected duing the 45th annual reunion of the Swearingen - Strouss families Saturday in the social room of the Mill Creek Presbyterian Church on Route 168 near Hookstown.

John Craig of East Liverpool, president, said a basket lunch will be brought by the families. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Matchett Jr. of Midway, Pa., are hosts, assisted by Mrs. Claire McElhaney of Imperial. Mrs. James Shaw of Chester is in charge of refreshments. She will be assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Hayward of Shippingport and Mrs. O. C. Temple of Beaver Falls.

Mrs. William Landers of Georgetown RD 1 is in charge of games.

Others elected were Mrs. Scott Reckner of Hookstown, vice president, and Mrs. Cora Mae Rhodes of Aliquippa, secretary-treasurer.

Of the 80 present, Scott Laughlin, 5½ months, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Laughlin of Georgetown RD 1, was the youngest; Ray Allison of East Liverpool the oldest; Mrs. Olive Price of Uniontown, Pa., traveled the farthest, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Potts of Hookstown and Mr. and Mrs. William Laughlin of Georgetown RD 1, each with four children, shared honors for the largest family present.

Games were won by Joseph Campbell of Frankfort Springs, Daniel Moore of Hookstown and Billy Laughlin and Terry Jo Laughlin of Georgetown RD 1.

Teacher Returns From Viet And European Tour

Miss Linda Sue Carpenter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warden Carpenter of 318 Alley A, Chester, has returned home from Saigon, Vietnam.

She was a teacher at the American Vietnamese International School.

She also made an extensive tour of Europe and Thailand.

Miss Carole Tuttle, daughter of Mrs. Ray Tuttle of 117 Church St., Chester, and Miss Sue Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester W. Smith of 948 Ambrose Ave., East Liverpool, accompanied Miss Carpenter to a dude ranch at Rothbury, Mich.

Miss Tuttle and Miss Carpenter will drive to Mascoutah, Ill., Aug. 28, to visit SSG David W. Carpenter and his wife.

Miss Carpenter is enrolled at Abilene (Tex.) Christian College and Miss Tuttle will be employed at Presbyterian Hospital in Alubuquerque, N.M.

Classes Are To Resume Sept. 5

Western Beaver Slates Opening

Classes in Western Beaver County Schools, will resume for the 1967-68 term Sept. 5.

Two additions are under construction in the district. One is a $650,000 addition at the Fairview Elementary School and the other is $1,299,820 addition to the Western Beaver High School. The addition to the Fairview Elementary School includes administrative offices, library, music room, kindergarten room, health suite, seven classrooms and an addition to the kitchen area. This project is 65 per cent complete.

The high school project will add an auditorium and a classroom wing including a planetarium, earth-space science room, weather station, greenhouse, physics room, music room, a double classroom for large group instruction and an addition to the present library. The completion of this project will relieve the overcrowded conditions in the existing structure and will permit further additions to the present curriculum.

The Junior - Senior High School enrollment for the school year 1967-68 is approximately 825.

New staff members include an assistant principal, guidance counselor to serve Junior High and elementary grades, an English teacher, math teacher, part-time audio - visual director, distributive education coordinator, and a full time clerk. A major addition to the curriculum will be initiated this year when a Distributive Education program will be offered to Junior and Senior High School students on an elective basis.

Students will be given the opportunity to work in retail sales while receiving formal instruction in the classroom. Merchants from the Midland and Beaver areas will cooperate in the program.

It is essentially a high school program, although it does include post high school and part-time adult involvement, with the main objective of preparing students for gainful employment in distributive occupations by providing them with workable and salable skills. Distributive Education seeks to prepare workers for the distributive occupations which include retailing, wholesaling, storage, transportation, financing, risk bearing and other service industries.

During the senior year, boys and girls work at local businesses in a variety of occupations to apply classroom theory to an actual on-the-job situation.

During the coming school year, the Junior - Senior high school staff will be involved in a year - long self - evaluation, which will lead to eventual accreditation by the Commission on Secondary Schools, Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. A committee of teachers and administrators appointed by the Commission will visit the school for the purpose of determing how well the Commission's standards have been or are being met in the areas of school philosophy, our educational program, consisting of program of studies, student activity program, and guidance service, the library, school staff, school plant, administration, school and community relations.

All home football games will be played at the Midland High School field in Midland.

The late bell will ring at 8:20 A.M. and dismissal is at 3:30

Hours for elementary students in grades 1 through 5 are 9:00 A.M. until 3:00 P.M. All sixth grade students will attend the Ray W. Snyder School and will ride the high school buses. Their hours will be from 8:30 A.M. to to 3:30 P.M. There will be one session of kindergarten at the Ray W. Snyder School; morning session from 9:00 A.M. to 11:30 A.M. and afternoon session from 12:30 P.M. until 3:00 P.M. Parents who have children who will be attending kindergarten will be notified by letter in regard to their children's assignments.

There will be cafeteria service at the Ray W. Snyder and Logan Schools. Price for lunches is 40 cents per day. Milk may be purchased at the rate of 5 cents per day. Due to the remodeling of the kitchen at the Fairview School, there will be no cafeteria service there for several weeks. Students attending classes there will have to carry their own lunches. Milk will be available at 5 cents per day. Elementary enrollment will be approximately 1,050 students. Elementary bus schedules will be approximately the same as last year.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENT

Sealed Proposals will be received by the Board of County Commissioners of Columbiana County at the Office of the Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners, Court House, Lisbon, Columbiana County, Ohio until 12:00 Noon, E.S.T. on the 7th day of September, 1967, and opened immediately thereafter for furnishing the material and performing the labor for the execution and construction of the Robert Bycroft School for the Retarded. Separate Proposals will be received for:

1. General Contract
2. Well Contract
3. Electrical Contract
4. Heating and Ventilating Contract
5. Plumbing Contract
6. Homemaking Contract

in accordance with the Plans and Specifications prepared by Robert F. Beatty, Architect, 403 Potters Savings and Loan Building, East Liverpool, Ohio and on file in the Office of the Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners of Columbiana County, Court House, Lisbon, Columbiana County, Ohio.

One set of plans and specifications and proposal blanks, together with any further information desired, may be secured from the Office of the Architect upon deposit of a check in the amount of $50.00 made payable to the Architect. If an additional set of plans and specifications is requested by the Bidder, then said Bidder will be charged the actual reproduction costs of the additional set.

Upon receipt of a request, accompanied by a deposit as named above, the Architect will forward copies of bidding documents as named in the preceeding paragraph "Shipping Charges Collect".

Deposit will be refunded upon the return of plans and specifications in good condition, and with postage or express charges prepaid, within ten (10) days after date the bids are opened. Deposit will not be refunded upon return of documents at a later date.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a Bid Bond in an amount equal to the total sum of the Proposal including all Add Alternates, supported by a Power of Attorney for the bonding agent, a Certificate from the Department of Insurance authorizing the Surety Company to do Surety Business in the State of Ohio, and a current financial statement of the Surety Company. The Bid Bond shall be forthwith returned to the Bidder in case the contract is awarded to another Bidder. A Proposal shall be invalid and not considered unless a Bond with sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the total sum of the Proposal including all Add Alternates, is filed with such Proposal, nor unless such Proposal and Bond are filed in one sealed envelope.

Bids are to be sealed and addressed to the "Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners of Columbiana County, Columbiana County Court House, Lisbon, Ohio", and plainly marked on the outside of the envelope.

"Bids for Contracts for the Robert Bycroft School for the Retarded".

The Board of County Commissioners of Columbiana County reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

By Order of The Board of County Commissioners of Columbiana County

Edna M. Ray, Clerk

Classes Are To Resume Sept. 5

Western Beaver Slates Opening

Classes in Western Beaver County Schools, will resume for the 1967-68 term Sept. 5.

Two additions are under construction in the district. One is a $650,000 addition at the Fairview Elementary School and the other is $1,299,820 addition to the Western Beaver High School. The addition to the Fairview Elementary School includes administrative offices, library, music room, kindergarten room, health suite, seven classrooms and an addition to the kitchen area. This project is 65 per cent complete.

The high school project will add an auditorium and a classroom wing including a planetarium, earth-space science room, weather station, greenhouse, physics room, music room, a double classroom for large group instruction and an addition to the present library. The completion of this project will relieve the overcrowded conditions in the existing structure and will permit further additions to the present curriculum.

The Junior - Senior High School enrollment for the school year 1967-68 is approximately 825.

New staff members include an assistant principal, guidance counselor to serve Junior High and elementary grades, an English teacher, math teacher, part-time audio - visual director, distributive education coordinator, and a full time clerk. A major addition to the curriculum will be initiated this year when a Distributive Education program will be offered to Junior and Senior High School students on an elective basis.

Students will be given the opportunity to work in retail sales while receiving formal instruction in the classroom. Merchants from the Midland and Beaver areas will cooperate in the program.

It is essentially a high school program, although it does include post high school and part-time adult involvement, with the main objective of preparing students for gainful employment in distributive occupations by providing them with workable and salable skills. Distributive Education seeks to prepare workers for the distributive occupations which include retailing, wholesaling, storage, transportation, financing, risk bearing and other service industries.

During the senior year, boys and girls work at local businesses in a variety of occupations to apply classroom theory to an actual on-the-job situation.

During the coming school year, the Junior - Senior high school staff will be involved in a year - long self - evaluation, which will lead to eventual accreditation by the Commission on Secondary Schools, Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. A committee of teachers and administrators appointed by the Commission will visit the school for the purpose of determing how well the Commission's standards have been or are being met in the areas of school philosophy, our educational program, consisting of program of studies, student activity program, and guidance service, the library, school staff, school plant, administration, school and community relations.

The entire high school building has been cleaned, painted, and prepared for the opening of school.

All home football games will be played at the Midland High School field in Midland.

New students moving into the Western Beaver area are to register at the school prior to the opening.

The late bell will ring at 8:20 A.M. and dismissal is at 3:30

Hours for elementary students in grades 1 through 5 are 9:00 A.M. until 3:00 P.M. All sixth grade students will attend the Ray W. Snyder School and will ride the high school buses. Their hours will be from 8:30 A.M. to to 3:30 P.M. There will be one session of kindergarten at the Ray W. Snyder School; morning session from 9:00 A.M. to 11:30 A.M. and afternoon session from 12:30 P.M. until 3:00 P.M. Parents who have children who will be attending kindergarten will be notified by letter in regard to their children's assignments.

There will be cafeteria service at the Ray W. Snyder and Logan Schools. Price for lunches is 40 cents per day. Milk may be purchased at the rate of 5 cents per day. Due to the remodeling of the kitchen at the Fairview School, there will be no cafeteria service there for several weeks. Students attending classes there will have to carry their own lunches. Milk will be available at 5 cents per day. Elementary enrollment will be approximately 1,050 students. Elementary bus schedules will be approximately the same as last year.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENT

Sealed Proposals will be received by the Board of County Commissioners of Columbiana County at the Office of the Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners, Court House, Lisbon, Columbiana County, Ohio until 12:00 Noon, E.S.T. on the 7th day of September, 1967, and opened immediately thereafter for furnishing the material and performing the labor for the execution and construction of the Robert Bycroft School for the Retarded. Separate Proposals will be received for:

1. General Contract
2. Well Contract
3. Electrical Contract
4. Heating and Ventilating Contract
5. Plumbing Contract
6. Homemaking Contract

in accordance with the Plans and Specifications prepared by Robert F. Beatty, Architect, 403 Potters Savings and Loan Building, East Liverpool, Ohio and on file in the Office of the Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners of Columbiana County, Court House, Lisbon, Columbiana County, Ohio.

One set of plans and specifications and proposal blanks, together with any further information desired, may be secured from the Office of the Architect upon deposit of a check in the amount of $50.00 made payable to the Architect. If an additional set of plans and specifications is requested by the Bidder, then said Bidder will be charged the actual reproduction costs of the additional set.

Upon receipt of a request, accompanied by a deposit as named above, the Architect will forward copies of bidding documents as named in the preceeding paragraph "Shipping Charges Collect".

Deposit will be refunded upon the return of plans and specifications in good condition, and with postage or express charges prepaid, within ten (10) days after date the bids are opened. Deposit will not be refunded upon return of documents at a later date.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a Bid Bond in an amount equal to the total sum of the Proposal including all Add Alternates, supported by a Power of Attorney for the bonding agent, a Certificate from the Department of Insurance authorizing the Surety Company to do Surety Business in the State of Ohio, and a current financial statement of the Surety Company. The Bid Bond shall be forthwith returned to the Bidder in case the contract is awarded to another Bidder. A Proposal shall be invalid and not considered unless a Bond with sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the total sum of the Proposal including all Add Alternates, is filed with such Proposal, nor unless such Proposal and Bond are filed in one sealed envelope.

Bids are to be sealed and addressed to the "Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners of Columbiana County, Columbiana County Court House, Lisbon, Ohio", and plainly marked on the outside of the envelope.

The Board of County Commissioners of Columbiana County reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Junior Editors Quiz on MORGAN HORSE

QUESTION: How did the Morgan breed of horse originate?

ANSWER: The Morgan is a special, remarkable breed of horse. It is descended from one particular horse, a stallion that not only had unusual qualities but the ability to pass these to his descendants, so they have become the qualities of an entire breed. This horse, shown in the picture by a statue presented by the Morgan Horse Club to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, was named Justin Morgan after his owner Justin Morgan, who obtained him as a colt. The colt, born in 1793, was first used by Morgan as a saddle horse. He is thought to have had Thoroughbred and Arabian ancestors as well as other blood strains. Small, fast, with an exceptionally gentle disposition, this horse was extremly strong, and able to pull heavier loads than any other horse of his size. He lived to be 29 and had a number of owners. Recognized as a remarkable animal, he was bred many times. His colts proved to have the same wonderful combination of strength and gentleness. Soon the Morgan horse became popular all over America.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I had a bridge game last night and invited a substitute. The woman hadn't been in my home 20 minutes when she received a phone call.

It seems her poodle was upset when she left the house and her husband couldn't quiet her. We heard him say, "Madame Lazonga is having a nervous breakdown. Please speak to her for a few minutes."

The woman talked to that dog for 12 minutes. I could feel my blood pressure mounting. After she hung up she said, "Madame Lazonga is just like a child. You girls who have children know what it's like when a youngster won't go to sleep."

I resented the interruption, but I resented the comparison even more. Will you comment, please?—STILL STEAMING.

Dear Still: Well, here we go again. Every time I say pets are pets and should not be confused with people, about 20,000 animal lovers accuse me of being a mean old woman, a Communist and mentally ill. I'll simply say there is a line to be drawn and rational people know where to draw it.

Little Pebbles

Dear Ann: Recently you printed a letter from a wife who was mad because her husband wouldn't roll up the tube of toothpaste.

Then a nitwit wrote that she was ready to leave her husband because he kept saying "without" instead of "unless."

The trouble with these lunatics is they never have had any real trouble in their lives. Why do peoples write about such trifles, anyway? And why do you print such nonsense? — OTTAWA MALE.

Dear Ot: Letters like the ones you describe serve a useful purpose because they help out the two-bit, penny ante gripes in proper perspective. Now what is YOUR problem, Mister?

They're Dedicated

Dear Ann: I'm a 13-year-old girl who lives in Wisconsin. Isn't it dumb for Mother's Day to fall on the first day of the fishing season?

Every Mother's Day as far back as I can remember, my mother has sat home while her corsage wilted in the refrigerator, and Dad went fishing. Is there a solution to this annual problem? — EAU CLAIRE READER.

Dear Eau Claire: From what I know about Wisconsin fishermen, it would be easier to change Mother's Day than to get them to stay home. Celebrate Mother's Day one day early — on Saturday — and tell your Dad that's HIS Father's Day present.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.
